HAIR RENEWER was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises. The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy. BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

The Silver Mist. 've read somewhere in story, In some half-f rgotten tale, Of a picture on the ocean Framed with a foggy veil-Of a picture dim, uncertain, With the twilight overspread, And the sea clouds drifting whitely To the pale moon overhead. And yet I can well remember, How in fancy I could list To the rushing of the waters, Mosning through the silver mist. On waves gem tipped and flashing With their clamored spray flung wide, Tossed a tiny boat all lonely, Like a shell upon the tide ; And when its frail heart resting, As the sea-life in its cell. A single soul was swaying On the dark ning billows' swell; While methought I saw his features,

Sadly wan and white and triste,

As he strove to pierce the distance Shrouded in the silver mist. And the ocean world grew colder When the night time chased the day, And the sobbing sea rolled higher Where the wild winds dashed the spray. And forever and forever. Far across the heaving plain, The opal shades flew scudding With their breath like chilly rain:

Their warning forth of danger Hidden 'neath the silver mist. But, when the hour was darkest. And all help seemed far away, And the storm-tossed one looked upward. Clasped his hands and tried to pray, Lo! above him from the shadows Burst a gleam of brilliant light; Flashed the silver mist of golden. Splendor flushing all the night. And from out the halo floating. With her holy brow star kissed,

While a thousand unseen monsters

Drew closer round, and hissed

Bent a white-robe angel, smiling Down upon him through the mist. So, I think on Life's wide ocean, With her barques befogged and lost, Oftentimes with only patience Can we live when sorrow tossed. Only wait, wait for the glimmer Through the shades to show the way, Where the angel bursts asunder Darkness with her starry ray, Only wait and look beyond life-Only wait and only list 'Till the good ship Hope bears downward, Sailing through the silver mist. Select Tale.
