TAMARAC

Mr J. G. Steacy, general merchant, of Escott Ontario, says: I take great pleasure in recommending "Tamarac Elixir." I Suffered from a severe cough for several months, which was considered incurable, although I tried numerous remedies, and was under the care of a physician for some time. Nothing relieved me until I used "Tamarac." The first dose of "Tamarac" seemed to do me more good than all the medicine I had previously taken. Three bottles effected a perfect cure.

Secretaries of Parish Sunday School Conventions should send a notice of the proposed meetings of their Convention to W. T. Kerr, County Secretary Woodstock, and notice of the meeting will be given in the S. S. Calendar in the SENTINEL and Press.

Victoria Co. S. S. Convention.

The annual session of Victoria County S. S Convention was held in the Methodist Church, Andover, on Tuesday last. In the absence of the president, Robert Watson, V. P. of Bath, occupied the chair. At the opening session in the afternoon the attendance was quite small, but those present manifested much enthusiasm in the work on hand.

The Convention opened with singing, and prayer by Revds. Fisk and Irvine. After the appointment of the credential committee, and their report, which was adopted, the secretary treasurer, Rev. D. Fisk, submitted his report, from which the following statistics for the year are gathered: Number of schools that have reported, 14; officers and teachers, 70; scholars, 416; total membership, 486; money raised for missionary purposes, $18; money expended for S. S. support, $34 69; number of scholars who have been received into the church, 7; evergreen schools, 12.

The nominating committee reported recommending the following list of officers, which was unanimously adopted:—

President, Rev. R. W. Clements; Sec. Treas. Rev. D. Fisk; Asst. Sec., F. C. Bloodworth. Vice-Presidents—Perth, Robt. Watson; Gordon, George Kimber; Lorne, Wm. Everett; Andover, James M. Wright, Grand Falls, W. C. Burpee; executive to appoint vice-president for Drummond.

The following were appointed members of the executive: F. C. Bloodworth, Asa S. Smith, Alex. Walker, G. T. Baird, D. Innis.

Fixing the place of next meeting of Convention was left with the executive.

The committee to arrange for the public meeting in the evening reported, after which convention adjourned.

In the evening, a public meeting was held, in which various important phases of Sabbath School work was discussed. James Watts was called to the chair, and the meeting opened with singing, reading a portion of scripture by the chairman and prayer by Rev. D. Fisk. Good singing interspersed the speeches. The chairman made a brief address, after which he was followed in fervent and telling speeches by S. J. Parsons, G. W. Gaunce, Rev. D. Fisk, Jas. M. Wright, Rev. Mr. Irvine and G. T. Baird, M. P. P. The meeting was an exceedingly interesting and profitable one, and was highly appreciated by the fair audience present. The singing of the Doxology and Benediction by Rev. Mr. Irvine closed a very successful session, the influence of which will be, we doubt not, to arouse a fresh energy in regard to Sabbath School work, in the minds of those present.

N. B. Sunday School Association's Association Convention.

Dear Sirs:—Will you kindly permit me to call the attention of your subscribers who are interested in Sunday School work to the coming convention of the provincial association at St. Stephen on Oct. 10th 12th

The executive committee have been very successful in making their arrangements, and a very large attendance is expected. We have secured the presence of two of the foremost Sunday School workers in the world, Mr. Wm. Reynolds, of Illinois, the President of the International Sunday School convention, which met at Chicago last June, and Mrs. W. H. Crafts whose name is familiar to primary class teachers everywhere. The sessions will be of a practical character and will be largely under the leadership of Mr. Reynolds and Mrs. Crafts.

All pastors of Evangelical churches and superintendents of Sunday schools are ex-officio members of the Convention, and in addition one delegate may be elected from every Sunday school. But while this is strictly the membership, and the local committee cannot promise homes to any others, yet all the Railways and Steamboat Co's., will carry any one attending the convention at the same reduced rates, and arrangements have been made with hotels and boarding houses in St. Stephen and Calais to give accommodation at from $1 00 to $1.50 a day. All who come will be accorded every privilege in the convention, no one who wishes to attend need stay at home.

Mr. Reynolds will spend the Sunday preceeding the convention in St. John. The executive of the County Association are arranging for his reception. He will probably speak in one or more of the city churches, and with Mrs. Crafts will address a mass meeting of Teachers in the afternoon. Delegates who come from the East and North would find themselves amply repaid for their trouble if they would come to St. John on Saturday and attend these meetings on Sunday. Not only Mr. Reynold's official position, but his ability as a speaker makes his visit a welcome one. All the Railways and Steamboat lines will carry visitors and delegates at half fare. In every case but that of the N B. R. R., full fare must be paid in going to the convention and a certificate of having attended, will entitle to a free return ticket. In the case of the N. B. R. R., this certificate is not required and will be of no value, but excursion tickets, at half-fare, will be issued at the office where the delegate takes the train. These are the only tickets that the Company will recognize for the return journey. Those who come by the I. C. R. and N. and W. R. must purchase their excursion tickets at St. John and Fredericton respectively.

The International S. S. Co. will carry passengers from St. John to St. Stephen, via Eastport, for $1.50 and return them free on the certificate of attendance.

With such a rich treat at the convention, such liberal rates of entertainment, such low fares by R. R. & S. S. lines, and such glorious fall weather we expect to see a gathering of S. S. workers such as never before came together in New Brunswick.

Yours sincerely,
T. F. FOTHERINGHAM,
President N. B. S. S. C.

Literary Notices

Following the article on Chili in the last Harper's, the next number will contain one on Costa Rica by the same writer, entitled "The Smallest of American Republics." He says, "Costa Rica was the first discovered of all the countries on this continent, but of its resources the least is known." After referring to its settlement, nearly 400 years ago, by the aged, forlorn Columbus, he describes its present luxuriance of tropical products, and the crude development of its surprising resources in enormous banana plantations, coffee groves, and rubber trees. Vast improvements have been made recently by the immigration of Northern settlers into this land of free fertility. The volcanic nature of the country, which permits only small edifices, seems to be paralleled in the barbaric republican government, which is occasionally upheaved by revolutions. The picturesque phases of life and scenery are represented in copious engravings.

The numbers of The Living Age for Sept 10th and 17th contain Political Assassination, Edinburgh; Prehistoric Surgery, Westminister; A Parson Poet, Church Quarterly; Painting the Scapegoat, Contemporary; The Mystical Side of Wordsworth, National; At Little Gidding, Toussaint L'Overture, and Francis Jeffery, Macmillan; French Society Ninety Years Ago, Temple Bar; Thomas Webster, R. A., by LADY WESTLAKE, Murray's; The Mystical Side of Good Sense and The Curiosities of "Spent" Laws, Spectator; Prisoners of War, Chamber's; Some Etymological Curios, All the Year Round; A New Cosmogony, Nature; A Lesson from the Flowers, Quiver; with instalments of "A Secret Inheritance," "Mr Dangle's Dilemma," and "Olive's Lover," and poetry.

Scribner's Magazine for October has for its leading article a richly illustrated description of "The Paris School of Fine Arts," by Henry O. Avery, who is a graduate of that institution, and therefor writes from abundant knowledge and with true appreciation. This number contains the seventh and concluding instalment of the Thackeray Letters which have so completely won the praise and even the affection of the reading public in this country and England. "French Traits—Sense and Sentiment," by W. C. Brownell, is an admirable essay, showing the same acute critical faculty and clear insight which were notable in the author's study of the French Social Instinct which appeared in the July number of Scribner's. Professor N. S. Shaler contributes another of the notable papers in his series relating to the surface of the earth and allied topics, this time on "Caverns and Cavern Life." The serial story, "Seth's Brother's Wife," by Harold Frederic (which will be concluded in November), contains in this instalment a very strong scene between Milton and Annie. It is evident that the interest in this story is to be vigorously sustained to the very end. Under the title of "In the Village of Vigor," Mr. Duncan C. Scott contributes several charming character-sketches of Canadian village life. The poetry of this number includes a delicate tribute to Thackeray by H. C. Bunner, entitled "On Reading Certain Published Letters of W. M. T.;" a sonnet called "Freedom," by Elyot Weld; and poems by Graham R. Tomson and Charles Edwin Markham.

WHAT WE WOULD DO.—If we wanted to know all about the fashions for Fall, to see the best designs for the new styles, to learn the most practical methods of making up Fall goods, or to read of the latest events that have taken place in woman's world of fancy-work or artistic effort, we would read from the first page to its last the October number of Godey's Lady Book. It is gratifying to know that the ladies of America have been making a special run on this popular and valuable magazine since it has been under its present management. Mrs. Croly, whom the world knows as "Jenny June," has put into it a large amount of her native magnetism and sparkle. In addition to matters which concern fashion and home, the literary articles which help to fill the October number are of rare merit and solid value. The poetry, the music, and the artistic illustrations are such as every intelligent lady will prize. The new inducements to subscribers and to those who raise clubs are just now particularly worthy of attention. The price of the magazine is only two dollars a year. Write to the Croly Publishing Co., Philadelphia Pa.

The frontispiece of the October Century is a stricking portrait of Harriet Beecher Stowe, engraved by T. Johnson from a photograph by Sarony. This portrait is apropos of a paper by James Lane Allen, entitled "Mrs. Stowe's 'Uncle Tom' at Home in Kentucky," which recounts the life of the Kentucky slave of the old time, in a series of typical scenes, pointing out some considerations which it is thought should qualify Mrs. Stowe's point of view. The illustrations, by Mr. Kemble, drawn from life, reproduce characteristically the epoch which Mr. Allen describes. A sketch is also given of the mistress of that time and her round of duties.

The paper in the series on "English Cathedrals" is this month devoted to Ely. "The American Game of Foot Ball" is the subject of a paper by Professor Alexander Johnson of Princeton College, in which the development of the Rugby game on this side of the Atlantic is described, and interesting aspects of the game are considered. "The Hundredth Man," by Mr. Stockton, reaches its conclusion in the present number with a denouncement which will be some what of a surprise to many readers. The third and last part of Mr. Harris's novelette, "Azalia," is also given. The short story of the number is by John Heard, Jr., a new name in magazine literature, and is entitled "Through the Flames," suggests the heroic character of the story. The Lincoln History consists of a concise recital of the Secession Movement as exhibited in Congress, in the Cabinet of Buchanan, and in correspondence of the Southern leaders. The papers in the War Series consists of "Marching Through Georgia and the Carolinas" by Captain Daniel Oakey; "Sherman's March from Savannah to Bentonville," by General Henry W. Slocum; and "The Battle of Bentonville," by General Wade Hampton: these papers presenting a graphic view of Sherman's operations after Atlanta, which is reenforced by a number of interesting pictures, many of which are from war-time photographs or sketches. In "Topics of the Time" are editorial articles entitled "Soldier and Citizen," "Personal Records of The War," "The Last Hope of the Mormons," "The Jury System," and "Shall Immigration be Restricted?" There are "Open Letters" on "Christian Union and Baptism," by Rev. Herbert H. Hawes; Christian Union and Pending Public Questions," by Rev. William Chauncy Langdon; and a note on "Secret Societies in College," by the Rev. Charles S. Robinson.

The October Number of Harper's Magazine is wonderfully rich with drawings by Abbey, Frost, Pyle, Reinhart, Fenn, Gibson, Du Maurier, and copies of Sargent's paintings. The writers for this Number are also a brilliant galaxy, comprising Henry James, Kate Field, E. C. Steadman, Miss Woolson, Blanche Willis Howard, Rebecca Harding Davis, Amelie Rives, Bishop Hurst, besides the novelists Howells and Miss O'Meara, and the department editors, George William Curtis, Charles Dudley Warner, and others. The opening article, "Our Summer's Outing," is an autobiographical story by Kate Field, telling the comical and exasperating experiences of a vacation party in a central New York village. Whither's "Love Song" provides a delicate text for nine exquisite pictures by Edwin A. Abbey, one of which is the frontipiece. The smallest of American Republics (Costa Rica) is interestingly described by the author of the article on Chili in the last Number, with an abundance of illustrations. The fourth part of Mrs Davis's article, "Here and There in the South," penetrates into the bayou region of Louisiana, and gives opportunity for many beautiful drawings by W. H. Gibson. Blanche Willis Howard's bright novelette, "Tony, the Maid," is concluded, and Reinhart furnishes the illustrations. The Easy Chair converses in charming style about Thackeray as a snob, the new regime at Niagara, car-window morals, and Buffalo Bill in England. The Drawer is opened with an essay from Charles Dudley Warner on Conversation, and contains, among other good things, an illustrated poem by "Jacop Strauss" and a page by Du Maurier.

The Housekeeper for October will contain a full account of the wedding of the manageress of that paper, in the Minneapolis, Minn., Exposition, on the evening of September 27, together with accurate descriptions and illustrations of the participants' wedding dresses and presents. A copy of this issue will be mailed free to any of our lady readers sending their address to the Buckeye Pub. Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The Shoninger Piano.

From the Music Trade Review, August 20, 1887: "The B. Shoninger Co, New Haven, Conn., have just received the Silver Medal, first prize, awarded for best piano, finish and tone, at the last Western New York Fair, held at Rochester. The Shoninger Piano is decidedly meeting with great favor all over the country, and it must certainly contain excellent qualities to gain and maintain such a reputation as it enjoys at the present time. Below we give an extract from a prominent newspaper, and also one from a letter written by a dealer,

AN EXPERT PIANIST'S OPINION.

Mr. Arthur Freeze selected for us at his recital of classical music, last evening, a magnificent Shoninger cabinet grand (upright) piano. Musicians who had never heard this make of instrument (and it is comparatively new to Scranton), were surprised to hear from an upright grand all the power and qualities of a full concert grand piano.—Scranton Republican, Tuesday, July 26.

EXTRACT FROM A LETTER.

B. SHONINGER Co.: I enclose a programme and notice of recent piano recital and concert given at our Music Rooms on the Shoninger Upright (Style 13). The pianist of the evening, Mr. Arthur Freeze, was charmed with your Piano, which he used in preference to anything we had in the store (and we have several of the leading makes). Mr. Freeze is a German, a graduate of Berlin and Leipzig conservatories, and but a short time in this country, so his selection and preference were unbiased and impartial. Very truly yours,

PROF. GEO. NOYES ROCKWELL.

The above Pianos and their celebrated mouse-proof Organs are sold by ALFRED LETTS, Woodstock, who will forward Catalogue Prices on application. 1m-38

Manufactured by M. MOODY & SONS, has been in use in this County for a number of years, and is generally admitted to possess more points of excellence than any other machine in the market. I append a testimonial from one of our leading farmers which is but one of the many in my hands.

A Comparison.

George N. Clark, Woodstock, N. B: Dear Sir—In reply to your enquiry as to how I like the Grey Thresher which I purchased from you last fall. I can say that I am much pleased with it. My brother and I bought the first Little Giant which ever came into this province. It was made for a sample machine and was the best one I ever saw. We ran it five seasons, and I have therefore a right to know something about a thresher. I find I can get as much power from the Grey as I could from the Giant with four inches more elevation, and consequently the labor of the team is much less with the Grey than the Giant. The separator being wider, gives more room to separate the grain from the straw, and I can thresh sixty bushels per hour without wasting any more grain than the Giant would do when threshing forty bushels in the same time. The machine is to all appearances strong and well made and I like it very much.

Yours truly,
BROCK VAIL,
Jacksonville, Carleton Co., N. B

I expect a shipment of the above machines in a few days which will be sold on favorable terms at my warehouse, Main St, Woodstock, or by my various agents throughout the country.

LAST CHANCE !

This is the last chance this season to get nice, new, fresh Flour, ground from OLD WHITE WINTER WHEAT; as flour ground from NEW WHEAT will not give good satisfaction till about the 1st Dec

It is the general experience of women, that flour during the Autumn months, is what they term runny and dark in the color; this is owing to the flour being ground from new wheat.

I have secured a choice lot of "Crown of Gold" and "Star" flour in barrels and half barrels shipped at the mill the 25th July and has just arrived, which I will sell at a small advance on Cost.

— ALSO A GOOD SUPPLY OF —

Sugar, Salt, Cornmeal, Oatmeal Graham Flour, Tea, Coffee, Spices, Soda, Starch, Canned Goods, Tapioca, Maccaroni, Broma, Chocolate, Cocoa, Gelatine, Desiccated Cocoanut, Corn Starch, Pickles in barrels and bottles, Worcester Sauce, North of England Sauce, Ketchup, Horse-Radish, etc.

Oranges and Lemons.

Crockery, China, and Glassware!

In Tea, Dinner, and Toilet Sets, also in pieces to suit Customers, in endless variety. Stone Churns, Crocks, Jugs, Jars, Pitchers, etc.

To arrive, a splendid assortment of preserve jars.
