

that there should be a closer union, but they do not propose any direct union. They are very properly of opinion that the impulse for such a movement should come from the colonies themselves. Speaking for myself I may say that I believe such a closer union is desirable, and most Canadians hold similar views. The question is not one that need be hurried, and it will be all the better worked out after being well digested.

"Are not the fair traders in England talking of a customs union between England and her colonies, to the exclusion of the goods of foreign countries?"

"Yes, that is one of the features of the imperial federation scheme which some propose, but I have already said nothing is settled, nor can anything be done until the subject comes before the colonial parliaments."

"Are any negotiations for a new reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States going on at present?"

"No, nor can there be any until our country moves in the matter. After termination of the treaty of 1854, and on several occasions since, Canada has sought to obtain a new treaty, but without success. The next initiative must come from the United States. We shall be very happy to renew the treaty of 1854."

"What progress is being made in the Canadian Pacific railway?"

"The very best. It will be completed from the Atlantic to the Pacific by the end of 1885, and will be fully open for traffic in the spring of 1886. I understand that the company will have a line of steamships running to Canada from Port Moody as soon as the railway is open, and this line will probably receive a mail subsidy from the Government of Canada as well as from that of England."

"Is anything being done to extend the provisions of the extradition treaty between Great Britain and the United States?"

"Not that I am aware of. It is the general opinion in England that it should be greatly extended, and, speaking for myself, I may express my belief that such a treaty ought to cover all serious crimes."

SABBATH SCHOOL COLUMN.
Review, Sunday, Dec. 27th.

At a meeting of the Sunday school workers of St. Stephen's last Wednesday, the subject of County organization was brought up, and the Vice President of the Provincial Association, L. B. Oakes, explained the details of the matter. The Sunday school workers of the county were invited to be present and answer questions as to the practical working of S. S. conventions, which he did. After quite a free discussion of the question, the meeting unanimously resolved to proceed at once to take steps to organize the County of Charlotte. A committee was struck, to issue a call to the S. S. schools for the County, and arrange for a meeting of the workers at an early date. Superintendents Webber, Chapman, Price, and others, do not doubt the committee, and we shall doubtless soon hear from them.

Well done for Charlotte!

CHARLES BLACKIE has been elected Superintendent of Oak Mountain Sabbath school in place of the late Superintendent who resigned; the school will keep open all winter.

THE COUNTY SECRETARY wishes to say that he has mislaid the list of names of those who paid him for a copy of the International S. S. Convention. The property is at hand, and any of the above persons can have one by sending their names and address on a postal card.

MR. EDW. R. PERMIT to say that the Baptist Bible School at Jacksonville presented him with a handsome Teachers' Book, worth $5.00. I wish to say to the little schools throughout the County to "go and do likewise," and thus encourage the hearts of your superintendents.

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 24, 1884.

TEACHERS' MEETING.—The importance of, and the very beneficial results that may be derived from a well conducted teachers' meeting in connection with the Sunday school are now generally admitted by most S. S. teachers who have given the subject much attention. The interchange of ideas in connection with a subject under consideration, will generally awaken new lines of thought or quicken old ones not now acting, arousing a deeper interest in the primary, intermediate and leading them to bestow much more thought to the principal points presented. If teachers were to convene once a week, to discuss the day's lesson immediately after their return from the Sunday school and give the lesson as careful and thorough consideration as circumstances will permit, they would generally be anxious to compare notes or exchange ideas with others who have been similarly engaged. No more favorable opportunity presents for such than the weekly teachers' meeting, and if held early in the week, those who are really interested in the work will come before their classes the next Sunday with the lesson thoroughly digested and able to interest even the most negligent scholar. The principal cause of failure with teachers in so many S. S. schools is that last day they give the lesson but little if any attention during the week, and when they appear before their classes on Sunday they find it impossible to impart information to the minds of the scholars of such a teacher soon grow careless and indifferent, and for all practical good they may secure from that teaching, might as well be at home.

At this season of the year, with its long evenings, but little excuse can be given for neglect to join and maintain in connection with almost every S. S. school in the County. We hope the teachers all over the County will give this matter more serious thought than heretofore, and in their several communities endeavor to stir up a new and livelier interest in this branch of S. S. work, believing as we do that if faithfully and persistently followed up the results will be grander than that we anticipate.

The Charleston Sentinel.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1884.
SENTINEL Office, in Brick Building directly opposite Post Office, up stairs.

We must anticipate by nearly a week the close of 1884, in extending to our readers the compliments and good wishes of the New Year.

With the social pleasures and the social griefs of its patrons, the local press has somewhat intimately to do, it being, at all events, the medium of communicating to the public the happiest events in individual lives and as well the sad advancement of death's irreversible work. Remembering this and its many records during the year indicating the two extremes referred to, the SENTINEL does most feelingly and heartily extend its annual greeting, trusting that all may enjoy these holiday times, even the bereaved finding a satisfaction, if subdued, in the contemplation of the virtues of those whom they have lost as well as in brightening anticipations of a better future and a fuller appropriation of mercies still enjoyed.

Nor would the SENTINEL especially remember with kindly wishes the numerous readers scattered all over the world, with whom acquaintance was first made here, this will greet them as a message from home and will perchance intensify the feelings with which, on New Year's day, they, and self-determined wanderers, will turn in thought to the old times and former associations with doubts, in many instances, a longing regret.

THE CATHOLIC R. R. Rink last week was a decided success. The Rink itself, with the artistic taste for which Manager Rose is so noted, and daintily brilliant under its array of gaudy colored lanterns, presented a most inviting appearance. There were some eighty or ninety on rollers, and these both in the characters assumed and the appropriateness of costume, sustained well their respective roles. There were present a large number of spectators who were both interested and amused. Prof. Perry did his part as do manager well, and the strictest order was observed. We need scarcely say that Lynch's Band was no unimportant part of the ceremony. The judges were—C. D. Hill, C. J. A. Grievs and J. Lumerick, Frederick. The prizes awarded were as follows:—To the lady presenting the best original character, $5, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; second, $3, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; third, $2, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; fourth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; fifth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; sixth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; seventh, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; eighth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; ninth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith; tenth, $1, Lavinia, Miss Ella Smith;
