Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor. manhood in its strength, and age in its weakness. It breaks the fathers heart, bereaves the doting mother, extinguishes natural affection, erases congenial love, blots out filial attachment, blights parental hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sicknees, not bealth; death, not life. It makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers land with idleness, poverty, disease and crime. riote. It crowds your penitentiaries, and furnishes the victims for your scaffolds. It is the life-blood of the gambler, the aliment of the counterfeiter, the prop of the highwayman and the support of the midnight incenliary. It countenances the liar, respects the spring, helps the bushand to massacre his wife, and aids the child to grind the parricidishonors the statesman, and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor ; terror. not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not more: it murders the soul; it is the sum of
