ST. JOHN LITTER.

Hamilton Gibson, in Pastoral Days speaks thus of early May: "The month of May is the month of the year when the white and yellow flowers of the sea of daisies, with here and there a floating path of crimson daisies, or a golden bed of buttercups, in King's Square the grass grows very green and the winds are come from the Bay, and in the space that is between the Bay and the city, it is almost over the debris of that awful day, and is here and there interspersed with tiny golden flowers, that show us with poignant nature's hasten to hide her deformities. A stroll through these parts of the city which have not been rebuilt demonstrates the fact that the world is always renewing its youth; that a hundred years are sufficient to obliterate all traces of the ordinary work of the hands of man. Some years ago the writer had occasion to visit the little hamlet of Louisbourg, Cape Breton, where once stood one of the largest, best fortified and proudest cities of Acadia. Where the city stood a forest had grown up, its late might have been like the fate of Louisbourg a hundred years hence. Those pastures and roses alone remain of the aristocratic city of Louisbourg. They are like memories of the kindly words and acts of dead and buried friends.

SCROFULA

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is as equal as a cure for Scrofula. It is pleasant to take, gives strength, purifies the blood, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used.

For forty years I have suffered with Scrofula, and have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and ruined my system. I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in a few months, I was completely cured.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any other medicine I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Rheumatism, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for Catarrh, and for all the ailments of the blood.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1.00 per bottle.

Mr. Palmer's Rise to Explain.
To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
I would just say, in reply to Mr. Brooks, if it was a mistake I made with regard to the value of Mr. Sherwood's farm, I obtained it from Mr. Sherwood's own lips; he told me that the farm was worth $100,000, and that $4,000 was their price. If Mr. Sherwood has concluded to make a sacrifice in the sale of his farm in order to have the money to use for the benefit of the poor, I am not at all surprised. Mr. Brooks says he is willing to accommodate me by paying the value of the farm at $100,000, when it is worth at least $1,000,000. Mr. Brooks says he is willing to accommodate me by paying the value of the farm at $100,000, when it is worth at least $1,000,000.
