MAIN STREET,

Woodstock, April 1, 1886.—14

MR. BAIRD, M. P. P., AND THE BUDGET DEBATE.—Mr. Baird said that he had not intended to make a speech, and would not now address the House only that some remarks had been made with reference to his own action. He was pleased to be able to state that in Dominion politics he was a Liberal Conservative. That was no reason why he should not support this government whose general policy so far had been in the best interest of the Province. The remarks of the leader of the opposition in reference to the position of Liberal-Conservatives in the House who support the government are not calculated to help his case. It ill became that hon. gentleman to reflect upon members who had the patronage of this government in the different counties. Under the old administration, if one were to judge by public accounts, Mr. E. L. Wetmore came in for a large share of patronage, which patronage was not expended upon the services of the country but went into his own pocket. He (Baird) stood in a proper position before his constituents. He had been true to the pledge he had made to the electors of his county. He had promised them that in all good measures the local government would have his support, and he declared that he would reserve to himself the right to vote against them on any measure which in his opinion would not be in the best interests of the people. So far he saw no reason why he should not support the government. When he felt that he should do otherwise he would not fail to record his vote in accordance with his opinion. For the information of those members who had not looked into the figures he would place before the House and country some facts in reference to the amounts expended on government house by the old and present government. He would not, like some hon. gentlemen, quote figures and say that he was not quite sure if the sums were correct, but would deal with the different amounts as they appear in the public accounts of the province. The expenditures on government house for the past 13 years have been as follows:

1873	$ 6,273 02
1874	10,347 87
1875	10,237 58
1876	1,687 94
1877	2,910 16
1878	5,094 53
1879	13,341 88
1880	3,185 45
1881	2,872 34
1882	2,795 28
1883	3,396 48
1884	2,133 42
1885	3,580 12

It would, therefore, be seen that the average expenditure on Government House since this government came into power has been $2,959 99. Take the ten years previous and what do we find? An average of $5,284,14, if we do not include the expenditure on account of the Vice Regal visit. Including the Vice Regal visit expenditure, the average is $5,874 60, as compared with the average under this government of $2,959 99. These are unanswerable arguments in themselves and will show whether or not this government are trying to reduce the expenditure on Government House. The house and country must not suppose that the Vice Regal visit cost the province only the sum mentioned in connection with the expenses of Government House. The Board of Works report shows the cost in that direction to have been about $17,000, and yet we are told by the hon. gentleman from Westmoreland that he justifies that expenditure. The latter spoke eloquently on the point, leading the house to believe that even in the face of the present state of the finances of the country, and our limited sources of revenue, he would be in favor of as large an expenditure on a like occasion, notwithstanding the fact that under this government the visit of the Governor General had cost the Province only $240. It was also interesting to know that the Ex-Attorney General also justified the expenditure of such a large sum as $17,000 in connection with the visit of the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise. The opposition sought to make it appear that the cost of the executive government was as great under this administration as under the old. Again he would direct the attention of the house to the public accounts. In 1878 the executive government cost the country $29,921 57; in 1879, $26,210; 1880, $36,227; 1881, $38,360; 1882, $40,246; 1883, $34,315; 1884, $27,971; 1885, $27,206. These figures show an average under the old government of $34,203, and under the present $28,240, or a saving by this administration of $5,943 each year. Dealing with the question of Education he said the present Government has reduced the grant to teachers and the opposition had done their utmost to raise a cry of distress over the length and breadth of the country in consequence thereof, although the late Government had previously forshadowed such a reduction.

When it is borne in mind that the Grant to Education in the year 1882 was $231,362 32 it cannot be denied by any fair minded person but that it became a matter of necessity to reduce that Grant as at the regular rate of increase the School Grant would require our whole revenue. A very large saving had been made in the Crown land department. The travelling expenses under the late Government averaged about $900, while the present Surveyor General only spent $450 per year. That officer had shown good ability in the management of his department. The present Government had saved $2400 on school Inspection, $1800 in reductions of their own salaries $1950 on criminal prosecutions, $900 in Governors secretary and added $2500 per year to the revenue through our fishery leases. In the matter of contingencies there was a saving of $2500 per year. In regard to the amendment to the address, which amendment had been moved with the hope of putting the Liberal Conservative members in a wrong light before the country, the opposition were unable to point to a single instance where this government had used its influence against the Conservative candidates in Dominion elections. The Provincial Secretary has challenged the opposition to show that any money has been expended in the interest of the Liberal candidates, and they have not offered one single proof. The vote of this house satifies the country that no undue influence had been used in the elections referred to. The charge that Liberal Conservatives were playing into the hands of the government was not correct and was very far from being complimentary. It has been asserted by nearly all the speakers on the opposite side that the Government had not been true to their promises of reform which they made while in opposition. He thought he had clearly proven to the satisfaction of the House that they have made an honest effort to reduce the expenses incurred in legislation. The cry has been made that when the country speaks, as it will the coming summer, that they will be defeated. In order to console the opposition he would call their attention to the elections held since 1883—where in every instance the Government had been sustained. He (Baird) had pledged himself to his constituents that he would support the Government that would be the most economical in the management of affairs—as our constantly decreasing revenue and our increasing wants must of necessity require the most rigid economy. When we take into consideration the fact that our interest is now $80,000 and that it will reach $100,000 before our Railway obligations incurred by the late Government are paid, it becomes the duty of every representative who has the welfare and safety of his country at heart to practice economy. When he found this government pushing forward the business of the country; when he found them providing for the different services of the province; when he found that they had actually made a saving of $26,000 a year without injuring the services of the country and when he found them prepared to deal even handed justice to all parties, he had reason to congratulate himself upon the fact that he was one of their supporters; and he had no doubt that at the polls they would be sustained by a splendid majority.

ANY middle aged Farmer who will look back a quarter of a century and contrast the Farm implements in use at that time, with those of the present day, will be surprised at the improvement which has taken place. And no where is this improvement more marked than in the HARROWS. ABOUT a year ago the first Eagle Steam Washer came to Woodstock. It has been followed by hundreds of others which have been scattered over the country not one of which has ever failed to give entire satisfaction when used according to directions. In case any person may have tried one without satisfactory results we have no hesitation in saying that they in some point failed to carry out the directions. In any ordinary family it will save much more than its cost each year in the wear of clothing alone, besides the immense saving of labor, and the minor saving of water, soap and fuel.
