SAUNDERS BROS.

Woodstock, December 16, 1885.

FOR centuries past Inventors have racked their brains to devise some means of robbing wash-day of its terrors. Thousands of varieties of Soaps, Washing Compounds, Washing Machines, etc., etc., have been thrown on the Market and still the back-breaking washboard has continued its work of ruin and destruction, annually destroying millions of dollars worth of Clothing and driving thousands of women into premature graves. But now the scene has changed. The cleanses perfectly without any wear on the clothes and with very little labor for the operator. It has been tried in the fire of a public opinion, prejudiced against it by the failure of all other varieties of Washing Machines, and has stood the test. It saves Water, Soap, Fuel and Clothing, as well as Labor, Health, Strength, and Life itself. Write us for testimonials of some of our customers. Address

MRS. F. T. BRIDGES.

Woodstock, December 11, 1885.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND'S farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until a friend, Mr. LELAND'S direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND'S extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

THE INDIAN AND COLONIAL EXHIBITION.

To the Editors of the Sentinel:—

SIRS: In compliance to a request made by the high commissioner, and also on account of feeling the great importance of the undertaking, I have, during my visit to Canada, devoted considerable time to working up the interests of the colonial exhibition throughout the maritime provinces. I regret to say that I find great lack of interest in the undertaking among the manufacturers and others in this province, and unless some means is adopted at once to arouse their energies, New Brunswick will make a very poor appearance beside the other provinces of the Dominion.

Ontario manufacturers, etc., having already applied for a much larger space than can be granted to them, gives evidence that there will not be any difficulty in filling all the space allotted to the Dominion, and if we do not utilize a fair share of it the fault will be our own, for we had equal facilities. Our people do not seem to realize that each province is responsible for its own interests in this collection, and each province is vieing with the other for the best show. Every manufacturer, producer, farmer or individual in the province, is personally interested in seeing we are all well represented in each department. The following extracts from the regulations issued by the executive commissioners will be of general interest, and also show that there is not any time to be lost:—

1st. The exhibition will be opened on or about the 1st of May, 1886, and remain open for a period of about six months.

2nd. States the object of the exhibition—"To illustrate the resources, products and manufactures of the colonies."

5th. There will be no charge for space.

6th. Motive power and water will be supplied free of cost, provided that notice, by letter or cable is given by 1st January, 1886. Foundations can be laid. The work will be done at the expense of the commission. Full particulars of the size, character and intended position of the machines should be given.

19th. All goods intended for exhibition should reach the exhibition on or before the 31st January, 1886, and if convenient to the executive commissioners, they can be received from 1st January, 1886. It is hoped everything will be reported ready for inspection at least fourteen days previous to the end of April.

21st. All expenses connected with the installation and display of exhibits will be defrayed by the Colonial and Indian Commission.

23rd. (Extract) In order to enable the commission to issue the general catalogue they request that a descriptive list, duly classified, of the goods intended for exhibition, may be forwarded to the secretary of the royal commission not later than the 1st December, 1885.

24th. A colonial dining room will be organized under the superintendance of the royal commission, to which exhibitors are invited to send, through the executive commissioners, preserved food and wine for consumption by visitors.

27th. It is proposed to hold a bread and vegetable market, at which colonial and Indian produce will be on sale.

28th. It is proposed to hold an exhibition of living animals from the colonies and India.

I do trust that our people will not require more canvassing, but send at once to W. F. Best, the collecting agent, for applications for space, and push forward their preparations with all speed.

Yours truly,
IRA CORNWALL, JR.

A SHORT time since there was witnessed in New York a strange scene to be enacted in this land of Bibles and christianity. It was the installation of the Chinese Idol Joss in a new Temple, in a building on Chatham Square. The furniture and ornaments for sacrificial offerings, were all brought from China. Leon Zoe, an ex Zanish priest, who some years ago gave up the robes, was made temporary priest. The Zanish creed is the oldest of all Chinese religions. It dates back to Yu Hui Cen, the famous deist who flourished about 3000 years B. C. The faith is dying out before the advance of Buddhism in China, and Leon Zoe is very likely the only priest of that faith ever in this country. About 12 o'clock the Chinese consul, in company with Lefon Gwing, the new chairman of the Chinese municipality, entered the crowded sanctuary followed by 20 Chinese merchants in long silken robes. The room was suffocating with the odor of burning incense and sandalwood. Flaming red carrot-shaped candles were burning dimly in the gaslights. The priest and people knelt and asked permission to remove Joss from his old to his new place. The prayer translated in English was as follows: "Oh, merciful, great Joss, we thy servants have humbly this day prepared a new sanctuary, where thou and thine may eat and drink in peace, and whereby thy presence will not be profaned by the vile language of foreign devils. We invite thee even now to turn thy steps thither, accompained by thy humble servants." Incense and joss sticks were burned, and rice wine was spilled before Joss to refresh him a little before he started out on his short journey. At the same time six Chinese musicians inflicted characteristic music upon the neighborhood. Expensive red flannels were then laid upon the floor, thence down stairs, and even down to the sidewalk. Joss was raised by two Chinese merchants, acting temporary priests. The Chinese consul was the guide of the grand march through Chinatown to the new temple on Chatham square. Fifty or sixty devotees followed, all in long silken robes, like so many old maids going to a sewing party. After these came the bearers of candles, lanterns, flowers, roasted pig, fruits, candies, cakes, and endless varieties of Oriental luxuries. When the procession arrived at the door of the temple the process of spreading red flannels upon the staircases began once more. While this was being done, the majority of the procession went ahead of Joss and his escorts, to be in the rooms ready to receive his royal highness. Upon the arrival of their god they knelt in two rows at the entrance of the temple, while Leon Zoe in a loud voice cried: "Welcome, O thou great spirit, who controllest the destiny of all men. Welcome into the house newly prepared by the hands of thy humble servants. We bow to thee; we bow to thee." These last words were repeated by all the kneeling Chinamen. The moment this was done the entire assembly knelt, while the priest chanted the regular prayer of the Tan, in a musical, sing-song sort of a way, for nearly 30 minutes. Candles of huge size were lit, and the sacrifices began. The first salutation to Joss upon his new throne was made by the Chinese consul, who lighted three immense sized joss sticks of sandal wood and perfumed compounds, which made the air fairly thick with a peculiar oriental odor. He bowed himself three times before Joss. The priest began his offerings of meat and fruits. At least 15 beautiful roasted pigs, one of which must have weighed more than 160 pounds, were offered. Besides these, there were piles of roast chickens and lambs, etc. The ceremonies did not conclude until nearly 4 o'clock this morning.

PAIR OF MONSTERS.—Rome, Dec. 11.—The trial commenced here yesterday of a butcher named Fozzi and his wife, son and daughter, who are charged with the murder of one Poggo, also a butcher. The motives for the crime were trade jealousy and family disputes. Poggi was entrapped into Fozzi's cellar, where the murder was committed. The body of the victim was cut into pieces and the remains were scattered in a suburban wood. The blood was boiled into black puddings, which were sold in Fozzi's shop. The son made a confession yesterday. He narrated his story in court with cold-blooded cynicism which provoked a howl of fury, the audience exclaiming: "Away with him to the scaffold." In reply the murderer tauntingly screamed: "Hear I am, tear me to pieces." The terrible story has created intense excitement throughout the city.

THOUSANDS MURDERED.—Rome, Dec. 15.—The College of Propaganda announces that up to November 1st, in the vicariate of Oochin China, nine missionaries of native priests, 60 catechists, 270 members of the Regis orders, and 24 000 christians have been massacred. Two hundred parishes, 17 orphan asylums and 10 convents were destroyed, and 225 churches burned.

A Berlin surgeon lately removed a quantity of dead bone from a man's arm. Immediately afterwards he amputated the leg of another man for an injury. Then he took a large piece of bone from the amputated leg and put it in the place of the dead bone of the arm. The bone became firmly attached and made a very successful operation.
