RAMBLER IN WESTMORLAND COUNTY.

Situated beside the Intercolonial Railway and at a distance of 117 miles from St. John, is the little town of Dorchester, the shire town of the noble county of Westmorland and a place which during late years has become familiar by name to newspaper readers

Thompson 29 Warrea Ave., Beston Mass. Orin M. Grant Wm. Glidden, Woodstock Situated beside the Intercolonial Railway throughout the Province. Having had occasion to visit it during the past week the thought occurred to me that perhaps an account of what I there saw and learned might not prove uninteresting to the readers of the SENTINEL, so acting upon that impression am led to contribute this sketch to your col-

A very quiet little place it is, one main street upon which are its two hotels, its public buildings and its business stands. The place boasts of four fine churches and a very handsome and large brick court house which a very are the brick court house which 9 years ago was the scene of the most famous trial that ever came before criminal courts of New Brunswick, viz., the celebrated McCarthy mystery. On wandering through the town and its outskirts one cannot fail to notice the many handsome residences with their finely decorated grounds which gives the place an air of unpretentious prosperity. Chief among these are the residence and grounds of Lady Smith, widow of the late Sir Albert, the grounds ranking among the most beautiful of any of the private residences in the Province.

Standing upon the hilltop and looking around the landscape is such as could not but produce a favorable impression upon any one who has an eye for the beautiful. At his feet lies the town in all its cosy comfort, and raising his eyes and letting them wander westward the spectator sees the broad marsh stretching for miles from north to south and through which meanders the Memramcook stream appearing like a silvery streak set in stream appearing like a silvery streak set in an emerald ocean. Farther away to the west and bounding the view are seen the bold and to which I invite the inspection of the Fine New Goods! Low Prices

And bounding the view are seen the bold heights of Albert County, and towering high above them all appears the outline of Snipody Mountain which, by the way, is our English corruption of its expressive Acadian name, Chapeau Dieu (God's Cap). To the north stretches the marsh as far as the eye can reach, and in the distance can be seen the Chapeau Blankets and Blanketings. G. W. VANWART'S

In the distance can be seen the Church and in the distance can be seen the Church and College of St. Joseph at Memramcook, and the roofs of the thrify "Acadian farmer's" dwellings. To the south Shepody Bay is hidden from view by the heights of Dorchester Cape. Viewed as it was by me in the golden sunlight of a September day the prospect must indeed have been as fair as Whittier's "garden of the Lord," and I could not held thinking that there were lots of Province.

Stretches the marsh as far as the eye can reach, and in the distance can be seen the Church and in the distance can be seen the Church and Blankets and Blankets and Plushes in all shades, Flannels, gray and scarlet, gray cotton, Tick, Denims, one case Scotch Tweeds, one case Canadian Tweeds, one case HOMESPUNS.
