SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD has returned to demonstrations by his friends; after a pleasant tour through the North West and British on his return.

For seven months ending with July last, the imports into the United States amounted to $397,929,825, and the exports to $435, 547,608, showing an excess of exports of $37,-617,783. In the month of July the imports exceeded the exports $1,312,141. But the excess in the seven months stated was in precious metals, the imports of merchandize exceeding the exports by some $4,000,000.

THE law so prolific of good, prohibiting the sale of liquors in the North West Territory has been virtually repealed by the recent action of the Dominion Government in allow ing the C, P. R. to sell liquors in their dinning cars. This will prove but the wedge, we believe, to the entire removal of the restriction regarding the sale of liquor in that country. This is, indeed, a lamentable retrograde movement; one which will be attended with disastrous results to the rapidly increas ing population of the North West, and one which is, we believe in direct opposition to the well understood wishes of a large proportion of the better part of the people of the confederacy. We regret, and cannot but unite with those who censure, this action of our government. It does appear as though governments had but little sympathy with the people in their efforts to free themselves
