SIR LEONARD TILLEY, accompanied by his family, went to Fredericton on Tuesday, there at once to enter upon the duties of Lieut-Governor of the Province. Sir Leonard is looking better than might be ex. pected, considering the nature of the disease under which he has so long been a sufferer. The comparative relief from all worrying care which he will enjoy in the new position may, it is hoped, result in his full restoration to health, at all events it will tend to mitigate a complaint which physicial and mental movement and anxiety aggravates.
