SABBATH SCHOOL COLUMN.

LESSON VI.—Sunday, Nov. 9. "The Wisdom of Solomon."—1 Kings 10: 1-13.

THE County Secretary will be present at the School House, Newburg, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, to assist in organizing a Sabbath School.

PROVINCIAL S. S. ASSOCIATION.

The result of the meeting at St John, last week, called for the purpose of organizing a Provincial Sabbath School Association, was more than satisfactory to the most sanguine friends of the movement. Every County of the Province, save one—Madawaska—had one or more representative present, the whole number of delegates aggregating nearly two hundred. Carleton County was fully represented as will be noticed by the following list:—Rev. K. McKay, W. T Kerr, Albert Estabrooks, Alex. Johnson, Wm. McKilligan, Wm. Lindsay, Mrs. W J. Sharp, Rev. W. F. Parker, James Watts, A J Miles, J. T. Fletcher, Rev. Geo. M Campbell, W. V. Segee, Israel Merritt, Alfred J Boyer, J. E Payson, Geo. W. Hovey, Geo. Ivey, Martha Montgomery, Alex. Harron, Mary F. Henderson, Jos. W. Benn, Rev. Edwin Mills, Miss Eva J Keeser, R. P. Kirkpatrick, S. J. Parsons, Wm. Hale, C. A. West, Miss Mary McDougall, Mrs. H Kennedy, Geo. W. White, W. S. Smith, Miss Isabel F cumming, J. T. G. Carr, J. D Kennedy, J. W. Plummer, Mrs. F. Penny, J. P. Carvill, Mrs J. T. G. Carr, Mrs. J. C. Berrie, Miss Janet Dunn, W. Simpson, Rev. J. G. Berrie, Eliza Pearson, N R. Brown, Mrs. C. W. Dickinson, Miss Lizzie S. Day.

The sessions were held in the large and very handsome school room connected with the Centenary church, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the Convention, free The first meeting was held on Thursday morning at 9.30, when Rev. T. F Fotheringham conducted a half-hour's prayer service, after which S. J Parsons called the Convention to order, and after the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds," and prayer by Rev. K. McKay, a temporary organization was effected by electing James Watts, chairman, and J. T Fletcher, Secretary. The necessary committees were appointed, and after the credential committee had submitted its report the active work of the association was at once entered upon.

The Secretary of the committee appointed to bring about this meeting submitted a lengthy report, which, after stating how at a recent meeting of the Carleton County Convention, Sabbath School workers from various parts of the Province, by invitation, being present, it was determined to attempt the formation of a Provincial S. S organization; and that circulars had been issued to every clergyman, day school teacher, Superintendent and Sabbath School throughout the Province, so far as their address could be ascertained, asking for the statistics of the several schools, and for the presence of all at the present meeting, contained the following information:—

A simple form of Constitution and By-Laws was submitted, which was considered section by section and adopted.

In the afternoon session, after devotional exercises, led by Rev. Geo. M. Campbell, the nominating committee presented the following list of officers which was adopted without discussion:—President, T. S. Simms, of St John; vice-presidents, James Watts, Carleton County; H. J. Thorne, St. John; I. B. Oakes, Charlotte; A. S. White, Kings; E C. Freeze, York; Albert Palmer, Queens; Archibald Baker, Sunbury; James Frier, Westmorland; John L. Steeves, Albert; R. B. Noble, Kent; Robert Gordon, Northumberland; W. P. Ferguson, Gloucester; Geo. Haddow, Restigouche; Stephen P. Waite, Victoria, Corresponding Secretary, Rev. T F Fotheringham. Asst Cor Secy., G. A. Henderson. Rec. Sec., J T. Fletcher. Treas., L. W. Johnson. Executive Committee: The above named officers and Rev. K. McKay, Rev. Wm. Parker, S. J Parsons, Jas Woodrow, J. E Irvine, W. Peters and W. L Robinson.

After a number of delegates had reported on the condition of their schools, Rev. K. McKay gave a fine address on "What benefits may be expected to result from our organization?' The speaker argued:

1. It will bring together different Sunday school workers to compare notes as to the work done and methods of doing it; to find methods of doing it; to find what remains to be done and how it may best be accomplished.

2. The public meetings held in connexion will be the means of meeting two classes not engaged in the work and creating in them an enthusiasm: (a) those somewhat interested, but lukewarm, as some parents, etc., (b) a class that care not for the Sunday school, such as young people who think they have graduated, etc.

3 In bringing together Christian workers of all denominations the true unity of the church of Christ will be exemplified and extended.

The question was further discussed by a number of gentlemen.

The devotional exercises at the opening of the evening session were presided over by Rev. E Mills.

After the routine business a very clever and highly instructive paper, on "The Successful Teacher—Preparing for his class," was read by John March. The second part of the same subject, "The Successful Teacher—Teaching his class," was then taken up and ably presented by John E. Irvine.

Mr. March urged that the successful teacher must know how to teach truth and duty. Must possess the faculty to win and fix attention of his class, and have, a complete knowledge of the subject on which he treats. He should possess a fixed purpose; mental activity; a good manner; presence of mind; self control. He should have a thorough knowledge of the Bible; know fully the lesson of the day; ought to possess illustrative powers, and be able to express his views in correct language.

Mr. Irvine claimed that the teacher should have a correct appreciation of the importance of his work. He should deal with his class each Sabbath as though it were the last time he was to meet it. The teacher should not be a talking machine, but try to get the scholars to ask and answer questions. He should in all cases do the very best he could and leave the result with God.

Quite an animated discussion followed, which continued until adjournment.

The devotional exercises at the opening of Friday morning's session was presided over by Rev. J. A. Comben, at the close of which, by request of the President, I. B Oakes took the chair, and read a telegram of greeting from the S. S. Association of Canada. An appropriate reply was sent. After the formal business was through with, Mr. S. J. Parsons opened the discussion on the question of "County Organization." He said the Convention was a sort of home missionary society whose object was to look after the interests of those sections destitute of spiritual instruction; to arouse enthusiasm in Sunday school work and illustrate the essential unity of christian work. Sabbath School workers might well copy after the politicians, and combine for the purpose of conducting an aggressive campaign. He showed how to form and conduct a County Convention, and submitted figures to show how many children in the Provinces were attending day school, who were not found in the Sabbath School.

A lengthy and interesting discussion followed, participated in by Rev. Messrs. Dobson, Fotheringham, Mills, Hogg, Beckwith, and Messrs. James Watts, Mr. Mercereau, W. T. Kerr and R. B. Noble, when, on motion of J. E. Irvine, the following resolution passed:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention it is advisable that in every county there should be county Sunday school organizations.

The devotional service at the opening of the afternoon session was conducted by Rev. Jos. Cahill. The President having taken the chair, after some routine business, the discussion on "How I teach my class" was ably opened by H.A. McKeown, who thought no uniform system of teaching a class could be adopted, as boys differed in temperament, knowledge, capacity and disposition to receive knowledge. It was important to engage the attention of the class by engaging in the conversation they are engaged in; by introducing a new and generally secular topic. He believed in encouraging the boys to propound questions and discuss the topic. His practice was to constantly impress common honesty in all the walks of life upon the class. It is very difficult to induce the boys to consider the salvation of their soule. It is not so much piety that is required in attracting the class, as general knowledge of the Bible and versatility of discourse.

The discussion was continued by Rev. Messrs J. C Berrie, Jos. Hogg, A. Lucas, W. F. Parker, and Mr. James. Watts.

The next subject for discussion, "Teacher's Meeting for Lesson Study," was opened by Rev. Jos. Hogg, who considered teachers' meetings as a necessary part of any school. A teacher who will not attend should be set aside without any delay. The superintendent should endeavor to make the meetings as profitable and interesting as possible. The teacher should prepare for it and the chairman should prepare a definite programme of entertainments by delegating special phases of the lesson on the following Sabbath to different teachers.

The subject was further discussed by Rev. Messrs. Cahill, Fotheringham and Parker.

Rev. Dr. Hopper then took up the question of Institutes and Normal classes, and proceeded to give many valuable suggestions in relation to their necessity and importance.

The work of the teacher was not only to lead the soul to Christ, but he must have the mental capacity to comprehend the Bible. The spirit of God will not teach him grammar, history or geography. He should be a student. Thus the advanced scholar in the class, who designs to become a teacher, should apply himself to all knowledge connected with the Bible, its origin, and its associations. The right kind of teachers are hard to secure and in many schools persons have to be placed over classes, who possess a very limited knowledge of the Bible and do not profess to be converted.

Rev C. W. Beckwith, Rev. T. F. Fotheringham, Rev. J. C. Berrie, Rev. Jos. Hogg also spoke on the subject.

Mr. H. J. Thorne resigned the position of Vice President and J. Willard Smith was appointed to fill the vacancy.

S. J. Parsons having been appointed to the work now proceeded to open the question box and reply to the questions asked.

The evening devotional service was conducted by Rev. E. Mills. The President having taken the chair, the report of the Finance Committee, recommending that collections to defray necessary expenses of Convention be taken in the various schools on the second Sunday in November; that a number of stated bills be paid; and that the thanks of the Convention be tendered to the Secretary, was adopted.

Miss M Smith then gave a very interesting and clever illustration of blackboard and object teaching.

Rev. J. C. Berrie now took up and discussed the Relation of the Church to the Sabbath School, which he presented in a strong and attractive manner, and in which he warmly denounced circuses, theatres and other places of frivolous amusements. The speaker was followed by Rev. Messrs. Parker, Lucas, Mills and Beckwith

The finance committee reported receipts from the several collections, $98.67.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to the local committees in St. John; the citizens of St. John for their hospitality; the press; the steamboat and railway authorities; the trustees of the Centenary church; the Secretary of the committee, J. T. Fletcher, etc.

Several delegates now briefly explained the benefits they had derived from the session; the delegates clasped hands and united in singing "Shall we gather at the River;" Rev. T. F. Fotheringham offered prayer and pronounced the benediction, and thus terminated a meeting not only highly interesting and profitable to those who were present, but whose results for good, we trust, shall be indelibly impressed upon all the future history of our Province.

The next session of the Association is to be held at Moncton on the third Tuesday in November, 1885.

We may add that the delegates were met on their arrival at St. John by the reception committee, who speedily assigned them to comfortable quarters, and that the citizens of St John were indefatigable in their efforts to make the guests feel at home.

HON. MCKENZIE BOWELL, Minister of Customs, Hon. P. Caron, Minister of Militia and Hon. John Costigan, Minister of Inland Revenue, arrived in St. John on Sunday morning last and on Monday proceeded to Fredericton, where the Military School was inspected and Mr. Gibson's mills and other notable sights in that city visited. On the evening of Monday, the Ministers were entertained at a dinner at the Barker House, E L. Wetmore, Esq, M. P. P., presiding. On Tuesday morning the party went up river extending their trip as far as Edmundston, being cordially received at that place; at Grand Falls where they were banquetted, and at Andover. On their way up they were met at Newburg Junction by a number of gentlemen from Woodstock, including J. T. Fletcher, Capt. Duncan, H. N. Black, D. F. Merritt and J. C. Winslow, the two latter of whom accompanied the Ministerial party on their up river trip. On Wednesday evening about midnight they reached Woodstock and registered at the Gibson. Thursday morning the Ministerial party paid a visit of inspection to the new post office, with which they expressed satisfaction, and afterwards held a reception at the Gibson House, where many of our leading citizens did themselves the honor of calling upon them. After this they were driven through the town and thence to the station where they took a special for McAdam.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Costigan's opportunity to make his colleagues acquainted with the fine county he represents, and the attractive sections of Carleton through which the railway passes, did not occur at a more favorable season of the year and was not attended by more favorable weather. To have seen the upper St. John districts at their best, in summer or early autumn, might have been a revelation to the Ministers, who had not before been above Woodstock, and given them a practical knowledge of our agricultural and other resources, for which otherwise they could scarcely be prepared.

OUR SCHOOLS.—The new school house in Wellington Ward was occupied for the first time by the schools on Monday. As we have before stated the new building is a fine one, well adapted in all respects for the convenience and comfort of teachers and scholars. There are now in it Mr. Charles McLean, who teaches grades 7 and 8; Miss Elizabeth Price, grades 3 and 4; and Miss Bell Price, grades 1 and 2.

Transferring Mr. McLean's department to the new school room in Wellington Ward has necessarily disarranged school matters somewhat, and created a present dissatisfaction which, we trust, may soon be removed. It cannot of course be expected that delicate little children, living in the upper section of the town, will be able to attend the Wellington Ward school; this would be scarcely possible in fine weather, and utterly impossible when stormy and cold. As it is at present, a number of small children are being kept at home, there being no provision made for them in the college building, and their parents dare not allow them to undergo the dangerous fatigue of going to the new school building. However, we doubt not, the trustees will soon remedy existing difficulties.

Two new teachers have entered upon their duties this term: Miss Price in the south side school and Miss Donnelly in the college building; the latter takes the place of Miss Shea, who has temporarily resigned.

An examination was recently held in the Grammar School for competition for the medal presented by the Governor General to the pupil making the highest marks in an examination on the general subjects taught. Miss Edith Waters, a young lady but 14 years old, was the successful competitor. The examiners were Rev. Canon Neales and A. B. Connell. The medal is of bronze, finely engraved and was presented to Miss Waters at the close of the public examination last Friday. The examination was in writing and the winner was so closely followed by Ernest Tozier, that the examiners awarded him a valuable book.

At the close of the school term last week, many of the classes moving from one department to another, left pleasant reminders behind them in the shape of presents to their teachers: Mr. McLean was made the recipient of a handsome gold pencil; Miss Sharp was presented with a finely bound volume of Mrs Hemans' poems, and Mrs. Cupples was given by her class of girls a costly volume of Coleridge's poems, while the little boys leaving gave her a nice glass ink stand.

Miss Shea was also the recipient of a number of gifts from her scholars, who thus testified to their esteem for her and regret at her resignation.

ORDINATION.—On Tuesday evening, Mr. Geo. S. Allen was ordained and inducted Pastor of the Presbyterian congregation of this Town. Rev. Mr. Fotheringham, of St. John, preached the sermon, basing his remarks on Luke 22: 26-27, and preaching a sermon very appropriate to the occasion.

The sermon was followed by the solemn ordination service of the church, and the laying on of hands of the Presbytery.

Rev. Mr. Bruce of St. John, addressed the newly ordained minister in weighty words of wisdom and earnest words of love, and the people had their duties to the pastor practically presented by Rev. K. McKay, of Richmond, to whom a Woodstock audience always listens with pleasure.

We congratulate our Presbyterian friends on their excellent choice, and wish Mr. Allen every success in his work.

THERE is a lesson taught by the hearty and spontaneous expressions of deep regard manifested for Sir Moses Montefiore on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of his birth. It shows how a man may through the exercise of amiability of disposition and true worth of character secure the respect and admiration of his fellows, notwithstanding the influence of that prejudice which attaches to particular sects and classes in society. It shows that the human mind is developing more and more that kindliness of spirit which acknowledges, wherever found, the sterling traits of human character. Such a man developing such results aids the world in truest progress. When one speaks of a hundred years as in the age of the world and life of a man, especially when the man has been so situated as has Sir Moses, one refers to a period of time which embraces the advent and success of the most interesting and important reforms—reforms which have, alike, affected private liberty, public rights and national destinies. Sir Moses has seen the legal code afflict unreasonable barbarities, in the name of justice, and has seen from that code expurgated many of the barbarous features; he has seen the relations between the individual and the state so harmonized as to establish a mutual respect and mutual responsibility where arbitrary oppression on the one hand and unquiet submission on the other existed. But the theme is too suggestive; too wide a field of thought is opened up, for gleaning in a news paper paragraph, by the text of Sir Moses' hundred years,

A CLIMAX was reached in the University trouble, on Friday last. The young man who threw the slipper admitted the fact. The Senate and faculty thereupon decided to punish the senior class by witholding for six months its degrees and the freshmen of their scholarship for a year, and that competitions for the classical scholarship be withdrawn until further notice. As soon as this decision was announced the students held a council and decided to resign. The action of the authorities is now more generally and strongly denounced than was the foolish conduct of the boys. The University which has never enjoyed, so fully as necessary to its success popular favor, will now, by this action of the authorities, sink in public esteem. The result affects not merely the students but equally their parents and the public. It will be well if, at once, those who have authority over those who have now placed the institution in its present position, turn attention to the University and its management, and by instituting such reforms, no matter how they may affect the feeling or position of individuals, as it has long been pretty evident, are required.

Then out of the present regretted state of things may come better management and that greater success which the institution owes the Province.

HIS Worship presided at a full meeting of the Town Council on Monday evening. It was resolved to place a sewer across King street—a very necessary work.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—John Price, water works, $5; B. Lynch, water works, $16.80; W. H. Everett, incidental, $4.85.

Fisher & Connell's account was left to His Worship and Coun. Murphy, to settle upon such terms as they desired just.

It was resolved that water supplied by metre be by Imperial measure.

Thirteen tenders for supplying wood at water works were read, and then submitted to W. W. Committee to report upon.

The vote for one faucet, for drinking purposes, at Roller Rink, was fixed at $6.

It was resolved to extend the water pipe on Maine street, by adding 90 feet 1 inch pipe, running towards Mr. Veasey's residence, with T's attached for other water takers.

A HEART-RENDING accident, resulting in the death of a bright little four year old son of Henry B. Smith of this place, occurred on Wednesday last. Mr. and Mrs. Smith had gone to Houlton, the children being left at home in charge of their grand-mother. Two of the boys, aged respectively 10 and 14 years, playing in a bed room, discovered a loaded gun, and with it began playing bear. While thus handling it the gun was discharged, the contents striking the youngest boy back of one shoulder, passing obliquely through him and out of his breast. Death was so sudder, that the grandmother, in the adjacent room hearing the report and hastening to him, found the poor little fellow dead. The sadly afflicted parents have the deepest sympathy of the community.

THE alleged determination of the Government to remove the stock farm to Spring Hill, York Co. is lately being discussed by the papers of St. John and Fredericton with much warmth. The view of the question, it seems to us, in which the public at large are interested, and that public and its interests should have some consideration, is not as to whether one locality would be benefitted and another injured by the removal, but whether the object sought by the establishment of the farm will be more fully and satisfactorily secured by discontinuing it where, upon pretty good testimony, it has been a failure, and placing it in a better locality. If it can be more efficiently managed and be made to pay better, directly and indirectly in York than Kings why say nay to the removal?

AT Montrose station, near Toronto on the 27th ult., in a railway collision, conductor Herbert Thayer was thrown down in the caboose, and the stove fell on top of him pining him to the floor. The caboose instantly took fire and all effort to release the conductor proving futile, he was consumed in the presence of his brother and other car hands. He was only 21 years old and had been married but a few weeks.

TIRED.—How often we hear one say, "I feel so tired and languid and yet have done nothing to cause such a feeling." The trouble is that their system is out of order and requires, a good bracing Blood stimulant. To such we would recommend Estey's Iron and Quinine Tonic. All Druggists sell it.

THE elections in the United States Tuesday, appear to have passed off much more quietly than was feared would be the case. The reports so far received as to the result of the voting are conflicting, but at present writing the almost certain probability is that Cleveland has been elected with a good many votes to spare.
