THIRD QUARTER —Lesson 1, Sunday, July 5, "The Revolt of the Ten Tribes."—I. Kings, 12: 6-17.

WILMOT Parish S. S. Convention meets on Wednesday next and promises to be an interesting session. Meetings will be at 2 p. m. and 6.30 p. m.

QUEENS County S. S Association was organized at Upper Jemseg last week. There was a good attendance and a great deal of enthusiasm shown in the movement by the delegates present.

SAYS Bishop Peck:—A hundred years have shown that what seemed a local charity under the guidance of a single philanthropist was the providential beginning of a world-wide Church institution.

Slowly, but surely, the thought advanced until it developed a system of gratuitous Bible instruction for children, then for young, then for inquiring minds of all ages and all classes.

It seemed born as an outside accessory of Church work—a means of assisting the Church in elevating the masses, so as to bring them within the rank of evangelizing agencies. Thus it revealed itself as an evangelizing force of great proportions and powers. At first it was to help the Church, but at length it was an organic part of the Church, ordained of God to develop a grand system of discipleship, that should make certain the teaching of disciples from childhood up, all of which would tend strongly to guide the pupils to Christ. By degrees it seemed to reach the place of a substitute for Gospel preaching and other church services. Now it supersedes nothing of the appointed means of grace, but with clear light conducts to them all

Once Sunday-schools required an hour or two on the Sunday, of well disposed persons, who could conveniently spare that brief time. Now they call for profound study as weekly preparatory of the best minds of the church; for normal classes, conventions, assemblies, and congresses, under the guidance of the ripest scholars and ablest teachers of the ages. Once the father might smile upon the Sunday school if he pleased; now he must recognize it as his grand Church training school, and by untiring vigilance watch for the salvation of its scholars, and take care of the Scriptural faith of its growing members, and feel that his pastoral work includes them all as his most precious charge.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1885.

SENTINEL Office, in Vanwart's Brick Building, King street, up stairs.

THE delegates from this section to the Methodist Conference at Charlottetown returned home with pleasant recollections of the trip. For most of them it was their first visit to P. E. I., and therefore to other charms was added that of novelty. The weather during the whole of Conference was all that could be desired, especially by those who were anxious, by foot, boat or carriage, to see all that was possible within the compass of their stay.

Summerside, 40 miles west of Charlottetown, on Bedeque Bay, is reached after a four hour sail, in a good steamer, from Point du Chene. This town contains over 3000 inhabitants, has an excellent harbor, is prettily situated and gives the appearance of a smart enterprising and growing place. Here we take train for Charlottetown. The railway traverses a fine section of country, the farms as well as buildings along the route bearing evidence to the care bestowed upon them, and indicating by their looks material prosperity on the part of the proprietors. The railway a "narrow guage" one, is notable for two things first the gentlemanly and obliging deportment of its officials and, secondly, the serpentine character of the track; to the stranger it looks as though the attempt aimed at had been to make the railway run through every man's door yard. In some places the curves are so extreme as to form almost a complete circle, so that it is nearly possible for those on the locomotive and those on the rear car of a moderately long train, to converse with each other while going around these turns. As the road was built by subsidy perhaps it was an object to lengthen out the miles as far as possible. The railway crosses the Island from Tignish the most western point, to Souris the eastern, with branches to Charlottetown, Georgetown, and Cape Traverse, a total distance of some 124 miles. When the railway to Cape Tormentine is completed, the distance between the two provinces, N. B. and P. E. I., will be reduced to 9 miles; between these two capes, the submarine cable is laid, and winter communication by steamer and ice boats is kept up.

Charlottetown, the metropolis, is beautifully situated upon a slight eminence, at the confluence of the York, Elliot and Hillsborough rivers, and contains upwards of 13,000 inhabitants. The city is well laid out with wide streets running back from the river front, these intersected at right angles by narrower ones. The buildings as a whole have the appearance of age and are not very attractive, and yet there are many and marked exceptions to this rule, and as has already been the case, so it will continue to be, that as fire and time destroys the old edifices new ones of more modern and artistic style, will take their places. Some very fine residences with tastefully laid out and well kept grounds are to be noticed, while many of the public buildings and churches are imposing and handsome specimens of architecture. The appearance of the place and manners of the people are decidedly English. At present Charlottetown, in common with other portions of the world, is suffering from general business depression, but the people generally appear hopeful and contented. While fishing and agriculture are the chief industries of the island, considerable and increasing attention is being given to manufactures. Her factories consist of mills, grist, saw and woollen; butter, cheese, starch, soap, tanneries, meat and fish canning, carriage box, boots and shoes, pottery and stone quarries. The soil is principally brick red loam, easily worked and very fertile. A natural and excellent fertilizer is found in the almost exhaustless beds of oyster shell or "mussel mud," which abounds in most of the bays and rivers. The principal crops raised are wheat, oats, barley, potatoes and turnips, all of which yield abundantly and are exported in large quantities. The island produces some fine cattle, but especially does it excel in the character of its horses, many of which find their way to this section of country.

Summerside boasts of one, and Charlottetown of five or six live, well conducted newspapers.

In the neighbourhood of Charlottetown are some very fine drives, and the harbor in front presents a fine opportunity for bathing, boating and fishing.

Space forbids our elaborating further than to say that the people of Charlottetown, judging from their treatment of the delegates to Conference, are sociable, generous hearted and hospitable; they seem to possess the happy faculty of making strangers feel at home, and nothing appears to afford them more pleasure than the opportunity to put this faculty into active operation.

Personally, we received the very kindest attention, and shall never forget the many courtesies extended by the good people of Charlottetown. We were fortunate enough to be billetted at Mrs. Hazard's where we found a generous welcome and hearty hospitality; to Mrs. Hazard her daughter and son we are largely indebted for the very great amount of pleasure we enjoyed while at Charlottetown.

THE Company performing this week at the Rink is certainly one of the best, if not positively the best, theatrical company that has ever visited Woodstock. The several plays presented have been of a popular sort and, despite the bad weather in the early part of the week, were well attended, every one being pleased as well with the acting as with the fine auditorium and stage which Mr. Kennedy has arranged.

IF some of those worthy citizens of this town a quarter of a century ago, who have long gone to their rest—and, alas, there are but few remaining who at that distance of time were active citizens here—could come back, they would scarcely realize, on reading one of the new time tables of the N. B. Railway, which went into effect last Sunday morning, that the Woodstock therein referred to is the Woodstock of their lives and homes and labors. Twenty-five years ago there was no railroad coming into Woodstock, and those who travelled had to do so by boat, when the water served, or by horse power, while to-day there are 15 arrivals and departures of trains here every twenty-four hours. Beside St. John, there is no town or city in the maritime provinces which can show such a record of railway service as Woodstock.

And we have here a material evidence of the growth and prosperity of the up-river sections and of their industrial interests which promote or are developed by the introduction of rail-roads.

Then—at the time referred to—if one wished to go to Fredericton it was an all day's drive; if to St. John, a 24 hours trip; if to Boston, by way of St. John, at least 60 hours, and via Houlton and Bangor, some 40 hours. Now we can take breakfast in Woodstock and dinner in Fredericton or St. John; or, breakfasting in Woodstock, may be in Boston for supper and New York for the next breakfast. And like facilities, presenting similar contrasts, are afforded for travelling north and for the people of northern districts to come south and go west.

A SHOCKING accident which resulted in the death of John Moore occurred at the station here on Saturday morning last. The unfortunate man was working on a gravel train and on the morning in question he started from his boarding house to go to his work. Reaching the station he found his train in motion and in attempting to spring on to the cars he slipped and fell between two of them with his legs across the track. Eight trucks passed over both his legs, crushing them badly, cutting his head, and inflicting other injuries. Drs. Smith and Sprague were called, but could afford no permanent relief, and after two hours severe suffering the poor man died. Coroner Allan held an inquest, when a verdict in accordance with above facts was returned. The deceased lived near Ferryville, and leaves a wife and four helpless children. When the sad news of his death was made known Mr. R. M. Bailey started a subscription paper and speedily collected over $50 to present to the family so suddenly deprived of their bread winner.

CHARLES MILLER, in attempting to get on to a moving eloven on Thursday, was thrown down, his head going between the spokes of the wheel. Before the horse could be stopped Miller had been carried around with the wheel until his head struck the corner of the iron axle, crushing in his skull just above and behind the ear. He was carried home in an unconscious condition and attended by Drs. Connell, Smith and Sprague. Up to present writing he remains unconscious and but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

TO DAY, Saturday, the election for York takes place, and the election will decide whether Mr. Wilson, who supports the local government, or Mr. Hazen, who opposes it, is to take the seat vacated by Mr. Thompson's elevation to the Legislative Council. If the bitterness of two of the Fredericton papers (the Reporter maintains, so far as we have noticed, a dignified neutrality,) might be taken as an indication of the result, Mr. Hazen would be elected by a large majority, but their zeal, we should judge, outstrips their judgment, and the electors of York will scarcely go against the leader, Mr Blair, and his government, because he and they have done too much for that county. While not materially affecting the strength of the government in the house, the election of Mr. Hazen would affect the moral influence of York through its leading representative.

IN Kings to-day, also, the election is held, but there both candidates are favorable to the government.

IN consequence of the change in the time and manner of running the trains on the N. B. Railway, conductors Holt and Burpee now run through from Presque Isle to Vanceboro and vice versa, laying over at the places named on alternate nights.

Conductor Street, who has for some time had charge of the night train, now takes the day train which leaves here at 6 a. m. to connect with the Flying Yankee at McAdam.

It is but just to say, and the travelling public will agree with us, that the N. B. R. Co. are fortunate in having employees on their trains on both divisions and all the branches whose department in discharge of their duties is such as to render the road popular with those who travel. This, of course, applies in an especial manner to the conductors; indeed, any one whose experience of railroad travel is at all extensive must have been impressed with the idea that as a rule railroad managers are very shrewd or very fortunate in their selection of conductors, whose position is one of responsibility and, from the great variety of people with whom they are thrown in contact, one of a trying nature. No more agreeable officials can be found than the conductors on the N. B., Intercolonial, Maine Central and Boston roads.

A LECTURE delivered by Sir Francis Hicks, in Montreal, on the Ashburton Treaty and the settlement of the disputed boundary line between Maine and New Brunswick, has been printed in pamphlet. Sir Francis, after an exhaustive examination of all the facts, comes to the conclusion that the charge that the negotiators in the interests of New Brunswick were overreached is not justified, but that in this case a matter of much difficulty was amicably and honorably settled by able men whose memories should be entitled to gratitude.

WE have already noted the practical success of our Carleton county boys at the University in winning medals and honors. We have now to record that on commencement day, at St. Joseph's College, Memramcook, a prize of a $10 gold piece was awarded Daniel Gallagher, of Johnville, N. B., for general proficiency in first English (Commercial Class), and to John Gallagher, of Woodstock, N. B, the Lansdowne silver medal, for proficiency in classics.

IN the House of Commons, Ottawa, the Hon. Minister of Militia has introduced a measure amending the Consolidated Militia Act of 1883. The object of the measure is to secure the authority for increasing the maximum of the permanent force from 750, its present limit, to 1,000 men. The additional 250 men will be placed in an infantry school at London and a school of mounted and other infantry at Winnipeg. Mr. Caron said that recent occurrences had made it necessary to supplement the permanent corps by this addition.

A DESPATCH from Ottawa the other day stated that Mr. J. G. Forbes, the celebrated Canadian artist, was attacked with hemorrhage of the nose two days since, and is rapidly bleeding to death. He had been suffering from catarrh and injected patent medicine, which had so eaten away the covering of the arteries of the nose that they burst and all efforts of his medical attendants to check the flow of blood have failed.

Later accounts say Mr. Forbes is recovering. This case should prove a salutary warning to those, and doubtless they are many, who, without the advice of skilled medical authority, use for physical afflictions all kinds of nostrums which may happen to be recommended in the press.

AT a meeting of the stock farm committee held recently Mr. Fairweather reported that, under direction of the Government, he had visited Ontario and purchased two bulls for the stock farm, one a short horn and the other an Ayrshire. He bought the Ayrshire bull Lord Lansdowne, 1,557, D. A. H. B., from Guy & Son, of Oshawa, Ontario, for $200, and the short horn bull, Major, from Mr. Arthur Johnston, Pickering, Ontario, for $500. The animals having arrived the committee made an examination of them and pronounced themselves fully satisfied with the purchase. It was decided to sell the old Short Horn and Ayrshire bulls, and to purchase from Mr. F. W. Brown, of Grand Falls, a red Norfolk bull owned by him. The date for the annual sale of stock was fixed for Wednesday, Oct. 7th. There will be a fine lot of thoroughbred horned stock offered at that time and very likely a number of sheep and pigs.

THE N. B. and P. E. I. Conference concluded its labors, at Charlottetown, on Friday of last week, after one of the longest and, in some respects, the most important sessions ever held by that body. A notable feature in connection with this Conference is the effect produced by the introduction of the lay element; fears were entertained that this measure might be attended with, at least, unsatisfactory results, but so far, judging from personal observation as well as from the expressions of the clerical members, experience has proven the reverse to be the case, and it now appears to be very generally admitted that marked and beneficial results, both to conference and denomination, are likely to accrue from the uniting in this deliberative assembly of the clerical and lay element.

The reports presented to Conference, both financial and spiritual were of an encouraging nature; while the net increase in membership during the year has been some six hundred and seventy five; the contributions to all the various church funds have largely exceeded those of the previous year.

There was no result reached in the case of Rev. D. D. Currie; after passing through committee into the court of appeal, a new trial was granted, which will take place in about three weeks, before a committee appointed for that purpose.

The stations in that portion of the Fredericton district in which our readers are chiefly interested have been supplied as follows:—

Woodstock—T J Deinstadt.
Canterbury—To be supplied.
Jacksonville—John C Berrie.
Hartland—A B Calder.
Richmond—I Howie; E Mills, supernumerary.
Florenceville—J K King.
Andover, } John Goldsmith; one wanted.
Arthurette, }
Upper Kent—Thomas Stebbings.
Student at Sackville—Robert Clements.

The next session of Conference will be held at Sackville, on the 3rd Wednesday in June, 1886.

VERY cool and philosophical were the remarks of a Judge in Wyoming Territory to a prisoner on sentencing him to be hanged on a charge of murder, which he, the judge, was not satisfied, from the evidence, had been fully proved against him. He said:—"I am by no means satisfied with the evidence in the case, and am not sure whether you killed John Forbes or whether he died by a visitation of God, but my sentence is that you be hanged on the third Friday of June; and should you know of your own innocence you will have the comforting assurance that it is doubted by some of the wisest thinkers of the age whether life is in any circumstances worth living." This refrigerated philosophy deserves a place among the curiosities of law.

IN Parliament, Ottawa, on the 25th, before the orders of the day were called, the attention of the Government was drawn to the announcement coming from Washington this morning of the fishery treaty between the United States and Canada having been extended until the end of the present year.

While he was not in a position to discuss the question at present, Sir John stated that while the American fishermen would enjoy the privilege of fishing in the waters of the Dominion, all fish exported to the United States from Canada after first July would be subject to duty.

OF Rev. Mr. Deinstadt, who succeeds Rev. Mr. Campbell in the pastorate of the Methodist church here, the Moncton Transcript thus speaks:—

Many people besides Methodists will regret Mr. Deinstadt's removal from Moncton, where he has proved himself a faithful and energetic Christian minister, and won the cordial esteem and friendship of the ministers and people of the other denominations. We wish him and his amiable family much happiness and prosperity in the new sphere of labor to which they will soon remove.

THE Reporter says of Mr. Gibson's new city:—

About one hundred and fifty looms are now in motion in Mr. Gibson's cotton mill and in a few days some of the finest cotton ever manufactured in this country will be placed on the market. Great improvements are noticed about Marysville this season and in a very short time a rushing city will cover the hillside of the Nashwaak within view of the cotton mill. Mr. Gibson has just given orders to the Messrs. Mooney to forthwith commence the erection of eighteen or twenty brick houses. A large number of men are engaged in the manufacture of bricks on the spot, and all the woodwork, including trimmings, is also made there. A half-dozen additional houses will soon be required for the accommodation of employees.

INCIDENTALLY, attention of the County Council was called by Councillor Graham to the fact that county debentures had been sold at the face at 6 per cent., when they should command a premium. The fact is that there are no better debentures put upon the market than those of the Town of Woodstock and County of Carleton, and just now especially they should command a premium such as would reduce the interest to from 4 to 5 per cent.

JOTTINGS

We note that pipes are being laid from the main on Main street to supply the locomotives of the Railway Co. with Town water. Hitherto the supply has been furnished from the well in Connell Bros. establishment.

Connell Bros. have just had printed in pamphlet form a catalogue of a variety of their manufactures in agricultural implements, stoves, shingle machines, saw mills &c., for which they have become widely celebrated.

The County Council of Carleton met, transacted a very considerable amount of business and concluded the semi-annual session on Tuesday.

The ladies of St. Gertrude's Church intend holding their regular yearly picnic on the beautiful grounds adjoining the Roman Catholic church, on Wednesday the 19th August next. The different committees will be shortly at work to make the affair a success. Further particulars will be given in due time by advertisement and other ways.

The members of the Church of England, Centreville, have secured the services of the Monticello Cornet Band for their tea meeting on Saturday, July 11th.

Nothwithstanding the heavy storm prevailing, a very fair audience was present in the basement of the F. C. B. Church, Tuesday evening, to hear Mr. W. G. Gaunce deliver a very interesting lecture on "Some of the interesting things of Paris." We shall not attempt to give any report of the lecture further than to say that it was a vivid description, told in a pleasing manner, of some of the interesting objects which came under the personal observation of the lecturer during his recent visit to Paris, and the lecture as a whole fully sustained the reputation of Mr. Gaunce as being one of our most pleasing and effective platform speakers. S. B Appleby, Esq., occupied the chair.

The Town schools closed on Tuesday for the summer vacation. A number of teachers were made the recipients of gifts from their respective graduating classes. Miss Faulkner received a silver fruit knife; Mrs. Cupples was presented with a silver butter bowl; Miss Sharp, who retires from teaching, was given a mirror, framed in garnet plush; Miss Bull got a book of poems. Mr. McLean was given a copy of Burns' poems, by the Miss Prices, teachers with him in the south side school building.

Rev. G. M. Campbell preaches his farewell sermon, in the Methodist church on Sunday evening.

There will be service, on Sunday, in St. Luke's church at 7.30 p. m.; at Christ Church at 3 p. m., and at St. Peter's, Jacksonville, at 11 a. m.

Rev. Jos. McLeod occupied the pulpit of the F. C. B. Church, on Sabbath last; in the evening his sermon was an able appeal in favor of temperance.

We should have acknowledged before the receipt from Mr. Donald Fraser, of a very fine specimen of oatmeal, ground at the Muniac mills. Taking this as a fair sample of the work done at the mill referred to, there is no wonder that it is so popular with our farmers.

Shaw & Crandlemire, of Hartland, purchased of Robert Kent, East Coldstream, the other day, a beef animal weighing when dressed 1100 lbs.; hide and tallow added, 1300 lbs.

Lt Col. Baird and his son-in-law, Rev. Thos. Marshall, have been in town a part of the week.

The law against trotting over the Meduxnakik bridge here is to be strictly enforced. Make a note of this.

Remember the Grand Concert in Miller's Hall, Glassville, on the 9th inst. See advt.

The members of Hackett L. O. L., Lakeville, intend attending church on Sunday, July 12th, on which occasion a sermon to the Orangemen will be preached by Rev. E. Mills, of Debec.

Dominion Day in this town witnessed no public demonstration of any kind. The races advertised for the occasion had to be postponed on account of the softness of the track caused by the recent heavy rains. This was not only a great disappointment to the sporting men, but was a source of pecuniary loss to the Lessees of the track.

As we go to press we regret to learn of the death of Rev. A. R. B. Sirewsbury, after a brief illness, at his residence, Benton, on Thursday night.

Some papers and a memorandum book, picked up on the street Wednesday; also, an umbrella, picked up in the Park, can be obtained by the owners on calling at this office.

Elder F. A. Baker held services in the Town Hall on Sabbath last.

Big potatoe. Mr. David Jones brought us on Wednesday an Early Rose potatoe, dug from his garden that day, which measured 11 x 9½ inches and weighed within one ounce of a pound.

Services were held by the Holiness brethren in the Town Hall on Dominion Day. Revds. H. N. Brown and G. W. McDonald preached, and there was a good attendance.

The Provincial Synod is now in session at Fredericton.

Revds. G. M. Campbell and G. S. Allen exchanged pulpits on Sabbath morning.

We are glad to notice that Master Charles Appleby is able to be out again, after his long and severe illness.

Mr. C. R Watson's store has been thronged during the week, by ladies deeply interested in the wonderful movements of the Williams sewing machine, operated by Mr. O'Brien. We cannot describe the character of the work done, but merely say the machine seems to possess magical powers, and turns out work of almost any description that can be done with needle and thread, from the coarsest stitching to the finest embroidery.

Chief Engineer Dibblee and 15 men of his fire brigade went down by train on Tuesday night, taking with them a hose cart, to participate in the celebration of the 1st of July at St. John. The hose cart was handsomely decorated; a floral bell, designed by Mr. H N. Black, suspended above the reel, this surmounted by a showy lantern and a profusion of flowers tastefully arranged gave the machine a pretty appearance

The river has suddenly risen to freshet height and the Florenceville which had gone off, has resumed her trips.

Some of the temporary work at the Grand Falls bridge has been carried away, and this, of course, will make some delay in the completion of repairs.

The ladies of St. John's Church, Richmond, are preparing for a Strawberry Festival on the 15th. The ladies of Richmond know full well how to conduct such affairs so as to make them pleasurable for all.

A match game of base ball was played here on Dominion Day between the "Stars" of Woodstock and the Caribou Club. At the close of the ninth inning and the game, the Caribou Club stood one score ahead with one inning to their credit.

The rise of water on Thursday morning carried away a portion of the steamboat wharf here.

Minnie Porter, a girl residing near Eel River, was missed on Monday, 22nd June, and on the latter part of the same week her lifeless body was found in a salmon net at the mouth of Eel river. An inquest was held, when a verdict of suicide was returned.

Jacksonville Items.

June 30, 1885

The examination of the Jacksonville schools, taught by Mr. S D. Alexander and Miss Laura Colpitts was held on Monday 29th inst. There were in the two schools about 40 pupils, the attendance being smaller than usual because of the storm. The visitors present were Trustees, H. Emery and Jas. Good, Rev B N. Nobles, Messrs. J. Harper, Jos. McCready and George Holmes. The scholars showed marked proficiency in the subjects on which they were examined. Arithmetic seems to be a specialty in Mr. A's department. The neatness and despatch with which the various questions were wrought out was pleasing. In grammar the classes gave evidence of thorough teaching. In fact the examination was an excellent exhibit of the knowledge they had of the subjects on which they were examined. There were besides reading, spelling and printing, arithmetic, grammar, geography, Composition, history (Eng. and Can). Time did not permit an examination in other subjects. One young lady from Mr. A's department will attend Normal school the ensuing term. The services of both teachers, who seem to have the good will and confidence of the proprietors are, I believe, to be continued in our midst.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF RACES.

ROMAN, OBSTACLE, DARING, FLAT AND HURDLE RACES, AND CURIOUS ANIMAL CONTESTS.

Among the features to be exhibited this year by the Barnum and London shows will be the four-horse Roman chariot racing, double-team Roman standing racing, exciting male and female jockey racing, huge elephant hurdle racing, camel racing, with real Nubians as riders, dromedary racing, flat races, foot races, running races, wheelbarrow races, comical sack races, giraffe races, monkey jockey races, manhorse races, and the most laughable and humorous of all are those known as the obstacle races. In these latter a number of persons will participate, and the fun will consist in the efforts of the contestants to surmount the numberless impediments and obstacles which have been placed at intervals on the racing track. These obstacles will be cunningly contrived boxes with covers, through which the runners will have to pass first into one head foremost and then out of the next feet first, then to walk a pole laid horizontally, then through swinging barrels, which turn and twist and frequently lay the runner flat on his back in the wrong direction, then over gates, hurdles, greased poles then through the meshes of a large, three sided puzzling trap net, which is a very ludicrous performance, as the runners are floundering around in this net like so many flies caught in a spider's web. After this the runners pass over the three rings and other impediments until the final goal is reached in a state of exhaustion by the racers. To stimulate the contestants Mr. Barnum has arranged a series of cash prizes, all of these new acts are added to the regular exhibition, and performed in three rings and upon a stage, and which is kept complete and intact, the entire 100 acts being given; and the truth is that never in the history of the circus has there been so great and grand an amusement enterprise as the one now presented by the United Barnum, and London Nine Shows, and which comes here on Friday, July 10th, with the great free street parade in the morning at 8 o'clock

HOULTON CAMP MEETING.

THE SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS.

The camp meeting which began here on Thursday, June 25th, is still in progress and will continue till Tuesday morning, July 7th. Of this people the readers of the SENTINEL probably know but little. Their history runs back to 1845 the year following the great Advent movement of 1840-44. They believe in the soon coming of Christ to earth in person but they repudiate the idea that the Bible teaches the exact time of this event. They adopt the literal reading of the fourth commandment of the decalogue and consequently are observers of the seventh day of the week, our Saturday. During the forty years of their experience some thirty-five thousand have adopted their views in the U. S. At Battle Creek, Michigan, the head quarters of their publishing work, they have a large publishing house where over one hundred hands are employed. The aggregate number of copies of weekly and monthly periodicals issued from this office for the past year has been about two millions: these were issued in the Swedish, Danish, German, Norwegian and English languages. At Oakland, Cal, they have another large publishing house, where between eighty and ninety hands are constantly employed in the publishing work. At this office the Signs of the Times, a weekly paper, an able exponent of the views of this denomination, is issued, which has a weekly circulation of about 30,000. Tons of papers, tracts and books are constantly being sent out from these offices to all parts of the world. Other offices of publication they have established at Bale, Switzerland, Christiana, Norway and Southampton, England. At Bale, they issue periodicals in the French, Italian and Roumanian languages, and adherents to their faith are found in every civilized nation on the globe.

Their organization is simple and their churches are formed with no creed but the Word of God; their church covenant being as follows: "We, the undersigned, hereby associate ourselves together as a church, taking the name Seventh-Day Adventist, and covenanting to keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus." The several churches in a State are formed into a State Conference and the various state conferences taken together constitute the General Conference, which has the general supervision of the cause throughout the entire field.

In the summer season camp meetings are held in many of the States, where from a few hundred to twenty thousand people gather to hear, many of them for the first time, the views of this peculiar people. This meeting in Houlton, though the smallest that they will hold this season, is proving of great spiritual advantage to their people in this region. On Sunday last not far from one thousand were present and listened with the best of attention to the views presented. The speakers on the ground are Elders A. O. Burrill and S. J. Hersum, of Maine, Elder E W. Farnsworth, of Iowa, and Elder D. A. Robinson, of Massachusetts. Elder Robinson is a son of the late deacon Asa Robinson, of Brighton, Carleton Co., N. B. The speakers constantly appeal to the Word of God in proof of their positions.

If the weather proves favorable it is expected that a large crowd will gather at the encampment on Sunday next. A train will be run on Sunday, July 5th, if the day is not rainy. The train will leave Woodstock at 7.30 a. m. and return at 5 p. m.

The best of order has prevailed on the ground, and the meetings have been as quiet and free from disturbance as though held in a church. D
