Jottings.

About 6 p m., Thursday evening, Mr. Israel Churchill received a telegram announcing that his son, Joshua T. Churchill, had been accidentally shot dead, somewhere near Newburg Junction. The particulars of the sad event, which has cast a gloom over the entire community, so far as we can gather, are these: The deceased, in company with Robt. Kearney, was out shooting partridges. Churchill was carrying his gun, muzzle forward, over his shoulder, when his toe tripped and he fell forward, the shock turning his gun end for end, bringing the muzzle against his stomach when it was discharged, the full charge entering his body. He only lived fifteen minutes after the accident. His sorrowing family and friends have the sympathy of the community,

Miss Alice Boyer, and Miss Wolverton, were thrown from a carriage, below the Burial Ground, on Thursday evening, and very seriously injured. Dr. Sprague is in attendance.

A social dance will be held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening next, 25th inst., under the management of Messrs. J. K. Augherton, J. McKenzie, Thos. Lynch and Edward Shaughnessy. Music by Wyatt's orchestra, of Calais.

Rev. Robert Naish, of Harvey, will preach morning and evening, in the Kirk, Sabbath next.

Mr. Colin Campbell has retired from the Queen Hotel, and is now running the Eating House at Newburgh Junction.

H. Matheson, Esq., has assumed control of the Queen Hotel here, and, judging from his well known close application to business, and geniality of disposition, we may safely predict that the high character of the Queen will be amply sustained.

A MAINE DOUBLE MURDER.—In and around about the quiet town of Liberty, Me., since last Sunday night there has been wild excitement over a case that is without parallel in that section—the murder of a girl by her lover and his suicide immediately afterward. The tragic affair has been briefly reported by telegraph. The names of the parties were Ella Greely and Ambrose Daggett. The Augusta Journal gives some details. The scene of the ghastly crime was on the Waldoboro road about a mile south of Liberty village. The owner of the farm is Mr. David Greely, a well-to-do farmer, about 60 years of age, who has resided there for many years, and his daughter Ella was 17 years of age. One of his men was Ambrose Daggett, about 22 years of age. Daggett had been employed by the farmer for about four years on the farm and in a cooper's shop, making lime casks. He fell in love with her, she giving him more or less encouragement. Last winter he accompanied her to a dancing school in the neighborhood. It appears that at times the young lady had rode out and accompanied other young men, which had invariably exasperated Daggett, and he had oftimes threatened Ella's life. On the afternoon of the murder a young man of her acquaintance appeared at Mr. Greely's with a team, and, taking Ella, went out to ride in the direction of Liberty village. Daggett immediately followed them, going as far as the village. Here he stopped and waited until the couple came back. On their return he saw them riding back, and exclaimed to a by-stander, "G—d d—n her, let her go, there are plenty more." Miss Greely arrived home about 5 o'clock. Daggett returned soon after, and entering the apartment where the young lady was, he sat down on one side of the room. Ella sat in another part of the room on a lounge. No one else was present but an old man, Mr. and Mrs. Greely being in another part of the house. Suddenly about 6 o'clock, Daggett jumped up from his seat, pulled out his revolver, and, without a word, rushed toward the young lady. Arriving at her side, he placed the muzzle of the revolver on one side of her neck, just below the ear, and fired. The bullet passed through the head of the girl and out near the opposite cheek bone. Upon this the murderer ran out of the back door and into the orchard, lifted the revolver and put a bullet through his own head. Ella lived about five minutes. Mr. Greely, hearing the report of the pistol in the orchard, went out, and found Daggett just breathing his last.

Railway affairs in New Brunswick are fairly active just at present. The Kent Northern is now practically open for traffic. The construction of the Dalhousie branch of the Intercolonial is being rapidly pushed forward. A line from Bathurst to connect with the Intercolonial is now assured and it is probable that the work on it will be begun at an early date. The survey of the Miramichi Valley Railroad is progressing, and no doubt, the conflicting interests of the advocates of the Central Railway will shortly be reconciled and a route determined on. Work on the line from Sackville to Cape Tormentine is being vigorously carried on. In addition to these, the improvements making by the New Brunswick Railway Company are rapidly placing their road in a position to compare favorably with any line on the continent.—St. Croix Courier.

ADDRETS TO THE MILITIA.—Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The Governor-General has issued the following address to the militia of the Dominion:—"His Excellency the Governor-General cannot leave Canada without expressing to the militia force of the Dominion the gratification he has experienced during his visits to the many different portions of this great country, and witnessing the efforts made and the military spirit shown in the performance of the duties to which the militia are called. He assures them that their future welfare will always be a matter of deep interest to himself and to Her Royal Highness, and he trusts that they will continue to keep up the discipline and foster that military spirit which now prevades all ranks. Although they may never be called out to defend their country, these will be the best safeguard for peace, securing both at home and abroad.

(Signed) LORNE.

LITERARY NOTICES.—Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine. The contents of the November No. presents a large variety of interesting and edifying reading, and are rich in illustrations. The opening article, by Professor V. L. Conrad, Ph. D., "Luther and His Work," is timely and full of interest. "Lutherians," "Albrecht Durer," "Sacred Musicians of the XIXth Century," "Providence in History," "The Apostle of Greenland," etc., etc., are notable articles. "Mr. Burke's Nieces," a charming serial, is continued, and there are short stories, sketches and essays by some of our most popular writers, lay and clerical. There are poems of great merit; the "Home Pulpit," with sermon by Dr. Talmage, "Footmen and Horses"; the "Collection Basket," "Historical Facts," "Obituaries," "Editorial Comments," etc., and an abundant miscellany, amusing and instructive. The price is only 25 cents a number, or $3 a year, postpaid. Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

With the October Wide Awake begins the Third Annual Reading Course of the Chautauqua Young Folks' Reading Union. A glance at the topics treated in this Course discovers its practical value, not only to the young folks, but to the entire family. "Tales of the Pathfinders," by Arthur Gilman, cover many romantic episodes of the earliest Atlantic adventure and American exploration. Professor Sargent, of the Harvard College Gymnasium, in the series entitled "In Case of Accident, purposes to instruct the members of the Union how to bind up wounds, take care of broken limbs, resuscitate the drowned, treat a poisoned, or burned, or fainting person—in short, how to take the necessary first steps when an accident happens, and no adult or trained help is at hand. In "Ways to Do Things," writers who "know how" will teach both boys and girls in the line of home comforts and out-of-door recreations; for instance, Margaret Lake, in this number, gives clear directions how to construct and how to take care of a fernery. The whole Course is remarkable for valuable instruction, entertainment and literary merit.

The magazine proper is very attractive this month, containing poems by Mrs. S. M. B. Piatt and C. P. Cranch, a Serial Story by Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, a short story by Joaquin Miller, an illustrated article about the Kindergarten at the Perkin's Institution for the Blind, a paper from Edward Everett Hale, and a three-page song by Julius Eichberg, with violin accompaniment, together with delightful sketches, the regular Serials, and scores of beautiful engravings.

Only $2.50 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Peterson's Magazine.—We have before us the November number of this well-known favorite of the ladies' monthlies. It is a splendid number, with a perfect galaxy of steel engravings, colored fashion-plates, colored patterns for the work-table, tales, poetry, etc. Undoubtedly, Peterson is not only the best, but the cheapest magazine of its kind, being but Two Dollars a year to single subscribers. To clubs it is cheaper still, with great inducements to those getting up clubs. Subscribe to no magazine until you have seen a copy of Peterson. Specimens are sent gratis, if written for, to persons who wish to get up clubs. Who is Perry Davis?
About forty years ago when PERRY DAVIS, of Providence, R. I., in the United States, first introduced to the world his now universally known Pain-Killer, he was a poor man without influence, a cripple and an invalid. He studied the effect of certain drugs upon the human system, and experimented in their uses until he had compounded a medicine capable of curing his own maladies. When restored to health he offered the preparation to his fellow sufferers, until now there is not a country on earth which does not buy it. It is eminently a

MESSRS C. GATES, SON & Co.:
This is to certify that I have been troubled for four years with a bad Cough, Costiveness, and a great deal of the time unable to work by coughing and raising. Consulted several doctors and they pronounced me in the last stages of Consumption, having pain and soreness of the Lungs. I have tried several doctors but with no success, until I fell in with a friend who advised me to try your medicine. After I had taken a few bottles of your No. 1 BITTERS and No. 2 SYRUP my cough stopped, appetite returned, bowels became regular, and now I feel quite well, and would recommend it to every person suffering, as I feel that it is by your medicine and the blessing of God that I am now alive.
