Beauty

Is desired and admired by all. Among the things which may best be done to enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of the hair, this preparation gives it a lustre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, dry, or turning gray,

Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation in the market.

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

"My [illegible] was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmittou, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill.

Communicated,

Declare Your Intentions.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

In January last, our County Councillors passed a resolution asking legislation for power to donate $1500 00 of the people's money for the erection of an exhibition building to cost $3,000. When the bill was before the Legislative Council it was amended and not to come into operation until after the next municipal election to be held in October next. In the meantime it would be well for those who seek to represent the people in the Council to inform themselves, and, at the hustings, enlighten the electors how much their taxes have increased the last few years, and, in addition to the taxes indirectly imposed by the Local Government, whether the people can bear an additional burden proposed to be put on by our councillors. This is a question worthy the consideration of the electore, who would do well, before voting for any candidate, to know from them what their intentions are in reference to the matter. Thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain, yours,

AN ELECTOR.

Wicklow, Car. Co., Sept., 1888.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7th, 1888.

The Chinese question is uppermost this week. It is generally believed that the treaty has been rejected, although the State Department has just received a telegram from the United States Minister to China, saying that he has no positive information on the subject. The unofficial news was good enough for the House; Representative Scott prepared a short and sharp restrictive bill and promptly railroaded it through the House without a division, and when it got over to the Senate some of the Senators wanted to rush it right through in the same way, but fortunately for the good name of the country, more conservative counsel prevailed and the Senate contented itself by passing a resolution introduced by Mr. Sherman requesting the President to inform the Senate whether the recent treaty with China has been ratified by that government. This would have been the proper course for the House to have taken in the first place, but no member of either party seems to have had nerve enough to make the suggestion. We can certainly afford to wait until we get the official news of the rejection of the treaty before passing a law which will abrogate a treaty now in existence.

The members of the House are all anxious to get home, therefore it was not surprising that the resolution fixing the 20th instant for adjournment was received with general applause by the House. The members wanted to vote on the resolution at once, but the speaker referred it to the committee on ways and means, where it will probably remain until the Senate shows whether it is in earnest about passing the substitute for the Mill's bill, which is to be reported next week. The democratic leaders of the House, while anxious to get away, do not believe it would be good politics to take the initiation in the matter of adjournment. They will leave that for the republican Senate. This is presidential year, you know, and politics enter into everything.

To use the language of the street, the republicans have got into the democratic racket of fighting the trusts, and are now trying to outdo them in introducing bills against those obnoxious concerns. But unfortunately for the people, there is little probability, if any, of the bills becoming law until after the election. Trusts are wealthy, and they are also liberal contributors to the campaign funds.

The debate in the House on the Canadian Retaliation bill shows that the republicans are too smart to oppose the granting to the President of all the authority he wants, although they all took occasion to express the opinion that Mr. Cleveland would not make use of the additional authority after he got it, and inasmuch as the fishing season is over for this year, they are probably right. There will be no occasion for retaliation, but there will be no harm done by passing the bill. It will have a good effect on the Canadians.

Both parties have opened offices in this city receive contributions to the campaign funds to of their respective parties. By the way, it is said that Cleveland's $10,000 contribution was a "fake."

There are rumors among the democrats that Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance will contain matter that will make a great sensation, but the most persistant inquiry has so far failed to discover of what nature the sensatiou is to be.

The republicans are greatly elated over their gains in Vermont. They are now claiming every northern State.

If all the democrats were as confident of success as Mr. Cleveland is, there would be no doubt about the result.

LITERARY NOTICES.

The September Wide Awake opens with a jolly story of the Harrison Campaign of 1840; it is by Mrs. F. A. Humphrey, a personal reminiscence, entitled "Two Conspirators," and illustrated by Smedley. Another seasonable story, and very amusing, is "Ned's Base-Ball Club" by Mary C. Crowley. Still another, delicious in its fun, is "Jermicky's Sacrifice," by Mrs. Katharine B. Foot. "A Little Lombard Hero" is a touching Italian story by Edmund de Amicis, translated by a little friend of his, Miss Marcia Thouay, daughter of the American consul at Turin. Miss Risley Seward has an entertaining paper, "An Abyssinian Monkey," narrating her adventures with him, and how he became the property of Senator Evarts, and eventually found a home in the Zoological Gardens at Central Park. There is a beautiful article for young painters entitled "Summer Lanes;" it is by Miss Mabel Robinson, and fully illustrated by famous landscapes by Constable, Corot, Diaz, Hobbema and Bellini. The serials are very interesting: in Mrs. Crowninshield's training-ship story, "Plucky" and "Pandy" have a rather damp experience with the life-buoy; and in Mrs. Sherwood's "Double Roses" both Phyllis and Wilhelmina show the best qualities in their natures. There is an excellent article on Daniel Defoe by Oscar Fay Adams, and another on the odd people of Corea by Mrs. Leonowens. Wide Awake is $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Publishers, Boston, Mass.

The September issue of The American Magazine is a noteworthy one. In addition to an interesting and varied collection of choice literary features, are two forcible articles on questions of the day—one on "The President's Error," by James G. Blaine, and the other by Governor Foraker, on "Tariff and Labor." Mr. Blaine takes Mr. Cleaveland severely to task for many of the assertions made in his message of last December, and Governor Foraker handles his subject in his usual clear style. The Magazine opens with a finely illustrated article on "The American Navy of To-day," by Lieutenant Wm. F. Fullam, U. S. N. Another interesting article is entitled "Rambles about Naples," and is illustrated with choice views of famous Italian scenery. Charles Burr Todd contributes a charming paper on "Hiawatha's Country," which is rendered the more valuable by illustrations of the famous "Pictured Rocks," and other features of interest to the readers of Longfellows beautiful poem. The September installment of Mary Agnes Tinckers' novel "Two Coronets," is particularly brilliant. The Departments are, as usual, very complete. Dr. Hutchinson gives some valuable health advice for September. Literature and Book Reviews receive special treatment. Timely Topics, Home Department, and the American Pulpit are all filled with interesting matter, and the Portfolio is this month devoted to an amusing sketch.

An unfamiliar face greets the reader in the frontispiece of the September Century, that of Edward Thring, the late Head-Master of the Uppingham Grammar School, England. This is a compliment paid to an educator pure and simple. Mr. Thring has been said to have been, since Arnold of Rugby, the most esteemed educator of England. George R. Parkin's illustrated article on Uppingham describes "an ancient school worked on modern ideas." The pictures are by Joseph Pennell and Irving R. Wiles. This is, in fact, an educational number of The Century. Other articles on this subject are "The Industrial Idea in Education," by Charles M. Carter; "The University and the Bible," by T. T. Munger; "Women who go to College," by Arthur Gilman; and a profusely illustrated paper on "College Fraternities," by John Addison Porter. In addition to these, readers will find an "Open Letter" by President Seelye of Amherst on the same subject of "College Fraternities"; also an "Open Letter" on "Art Education," by W. J. Stillman, and two editorials have to do with teaching. Other articles in this number are a continuation of the Life of Lincoln; George Kennan on "Exile by Administrative Process"; A. C. Gordon on "Hard Times in the Confederation"; Professor Holden's concluding article on "Sidereal Astronomy"; an illustrated article by Mrs. E. S. Starr on "Doves"; and "Bird Music," by S. P. Cheney, father of the poet. The stories and sketches of the number are a continuation of Mr. Janvier's "A Mexican Campaign"; an illustrated story by James Lane Allen, the scene of which is laid in the monastery described by him in the August number of The Century; and Mrs. Roseboro's sketch entitled "The Mountaineers about Montesagle."

Call at R. B. Porter & Co.'s and see the new Sateens and Cambrics.

Hon. John Costigan

At a political gathering in Ontario last week, said Canadians had no reason to fear the result of the President's message. He considered it merely a political dodge. He was glad to hear the sentiments of Canadian nationality expressed that afternoon. He was a Roman Catholic of Irish origin, but he was a Canadian. (Cheers.) He did not think all distinctions of race and creed could be blotted out in this country, but we could get along so well that we might forget those distinctions. (Hear, hear.) There was nothing he despised more than bigotry and sectional feeling. In his boyhood days in the village where he lived there was neither Protestant nor Roman Catholic church, the priest who visited them every week would erect an altar and say mass in his (Mr. Costigan's) father's house, and later in the day where the Catholic altar had stood the Protestant clergyman would minister to his flock. (Applause.) That was the spirit he would like to see pervading the hearts of Canadians; and when days of trial came all would be found standing shoulder to shoulder against the common foe. (Cheers).

Don't forget to go to R. B. Porter & Co.'s and secure some of the great bargains they are offering.

Mr. Blaine on Canada.

Mr. Blaine, at Calais, was pleased to say: "I have nothing whatever to say against the Dominion of Canada as a government, nor against its inhabitants. The Dominion of Canada is an energetic and a strong government. There are able and clever men at the head of it. They have done a wonderful work and they have made wonderful progress, and I don't believe there is a citizen of the United States from one end of the country to the other that envies the people of the Dominion all the prosperity they may obtain."

Ladies, our new Dress Goods and Cloakings are just being opened. Call and see them. R. B. Belyea & Co.'s.

A Valuable Purchase.

Says the Bangor Commercial:—"Messrs. H. Stevens & Co., of Fort Fairfield, have recently purchased the valuable water power on Salmon river on the east side of the St. John, about eight miles below Grand Falls and three miles from Limestone station on the New Brunswick Railroad. They have bought 100 acres of land, mills, several dwellings, stables, barn, blacksmith shop, etc., and will improve it immediately. Stevens & Co. have also secured control of a large tract of excellent cedar land, affording an inexhaustive supply of lumber."

Handsome Patterns in Cloakings, all shades, at R. B. Belyea & Co.'s.

No Party.

The Toronto Globe says:—

We will stand by the present or any other Ministry in all temperate courses to uphold Canada against unprovoked American aggression. No doubt Liberals will approve this promise on our part. But they will not approve Jingo bluster or 'courting of Retaliation.' No more will the majority of Conservatives. Canadians, without distinction of party, will stand by their country if unjustly attacked, and will reprobate the madness of Ministers who may court attack.

At the sitting of the Dublin Commission on the 6th inst., Mr. Justice Murphy was presented with a pair of white gloves, there being no case for trial. The Judge said there was no precedent for this within the last quarter of a century.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites

Is very palatable and much better than the plain oil. Dr. W. H. Cameron, of Halifax, N. S., says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites for the past two years and found it more agreeable to the stomach, and have better results from its use than any other preparation of the kind I have ever tried." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

The Customs officers at Queenstown, on the 13th ult, arrested Delia Moriarty, of Kerry, passenger from New York, because she had a revolver and twenty ball cartridges concealed in her bustle.

Confidence Begot of Success.

The confidence possessed by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in their ability to cure the worst cases of nasal catarrh, no matter of how long standing, is attested in a most substantial manner by their standing reward of $500, offered for many years past, for an incurable case of this loathsome and dangerous disease. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents. It is mild, soothing, cleansing, deodorising, antiseptic and healing.

Mr. Parnell was born at Avondale, in Co. Wicklow, in 1846. He is a descendant of Parnell, the poet, and his family have been associated with Irish Parliamentary life for upwards of a century.

MAITLAND, ONT., February 26, 1880.

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son & Lawrence, Montreal.

I have much pleasure in adding to the number of the numerous testimonials you have already received, as to the value of your renowned Pain-Killer. I have sold it and used it in my family for twenty years or more, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the best patent medicine I have ever used for the purposes for which it is recommended; and moreover, every person to whom I have sold it, has been perfectly satisfied with it, and I know many persons who will not go to bed at night unless they are sure there is a bottle of "Perry Davis" in the house. All who have used it once, will use it again; it makes friends and retains them.

Yours truly,

JOHN DUMBRILLE, druggist.
