MR. GAUVET, M. P. from Nicolet, Quebec, is dead.

It has been announced in Parliament that there will be no revision of the federal voters lists this year.

REV. MR. LONGLEY, of Toronto, protests his innocence and asks an investigation at the hands of the Conference.

ARTHUR SWELL, president of the Maine Central, has been elected a director of the New York and New England Railway Co.

The many deaths occurring among members of Parliament naturally provoke much comment and excitement as to the causes of such mortality.

SOME of the Western cities pension their public school teachers after certain years of service, and the principle is becoming more and more popular.

Much excitement has been occasioned in Ireland, and, indeed, among home rulers generally, by the announcement that the Pope has donated the sum of £150,000.

FRUIT $500,000 to $750,000 of damage was done to the market garden section around Norfolk, Va., by a frost last week. Fruit in other parts of the State was also badly damaged.

A window of the palace in Berlin, recently, three Queens might have been observed there were Victoria of England, Victoria of Prussia, and Augusta queen dowager of Prussia.

JAMES SHALLEY, of Licking, Mo., crazed through fear that his family would go to the poorhouse, out of the heads of his two children, attacked his wife who escaped and then cut himself so that he died to death.

ROBT. REV. LEON BOWLAND, who, says the New York Charlatan, was a distinguished priest, has renounced his allegiance to the Roman hierarchy and applied for admission to the Protestant Episcopal Church in New York.

QUEEN VICTORIA has been greeted by popular welcome of most enthusiastic character at Berlin and other cities of Germany during her visit to her daughter and son-in-law. In said there was a striking contrast in this reception with that of the Czar by the people of Berlin.

At the Massachusetts general hospital, Boston, recently, a woman aged 56 years had her entire tongue amputated, this operation having become necessary owing to the formation of an ulcer. According to the Boston Globe, the woman has not suffered materially, and, strange to say, is able to talk as to be understood nearly as well as ever.

Lost.

A division was reached on Sir Richard Oortweg's amendment to the motion to go into supply on Monday night, when the vote stood for 60 against 117. Mr. Hale voted against the amendment.

Congratulations.

The SENTINEL offers congratulations to H. D. McLeod, Esq., superintendent of the southern division of the N. B. Railway, on his marriage to Mrs. Macdonald of Hampton, which event occurred last week.

Retirement.

We regret to notice by St. John papers that Mr. J. F. Leavitt, who has for some time been general passenger and ticket agent of the N. B. R. at St. John, has been compelled owing to continued ill health to resign that position.

It is stated that Mr. O. B. Heath from the Fitchburg railway, succeeds Mr. Leavitt.

A Hero Welcomed.

Sullivan the great having returned to Boston, the return was made the occasion for a grand reception by it should be remembered, that class, probably, who might be expected to have sympathy with such as Sullivan. But according to the papers one might suppose that the entire community was aroused to do him honor. The New York Sun sarcastically remarks:—

With all the enthusiasm with which ancient Athens welcomed home her great warriors, does modern Athens, under Bonker Hill, greet the return of her chief slayer.

Anatomical Discovery.

It is stated that a young doctor of Boston, W. S. Bryant, has made a singular and important discovery in anatomy. The newspaper statement is that it has profoundly impressed the few scientists who have heard of it. He has found that the portal veins of very young infants exist valves which disappear as the child grows to years. These valves are found in the portal veins of the lower animals, but science makes no mention of their existence in children. Dr. Bryant's discovery is important in that it offers one more proof of the truth of the evolution theory.

A Change.

A year ago, says a recent writer, being in Paris he saw, in a private box at a theatre, two ladies bedecked with diamonds and fanned with flowers, the epitome of all eyes. They were Mrs. Mackay, the wife of the millionaire and her daughter, and in them he recognized his boarding house keeper of 18 years ago, in Virginia city, and her child at that time a little girl, now the wife of an Italian prince. In 18 years the then young widow who disappeared carried beef and cabbage in Miner's plates has become a prominent feature in society in Europe and America and entertains the first people, including scores of royalty.

Mr. Hawke's Sentence.

Mr. Hawke, of the Montreal Transcript received his sentence last Saturday; it was two months imprisonment in jail and a fine of $200. Having already asserted his right to press his own dignity, the court might very well have been satisfied with lecturing Mr. Hawke and releasing him. The court affirms that the object in asking Mr. Hawke to reply to certain interrogatories was to give him an easy way of escape from further penalty; Mr. Hawke did not understand the matter and refused to criminate himself at the command of the court, which he considered "obnoxious." The result is that by an entirely too severe punishment Mr. Hawke becomes a martyr in the view of the public, and the court, in consequence, does not stand as high in public estimation as it would had a different course been pursued. Criticism of judicial action by the press will not be restrained in the future; nor should proper criticism be restrained.

The fact that in this case the Bench was really at one with the prosecution, and that it was a fact that influenced the public to large sympathy with the condemned and increased the general disappointment in the sentence which is so much more severe than any one anticipated. It is very evident that the press at large is aroused to a sense of the importance that some legal provision should be made for its protection against arbitrary and irresponsible judgment.

Tearful Occasion.

It must have been an impressive, as it was a tearful occasion, when in the House of Commons, the venerable Premier, having referred to the motion the House adjourned out of respect to the Hon. Thos. White then deceased, was so overcome by his emotions as to be unable to utter a word and make back into his chair in tears, while representatives all over the chamber were similarly moved and in tears gave vent to their feelings. Such a scene in such a place spoke well for human nature.

Another Victim.

We find in the Windsor Daily Star, published at New City, Kansas, the following reference to a former Carletonian. We tender congratulations:—

The marriage of Dr. W. M. Johnston and Miss Farnsworth occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, in Bazine, last Tuesday at 4 o'clock p. m. Rev. F. A. Goodrich officiated. A. B. Payne was groomsmen and Miss King of this city was bridesmaid. The bride was dressed in white. The wedding cake presented us. We offer our congratulations to the happy couple.

Railway Telegraphers.

A Division of the Order of Railway Telegraphers was formed in St. John last week. D. W. Newcomb, of St. John, was elected C. T. T. E. Smith, Woodstock, A. C. T. W. E. Sully, Carleton Place, and W. F. Noble, McAdam, S. T. Charles Colkin, McAdam, J. T. T. Murphy, Woodstock, I. S. James Gilliland, O. S. C. W. Manzer, Deben, P. C. T. It is contemplated to hold alternate meetings of the Division at Woodstock.

The gentleman of this profession are, as a rule, highly intelligent, and a combination like the above, intended to elevate the profession and promote fraternal feeling, should prove useful and successful.

A Fine Piece of Work.

D. A. Grant & Co. have just turned out from their establishment a model piece of work in the shape of a biggest carriage built to the order of J. P. Dixon. It is at once handsomely and daintily proportioned and strongly and thoroughly built throughout. All the details whether in the wood work, ironing, upholstery or painting were done to have been carefully done, reflecting credit on the firm who manufactured it and their employees. The wheels are of best second growth hickory with steel tires; the axles are of best tempered steel and body is of whitewood throughout, while the cushions are an entirely new departure being a spring and air cushion combined, the first of the kind made in Canada. It is a carriage which those who drive much will appreciate. The lettering on the body side is admirably executed.

Presentations.

At its regular session last week, the W. C. T. U. presented Mrs. Thomas Harrison, who had been an active member of the Union from its start, and who was about to remove from the town, with a very complimentary address, accompanied with a handsome volume of the True Bible and a beautiful picture of the Virgin Mary. Mrs. Harrison made a touching reply. On Sunday afternoon at the close of the Sunday School in the Methodist Church, Mrs. Harrison, who for 18 years had been a faithful and able teacher in the school, was called forward when the Superintendent, C. L. Smith, presented her with an elegant address from the officers and teachers of the school and the members of Mr. H. S. class, and a beautifully gotten up Teacher's Bible. Mrs. Harrison was deeply moved, and in her whole school as she listened to her feelings and words of farewell.

At the same time Miss Nettie Harrison was presented by her teacher, Mrs. Manzer, with a beautiful book, and a handsome address, a souvenir in the shape of an interesting book.

Base Ball.

The first match of the season was played on the College grounds last Saturday morning between the College base ball club and a picked nine, the latter winning by a score of 30 to 24 and an innings to spare. Although the game was large and well contested, and the larger nine did play hard to win, the picked nine will play to win. The picked nine will play to win. The "Hot Rooster" played, and a very interesting game of ball from the "Young Outlaws" last week. There were some juvenile and some professional players. The secretary of last year's Woodstock base ball club, John P. Maloney, received on Thursday a letter from Detective King, St. John, on behalf of the management of the Shamrock base ball club, offering good terms to the Woodstock team for to open the season's play with the Shamrocks in St. John on 24th May. The secretary was compelled to decline the game on that date. Although the local team is said to be satisfied with the record they have made in previous seasons, we regret to think that the probabilities are the club will be non est in the base ball arena this season. When obstacles are encountered with as well as on side a nine, it is pretty difficult to put a team in the field at all, and especially so in small cities.

That Fatal Accident.

Referring to the sad accident last week, by which the life of the little girl (Surrell) was sacrificed, and which we had last time briefly made mention of in last issue, we would add that an inquest was held the morning after the accident by Coroner W. H. Hay, the following comprising the jury: David M. Stephenson, Richard Cliff, Geo. W. Bridges, James O. Milmore, John Brown, John H. H. H. and Walter Smith.

Alfred Lett testified to hearing the building fall, and seeing children running there; he had been to the ruins he found the deceased lying with a beam across her thigh, and failed in rescuing her.

Mr. Lett testified to being called to see the injured child, and that a dead young in the lower part of the abdomen, which appeared as though it had been made by a nail or splinter, and also a more serious wound in the chest, he thought her head broken, but did not examine her closely as it was the law of the land, yet any one who caused her pain, and the prospect was that she could not recover.

D. A. Grant testified that he had considered the building unsafe, and the afternoon previous had made the remark to take it down, but was called away on business before accomplishing his purpose. He did not know what would have been the result if he had been in the building, but considered it unsafe in its present condition.

The jury returned the following verdict: "We do find that the said Mary Ann Surrell was killed by a falling building known as the Burnie factory; and we are of opinion that proper precaution has not been taken in the past with reference to the said building, it having been in a very unsafe condition for some time. We would also wish to call the attention of the Town Council to the fact that the remains of the aforesaid building as they stand at present are unsafe and dangerous and should be removed at once. We are also informed that there are other buildings in the district which are also unsafe and should be attended to."

Property Changes.

We note the following recent changes of property:—

B. B. Manzer has purchased the fine residence on Albert Street owned by Mr. C. S. Turner, and will move into it at once.

Mr. Thomas Harrison has with his family moved to Portland, Me. He has disposed of his pleasantly situated residence on Elm Street to R. B. Jones. The purchaser will enter into possession of the same on 1st July. In the meantime the house is being bought by Forrester McLean.

The Raymond house, Carleton street, has been bought by Forrester McLean.
