Of the Latest Addition to the comforts of travel by the N. B. Railroad trains are the buffet cars, of which a contemporary thus writes :--

The new buffet parlor cars which have been running on the New Brunswick railway for the past week, must be appreciated by the large number of people who travel over the road, and ere further examples of enterprise for which the management is noted. The care are much better than those formerly used. They run with greater case and are more comfortably fitted. The principal difference is that lunches are served, prepared in the best possible manner in a separate room of the car. This room is at the end of the car and directly behind it is the ladies' toilet room. The gentlemen's saloon is at the other end and next to it is a finely fitted smoking room. There are no drawing rooms on these care, they being for the most part taken up with a finely furnished parlor with comfort. able chairs.
