A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
On the Loss of MANHOOD
We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to marriage, etc, resulting from excesses.
☞ Price, in sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Address

BAY DOUGLAS,
THIS rich bred son of the imported Hambletonian Stallion, Robert R. Morris, sire of Crown Princess, trial in New York, 2.17¼; J. P. Morris, 2.20¼, made in the Grand Circuit of the United States, and as many as 20 more that can trot between 2.40 and 2.50. Dam by Vesuvius, son of imported Glencoe, combining the rich blood of Diomed, which produced Pilot Jr. and Seeley's American Star, distinguished for the greatest performers on the track. Hambeltonian never sired a 2.20 or better from any other than a Star Mare. Bay Douglas was foaled in 1873 and is a blood bay, with black points, and star, 15¾ hands, weighs 1100 lbs., his action and gait is much admired, being free and open, which he imparts to his progeny. The fast trotting mare Lucy Douglas (Gilman Mare) being his first colt and sire of the two sensational trotters, Johnny Douglas, 3 years (H. N. Grant colt) and Gov. Douglas, 2 years (Reid colt); this colt will trot in a match race to come off at Bangor State Fair, this next fall, with Philbrick's, of Houlton, and is already a great favorite.
BAY DOUGLAS will make the season of 1884 at my stable, Woodstock, at $10.00 to insure with foal, $2.00 at time of service, balance when mare proves in foal. Any one desiring to purchase a first class bred horse and a sure sire of trotters will do well to call and learn particulars.

FAILING!
That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.
The only cure remedy yet found is Davis' Quinine Iron and Wine, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood, purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.
This is why Davis' Quinine Iron and Wine will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Malaria, Intermittent Fevers, General Debility, etc.

BURTON, SEN. Co., July 17, 1883.
GEO. H. DAVIS:
Dear Sir,—I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing, and was growing weaker every day. I tried Davis Quinine, Iron and Wine, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite and am getting stronger. Yours,
JOSEPH McCAWLEY.

Davis' Quinine Iron and Wine is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is a simple preparation of Iron and Quinine that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Ask for Davis' and take no other. Price 50 cents. Prepared only by Poetry.

JULY.

The fields are covered with daisies,
The grasses are bushy and tall;
The birds from the leafy branches
To their mates in the thickets call;
The scent of the sweet Syringa
Lies heavy upon the air;
The indolent blue clouds hover,
Entranced, o'er a scene so fair.

The roses are blushing crimson,
The lilies are passionate white,
The innocent blue-eyed violets,
Have hidden themselves out of sight;
There's a blush on nature's bosom,
Kissed there by the fiery sky.
As panting she yields her treasures
To the sun-crowned King—July.
—N. Y. World.

LIFE.—Life is made up of loss and gain; and often the gain comes through the loss. Even when one attains to the possession of that which is best, achievement is saddened by the thought that it has been won by the sacrifices of many things which would have been good in themselves, but which could not have been held with the one supreme good. Each new conquest in human life is like the dawning of a new day; as the sky reddens and brightens, the stars fade out. Yet when the sun has risen high over the horizon, and has flooded the heavens with its light, who mourns for the departed glory of the stars? It ought to be also in the other sphere. As the light of life emerges into clearer shining, the minor lights are lost in the glory, not by any merely arbitrary law, but because in the new splendor they have no power of shining; and he is surely ungrateful who mourns that the former things in which he had delighted have sunk into insignificance before the greater blessings which now are lavished upon him. Let the cold beauty of the stars fade out, if we have instead the warm shining of the sun; let the silent solemnity pass by, unmourned for, since ours are the lives and movements of the sunlit day.

HOPE.—Hope! What would life be without hope? Hope and faith is the well spring of our existence; we labor, and hope, and have faith that we will obtain some good result of our labour. It is said without hope hearts would break; and yet what threads hope will sometimes cling to. The mariner in mid-ocean, with his ship sinking beneath the waves, casts himself into the sea hoping he may drift to land somewhere, or be picked up by some unexpected vessel crossing his path; sometimes for days he will battle with the waves, till rescue comes or death closes the scene. But the grandest hope of all is the hope of a happy immortality in the world to come. Free from sin and sorrow, care and pain; a rest from all anxieties; where all is peace, where all is love; where God is. He fills heaven; and he is love. Then let us pray that we may have such a hope, and for faith, patiently, to labour and to wait till our Creator calls us from our probation here, and ushers us into the realms of peace that knows no ending.

NEVER MIND.—It is not worth while for any one to get angry or discouraged because of the doings of a few misguided, or jealous people: suppose they do get excited, and say things of you behind your back in their anger, or jealousy, they would not say to your face; even if they withdraw their former cordial friendship, and think proper to treat you with cool politeness, for the time to come, what does it all amount to? If you did nothing wrong, you are not to blame for what others do; if they have done wrong, they will see the time when they will be sorry for it. Let them alone; if they are satisfied, you should be; the country is large; and there are those in it who would be glad to extend to you the hand of friendship; and with hearts as warm as you ever knew; don't be discouraged; be independent; truthful; honest and you need never want for friends.

HOME LIFE.—It has been well said that a single bitter word may disquiet an entire family for a whole day. One surly glance casts a gloom over the whole household: while a smile, like a gleam of sunshine, may light the darkest and weariest hours. Like unexpected flowers, springing up along our dusty road, full of fresh fragrance and beauty, so kind words and gentle acts, and sweet dispositions make glad the home where peace and plenty dwell. No matter how humble the abode, if it be thus garnished with grace and sweetened with kindness and smiles, the heart will turn longingly toward it from all the tumults of the world, and home, if it be ever so homely, will be the dearest spot beneath the circuit of the sun.

A POST OFFICE ON MOUNT SINAI.—The world moves so fast that one learns not to be astonished at anything. Still, we confess that to hear of a post Office being established on Mount Sinai compels us to revive our ideas regarding the fitness of things. The pious monks of Jabel Katerin have hitherto been regarded as holy authorities, whose minds had long become weaned from the vanities of the world. But it is evident by their desire to share in the somewhat qualified blessings of the Postal Union, that they have found a continuous contemplation of the mountain of Moses less satisfying than they had been led to expect.—London Standard.

Here is Bob Burdett's idea of temperance as expressed in a lecture at Buffalo, recently: "just quit. Simply quit. If you have a young man's weakness for wine beer or whiskey, as the railroad man says "shut her off." There is no trouble about it. Let me tell you there is no harm in whiskey. It does not and cannot hurt you if you do not drink it. That's all you are to do. Don't be a reformer. Don't be a prohibitionist lunatic. Just simply don't drink and all the whiskey in America can't make you drunk if you don't drink any of it."

Somebody has been enquiring into the circumstances which led to their being just twelve men on a jury, and the conclusion is that it was because there were twelve Jewish judges, twelve pillars to the temple, twelve patriarchs, twelve tribes of Israel, twelve stones on Aaron's breastplate, twelve gates to Jerusalem, twelve months in the year and twelve signs in the Zodiac.

Young man in looking for a wife look for an economical one. The girl who in this sort of weather wont let you hug her until she has taken off her collar, and thus saved it from being mussed is one who shows practical economy.

LONDON, July 11.—The committee engaged in the work of revising the Old Testament have finished their labors. After submission to the Convocation, the Testament will be issued to the public. Twelve out of the twenty-seven members have died during the revision.

History Repeats Itself,

And perhaps in the distant future when the ages have grown old, and move with slow and failing steps down the corridors of time—When the adjuncts and appliances that now make life endurable are forgotten, how gladly will the people hail the re-discovery of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, the great and only sure pop corn cure of this age. Without a rival for efficacy or painless action, certain in every case and yet perfectly harmless to every other part, surely its loss would be felt in future ages as keenly as its value is now appreciated by all in this. Try Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Sure and safe. N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, proprietors

There are three Polish churches in Chicago—one having about 16,000 members, the second about 6,000 and third about 4,000, and nearly one fourth that number being members of other parishes.

No Rival in the Field.

There is no rival for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is the acknowledged champion for the cure of all summer Complaints.

W. W. Blair is in high glee. He hitched up Maud S. to a sulky the other day, and as she was feeling all right, let her go. She surprised him and everybody else by covering the full mile over the Glendale track near Cleveland in 2.12¼ without lifting her head or turning a hair.

Prejudiced People.

Many people are prejudiced against patent medicines but all who try Burdock Blood Bitters are compelled to acknowledge it worthy a patent as a valuable discovery.

The crop prospects throughout England are most encouraging. The recent rains have proved the salvation of the grass and a good hay crop is insured. All the root crops have been greatly benefited, and wheat is in a very promising condition.

For Old or Young.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy for Cholera, Colic, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. No person is safe without it.

A destructive and voracious enemy of the beet root has appeared in Germany. It is a black bug, and was first seen in Silesia, where in the District of Loepschultz, upwards of 50 acres of beets were completely ruined. One cultivator, on a patch of less than 10 rods square, killed 1,800 bugs

A Search Warrant.

If there is any lurking taint of scrofula in the system, Burdock Blood Bitters are warranted to search it out.

A gentleman of Gascon, Oregon, writes on June 21 to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, asking for something to be done to stay the tide of immigration that is pouring into Oregon. The crops last year were short. There is an effort making to adjust business to the cash system, and there are other causes which help to make bad times. Thousands of men are roving over the country, with blankets on their backs, hunting for work which they cannot find.

It is always desirable at this season of the year when summer complaints are liable to seize one at any moment to know of a reliable remedy which can be used. This may be found in Gate's Certain Check which is a medicine of sterling worth and is equally good for children and adults.

A forest tree in Georgia was recently cut down at six o'clock in the morning, made into pulp at the factory in Augusta, and into paper at 6 o'clock in the evening, and at 6 o'clock the next morning was distributed as a printed newspaper.

An old bachelor asserts that the best and quietest way to revive a lady when she faints to begin to take down her hair, if it ain't her own she will grab it in a jiffy. A better way to stop fainting and to produce hair of her own is to use Minard's Liniment.

California promises to contribute 57,000,000 bushels to the 500,000,000 bushels of this country's next estimated wheat crop.

INCREASED POPULARITY.—When a medicine increases in popularity it is a sign that it is a good medicine, this is the case with McLean's Vegetable Worm Syrup.

A flower has been discovered in South America which, it is stated is only visible when the wind is blowing. The shrub belongs to the cactus family, and is about three feet high, with a crook at the top, giving the appearance of a black hickory cane. When the wind blows a number of beautiful flowers protrude from little lumps on the stalk.

An old and well tried remedy is Baird's French Ointment. By its use Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Ulcers, &c., are soon healed. It will cure the Itch in a few days.

The first line of telegraph was erected less than forty years ago, and at present there are about 1,000,000 miles in operation. Of these the United States is accredited with 250,000 miles, with the immediate probability of adding another 100,000; Germany 150,000 miles and the great Chinese empire has the smallest number of miles only 1,200.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment will positively cure chronic diarrhœa of long standing, also dysentery, cholera morbus, and cholera, used internally. There is no remedy known so valuable for immediate use as this old life preserver.

General News.

AMONG THE JERSEYS.—"Gath," in the Cincinnati Enquirer, gives the following account of his visit to the stock farm of Joseph O. Sibley, near Franklin, Pa.:—

Franklin is surrounded with the derricks of oil wells, looking like skeleton church spires, to the number of scores and hundreds, and most of these are still pumping a small quantity of oil per diem. Overlooking the tower on the opposite side of French Creek, is the Prospect Hill stock farm of Joseph O. Sibley, perhaps the most complete in all its appointments now in this country. Connected with it in different tracts are about six hundred acres of land, and it has a race-course used by the County Agricultural Society. Near the gate going in is the creamery, which manufactures two barrels of cream into butter in about forty-five minutes, and this butter is sent all over the country at fifty cents a pound. On the top of the hill is the barn, which is of an octagonal or almost circular pattern, and contains the entire herd on two floors. From the cupola of the barn, which gives the ventilation, descends a pole, around which is a winding stair connecting the two floors. In the centre of each floor is a large open space, and the circle of cattle faces this in stalls, their heads all appearing above the stalls, and the troughs at their knees. Behind this row of cattle is an open corridor, also circular, around which the second greater circle of cattle stand at their stalls.

On the upper floor a portion of this second circle is devoted to the cows with calves or about to calve. The cows in calf are generally kept dry where this is possible, so that the calf can get the full nourishment; but it is exceedingly difficult in some cases to dry the Jersey cow, as the tenacity with which she makes milk is the great secret of her value. She is the most wonderful butter-making animal known to man. Other kinds of cattle run to beef, but the Jersey so assimilates her food that the globules which might make beef flow in her milk, and hence the extraordinary production of some of these cows, and their high prices in a country where the chemist has been at work with butter, and has given us various forms of waggon grease and coal tar instead of the Alderney produce.

The importation of Jersey cattle into the United States began about seven years before the war. It has gone on with such en
