ORGAN RECITAL, In order to give the congregation and publie an opportunity of hearing the new instrument, under favorable circumstances, the choir held a public recital in the church, on Thursday evening of last week, and for this purpose secured the services of Professor Swanton, the eminent organist from St. John. On the occasion the large auditorium tract, $10. of the church was packed by a most critical and interested audience, and it is safe to say that all present were entirely satisfied with the composition and presentation of the most attractive programme. The soloists were in special good voice, and their rendering of the respective portions of the programme alotted to them elicited warmest praise from all, while the choruses were sung in such a way as to show to great advantage the power excellent choir.
