

BUSINESS INDEX.

JAMES ROYD, Commission Merchant.
SAUNDERS & CO., Dry Goods.
FRANK W. WILLIAMS, Dress & Tailor.
GEO. N. CLARK, Tailor.
JOHN C. COLE, Tailor.
PAYSON & CO., H. N. Payson, formerly of Johnsonville, Ontario, now of Woodstock.
WILSON & CO., J. H. Wilson, Proprietor.
QUEEN HOTEL, J. H. Wilson & Son, Proprietors.
E. L. BERRY, Tailor.
N. D. LISTER, Tailor.
H. V. DALLING, Watchmaker and Jeweller.
N. J. PIERCE, Watchmaker and Jeweller.
J. D. DICKINSON, Leather, Boots & Shoes.
E. J. BAILEY, Boots, Shoes, and Shoemakers.
J. R. FURBER, Collins, Caskets, Livery in Care.
MISS M. JAYNE, Artist, Milliner & Modiste.
C. R. WATSON, Tailor.
J. H. BERRY, Tailor.
GEO. N. CLARK, Spring Bed Manufacturer.
A. GILMAN, Boarding House, Livery & Boarding Stable, Horses in Connection.
G. F. ABERNETHY, Wood, Clock, Lamps, Oil, and Gas.
F. HENNING, Dishes, Gold, Silver and Nickel Plating.
C. S. WOODING, the only Plumber in Town, Call and inform, if you wish to have your pipes, boiler, lead or iron or any other plumbing.

TAMARAC

Mr. J. W. Sney, general merchant, of Kaslo, Ontario, says: "I take great pleasure in recommending 'Tamarac' as an excellent remedy for several months which was considered incurable, although a tried Jeweller for some time. Nothing relieved me until I used 'Tamarac.' The first dose of 'Tamarac' seemed to me more good than all the medicine I had previously taken. Three bottles effected a permanent cure."

Maple Row Farm.

EGG FOR HATCHING.
Plymouth Rock Fowl, 21 per cent.
Black and White, 21 per cent.
The Fowls are healthy and strong.
Send in your orders for eggs and you will be supplied with the best.
Cash with order.
S. W. PORTER.
Houlton, Me., Feb. 21.-3-p.

Campbell's Cathartic Compound

BY CURE LIVER COMPLAINT, BILIOUS DISORDERS, ACID STOMACH, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE, RICK HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, OR COLIC.
Beware of cheap imitations.
S. W. PORTER, Proprietor.
Houlton, Me., Feb. 21.-3-p.

Farm for Sale or to Rent

Parties desiring of purchasing or renting a first-class farm, just outside of the limits of the Town of Woodstock, do well to examine the premises of JAMES W. DAVIS, who has built up a new and fine Farming Estate and House in the Township of Woodstock, Ontario. Call at 250-251, Office for further information.
Woodstock, Feb. 18, 1888.-3-p.

Have you a Pain anywhere about you? "PAIN KILLER" and Get Instant Relief. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. 25 Cts. Per Bottle.

DISTRICT LODGE!

THE SEVENTH QUARTERLY SESSION of District Lodge, No. 13, I.O.G.T., will be held with Jacksonville Lodge.
JACKSONVILLE.
Tuesday, 13th March, 1888, at 2 P.M.

A PUBLIC TEMPERANCE MEETING, under the auspices of District Lodge, will be held at 7.30 p.m., at which stirring speeches will be delivered.
The public are cordially invited.
A collection will be taken up in aid of the District Lodge.
By ORDER of COMMITTEE.
Woodstock, Feb. 27, '88.-2-p.

HOUSE FOR SALE.

A 11 story house for sale, on Richmond Street in good repair, front porch, water in house. For particulars enquire at this office.
Woodstock, Sept. 7, '87.-3-4-p.

COUGHS, COLDS, Croup and Consumption CURED BY ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

25c. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.
TWO COMBINATION SAFES for sale, nearly new, if called for soon.
MILMOSES, Main Street, Woodstock.
Feb. 28, '88.-2-p.

For Sale, Cheap for Cash! 2 SLICHS and 1 PUG.

WOODSTOCK, March 2, '88.-2-p.

WANTED

J. D. DICKINSON'S Boot & Shoe STORE.

Oats, Potatoes, Buckwheat Meal, Pork, Lard, Butter, Eggs, Tallow.

HAVING purchased the stock of a Bankrupt Boot and Shoe manufacturer, all new, fresh Goods I would like to sell at a low price to the satisfaction of all. I am prepared to give them the benefit of the specially low prices which I can afford them.

THE STOCK CONSISTS OF

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Fine French Kid; French Oil Goat, Polished Calf, &c.; And Men's, Boys' and Youths', from the Fine Dress Shoe to the Common Brogan, in all the leading styles.

Together with the large and varied stock of Boots and Shoes always on hand, making one of the largest in town from which to select.

I am prepared to sell at the Lowest Price possible for Cash or Country Produce.

CUSTOM MADE BOOTS always on hand, as well as imported stock.

Sole Leather, Upper Leather, Kip Domestic Call French Calf, French Fronts, and Shoe Findings in variety.

Call and examine. We will take pleasure in showing Goods, and I think you will be convinced our prices are down to bottom figures.

J. D. DICKINSON, No. 5, Connell's Block, Woodstock, March 2.

Of all kinds can be procured at the Sentinel Office. Cheapest prices.

Sunday School Column.

Secretaries of Parish Sunday School Conventions should send a notice of the proposed meetings of their Conventions to W. T. Kerr, County Secretary Woodstock, and notice of the meeting will be given in the S. S. Calendar in the Sentinel and Press.

Willmot Parish Convention.

The Quarterly Session of the Willmot Parish S. S. Convention will be held in the Baptist Church, Centreville, on Tuesday the 20th inst., commencing at 2 o'clock p.m. A half hour at the opening of the session will be devoted to prayer and praise, after which the ordinary business of Convention will be engaged in. At 3.15 review of the Quarter's lessons, accompanied by a black board exercise, will be conducted by S. J. Parsons, of this place.

The evening session will commence at 7 o'clock with a half hour praise service.

The following subjects will be discussed, viz.: The Sabbath School, its importance to the Home, will be opened by the Rev. Jas. T. Blair, followed by Jas. Watts and others.

At 8.15 the Rev. George Howard will open the evening subject, viz.: The relation between the Church and S. School, followed by other prominent S. S. workers.

The Rev. J. W. Clark is expected to deliver an address in connection with S. work.

A cordial invitation is extended to all S. S. workers to attend and assist in this department of Christian work.

C. KING, Sec. Lakeville, C. Co., March 6, 1888.

ST. JOHN'S LETTER.

St. John, March 6, 1888.

A thousand voices blended as one! What a terrific din they make, I heard that hoarse sound twice last week in the Victoria Park, and upon each occasion, trained athletes responded to the shouts and redoubled their efforts to get there first. If now Brunswick can claim the championship of any sport, she can claim that of skating. From Grand Falls to St. John, from St. Stephen to Moncton, every town and village has some kind of a skating rink of which the championship is claimed by some one of speed and muscle. McCormick is the greatest skater I have ever seen. He stands head and shoulders over such men as Paulsen, Dore, Whistler and Laidlaw. Every move he makes is full of grace and strength. His body is as supple as a reed, and as a willow. When he is skating alone on the rink, he is almost double, he makes no noise. Every stroke is clean and noiseless, and in this, he gains a great advantage over all who oppose him. He is a credit to the Province and worthy of his honor because he is a true sportsman. No man can accuse him of sailing a race; no one ever saw him in a contest when he did not do his best to win. Skating is a grand sport in which every one takes the greatest pleasure. His craving for excitement is satisfied when, one of a thousand, he urges by horse about three or four of his trained skaters to the greatest speed; and they, with every muscle strained, leaning forward, hearing the stirring strains of music on the laces on the other shore, the last lap is a wonder that power and skill and muscle return and breast to breast they sweep as one line before the eye.

St. John mourns the loss of another prominent citizen in the person of Dr. Earle, who died suddenly last Thursday. At the time of the great fire of 1877, he was so young, no man so honored as Dr. Earle. The citizens elected him as their Mayor and voted every confidence in his honesty and judgment. Ever since he came to St. John, 24 years ago, he has been a prominent citizen, holding some of the most responsible offices in the gift of the people and the government. For more than 20 years he was a clear coroner of the city and during that period he investigated some of the darkest crimes, bringing out evidence that in the end convicted the offenders. His hand was clear always, his judgment could be depended upon, and his legal or medical opinion was worth as much as that of any lawyer or doctor in the province. He was always cheerful and full of anecdotes of which he told an inexhaustible fund. Young and old delighted to assemble in his residence knowing always that they would be as welcome as the day. It is not strange that a man who had so long been coroner and held so many investigations into sudden deaths should be called away without a moment's warning.

Spring has fairly opened in town and our merchants are happy. Everything looks bright and no person wants them to loose a mite of their trade for the next four months at least. There will be all sorts of country goods, and the Trade Promoting Company are maturing slowly but surely and if they secure the necessary legislation there is no doubt the province will make a big "boom" in St. John. "We have all to gain and nothing to lose" is the cry and the business men who have, up to this time only moved in the little circle of their own trade and patrons, are peering out and around, widening their commercial sphere and increasing their connections. Mr. George Robertson informed me that he had received hundreds of inquiries from all over Canada (for information concerning the Argentine Republic trade). A large barque was chartered and already applications for space are coming in so rapidly that he has no doubt about getting a full cargo. If St. John can establish a line of packets between the West Indies and South America there is little fear that the trade will seek another outlet.

At the present time the carpet and furniture dealers are doing a rushing city and country trade. There is a peculiar business. Mr. A. O. Skinner, the well-known carpet merchant, told me a few days ago that he did more business in the three Spring months than during the other nine. He said: "There are always lots of houses to be equipped and the more the better. Only a few months ago I carpeted the Victoria Hotel from top to bottom. That is an order to be got every day, but when it is to be had it generally comes to the best carpet establishment in town" and he pointed with pardonable pride to the immense room, the sides of which were lined with large rolls of Brussels and tapestry carpets of the latest designs. Skinner's carpet warehouses is a household phrase in St. John. For 20 years he has had the confidence of the public, and the experience he has gained in that time stands him in good stead now when competition in his, as well as all other lines of business, has grown keener. Commissioners are unknown to him, and his customers reap the benefit of his direct connection with the manufacturers. A Montreal traveler said to Mr. Skinner a few days ago: "Your show room is the largest and your stock the largest and most complete of any Canadian dealer." A compliment, with any one can prove by visiting the establishment. Prices are as low as last season and when a housewife can see what she proposes to buy, spread out before her in the extensive show room she is better able to come to a decision which will please her so long as the article wears, and if she wants draperies to match she can find them here to the spot.

We are about to import another clerical light to illuminate our worldly path and keep us in it. It seems strange that if a prominent citizen, like the congregation looks upon every Canadian applicant with suspicious eyes. That is a kind of patriotism of which every right thinking Canadian must disapprove. Professional positions of honor in Canada should be filled with Canadians instead of Englishmen, many of whom have never given Canada a thought beyond the prevailing and shattering idea that it is under the shadow of the North Pole. It takes an Englishman a year or two after his arrival to get rid of his preconceived notions of our country. Then he begins to understand and appreciate us, but in the meantime instead of him teaching us he has been the student. I heard an Englishman, who ranks high in the New Brunswick Episcopal Church, exclaim once: "I can always tell a New Brunswicker out of New Brunswick by the way he uses his pepper box; he always has it." There is a new national peculiarity of no of the Nova Scotia journalists propose to meet March 15 and form a press association. The suggestion has been made that the organization should be maritime in aim to regulate some matters which for a long time have been running themselves, as it is strange for an annual excursion of the members.

No one was to purchase the Mechanic's Institute and the chance are that, unless Communicated.

When Shall the Mayor Vote.

To the Editors of the Sentinel and Press.

In your issue of the 25th ult., your correspondent Lex, in discussing the Mayor's right to vote, has so perverted facts, and garbled the report of the meeting of the 16th Jan., that, in common honesty, it becomes necessary to make him more truthful or, at least, afraid to make such reckless statements. It will be noticed by reference to the CANTONER'S report of the 16th Jan., which contains a report of the meeting under discussion, that Lex, in your issue of 25th Feb., transposed the statements of his friend Mayor Jones, for when that official was asked by Councillor Drysdale for the law giving the Mayor the right to vote, he said there was no law on the matter. Mr. De la Cour then went on to describe by any conditions and only embodied the legal abstract right of His Worship the Mayor as the presiding officer of the Council, and in giving the above answer, no person knew better than Mayor Jones that he was fully ignored 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. The Mayor further stated in connection with the sentence above quoted, that the election of these Councillors by ballot was only an informal way, and now the Council should vote by appointment, this part of the Mayor's statement was not an answer to Mr. De la Cour's question, but an apology for voting with the Council which he left at this early date was necessary. On the result of the vote by ballot being announced, Mayor Graham and I were declared elected on the first ballot, will Lex kindly tell the public what position the Mayor declared them elected in if it was as representative to the County Council what additional power did a second vote by the same body for the same place give them. And I now dare Lex to name any legislative body that, in the same session, without any transformation, requires two decisive votes on any given question before it is declared carried. Lex further wants to know why the Council, in electing County Councillors, did not resolve that the Councillors vote by ballot and the Mayor by open vote. In reply, I would say that the two Councillors that compose the Town Council all know that the Mayor has rights conferred on him by the Act of Incorporation, which he may neither add to, or take from, and among them are his right to preside at all meetings of the Council if he be present and only vote in case of a tie. As to the Mayor's right to vote, Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and if there had been an uneven number of Councillors present, strange that it never occurred to so subtle a mind as Lex's, who arrogates to himself the unique name of Lex, to abandon the intricate and thorny paths of deception and misrepresentation to equate the conduct of his friend the Mayor's right to vote by the Act of Incorporation that created his office. Say, Lex, was the meeting of the 16th Jan. a meeting of the Town Council? Answer yes or no; if it was, 10th Vic. Chap. 32, Sec. 32, of the Act of Incorporation under which he took his seat as Mayor, and which defines beyond controversy when he shall vote. Lex kindly tells the public that he understood Mayor Graham to say that he would vote for the Mayor's right to vote, and that there was a full ballot, and