Source of all life, and joy, and light Creator of each starry sphere, That o'er me, on the arch of night, Gleam like a diam and bright and slear-Oh, as I, gaze, transported now Upon this blue resplendent dome, Deign but to hear my prayer, that Thou Wilt call my erring spirit home.

Home from the world's fast fading bowers, Frail visions and deluding dreams, To you fair clime of Edin's flowers, Sweet airs and softly gliding streams, Oh, make me feel that while I stay, A sojourner and stranger here, My soul must seek its homeward way, Far far beyond each starry sphere :

I kneel before thy gorgeous throne Upon thy footstool king of kings And gazeing on the glories strewn B neath the Holy Spirit's wings-Abject and weak my awc-struck heart Would from the dreadful presence flee, If Saviour, thou didst not impart Rays of undying hope to me.

As yonder faint and glimmering star Receives its lustre from the sun Though from its fiery splendors fair So from thy love, Almighty one My spirit drinks immortal light-Oh, never may that light decay But like you diamond of the night, In heaven own beauty melt away. Southampton Dec. 14th 1863.

of the first of October report :-The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been 77 vessels, 60,962 tons, against 60 vessels, 42,673 tons during the corresponding month last year, and the aggregate tonnage to this date from all places in the years 1883, 1884, and 1885, has been 323,670, 323,099, and 310,492 tons respectively.

The import of most articles has been much in excess of the corresponding month last year; the deliveries, however, have also been large, but this is owing more to forced sales from the quay than from any actual improvement in the demand : prices generally are lower, and stocks too heavy; a much reduced supply for the remainder of the season is absolutely necessary, if even the present low prices are to be maintained.

New York City AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the Leginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Aver's Cherry Pec-TORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permaold, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
