Woodstock, Feb. 2 .- 1i. Sun, he know he was telling what was not it accompanies the second paper in Mrs. Upton's true. I believe George W. White's word is "Children of the White House" series, "The LAND PLASTER ot worth a cent. I have always sant his Children of John Adams," which has eighteen mail when east for, although I had no right illustrations, from paintings by Stuart, Copley. to. The present arrangement of mail to Brown and others, drawings by Bridgman, and Ready for delivery on and reproductions of some little diaries kept by the future statesman when a little boy. The article after March 1st next. is very interesting reading. Another article of value is the paper "About Rosa Bonheur," by Henry Bacon, an intimate friend of the famous animal painter. There is a portrait of Rosa at eighteen, and another of her in her studio gart -the much-commented-upon male attire. The article, which is delightful in itself, has elever will say that I have treated them in the very illustrations. Mrs. Margaret J. Preston has an article, " The Childhood of Paul H. Hayne." Felix L. Oswaid has an exciting volcano story, "The Life Trail," and Belle Campbell an amu-ing one, " Ruth's Valentine." Some of the best character drawing of modern story writers is in Sidney Lusks's half-pathetic, halt humorous serial story, " My Uncle Fiorimond; and Mrs Sherwood's etiquette serial, "Those Cousins of Mabel's," is delightful.
