Slavery or Freedom. To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinei Mr. Charles M. Holt says: "If we would

Mr. Charles M. Holt says: "If we would realize the brilliant future, however, that may lie within our grasp, we must shake off the stupid lethargy regarding politics which is a distinguishing feature of too many do our young men in Canada. If politics has degenerated into a trade, who is responsible but those who are too lazy or too indifferent to take an intelligent interest in the administration of our country. If we would not be slaves to all that is most corrupt in party management and party prejudice, we must strengthen the hands of those statesmen who are aiming above both, for in this way only can we succeed in obtaining the full benefit of that political freedom, which is the common inheritance of every British subject."

Now who can answer the question how many are there in our Legislative halls who are not slaves to all that is most corrupt in party management and party prejudice?

Dr. Atkinson, in his remarks last year, speaking of the fertile belt of Carleton, Victoria and Madawaeka, said: "Honorable gentlemen you have grown elequent over the advantages which would accrue to the province by making St. John one of the Winter ports of Canada. But the development of New Carleton and Madabase to the development of New Carleton, Victoria and Madawaeka, said: "Honorable gentlemen you have grown elequent over the advantages which would accrue to the province by making St. John one of the Winter ports of Canada. But the development of New Carleton, Victoria and Madawaeka, said: "Honorable gentlemen you have grown elequent over the advantages which would accrue to the province by making St. John one of the Winter ports of Canada. But the development of New Carleton, Victoria and Madawaeka, said: "Honorable gentlemen you have grown elequent over the advantages which would accrue to the province by making St. John one of the Winter ports of Canada. But the development of New Carleton, Victoria and Madawaeka, said: "Honorable gentlemen you have grown elequent over the advantages which would accrue to the provin realize the brilliant future, however, that by making St. John one of the Winter ports of Canada. But the development of New Brunswick, the growth of St. John, depends not upon the commerce which will come to producing 30,000,000 tuchels of grain annually."

Now if any man can point out any one act in our statutes that encourage the opening up and settling of our wild lands by our sons and daughters, I will say I am mistaken But we have staing us in the eyes the most diabolical acts to drive our sons and daughters out of our beautiful country, and playing into the hands of syndicates, who monopolize our lands and lock them up from settlement, and monopolists of lumber slaughtering our forests, which disgraces any body of intelligent men. For one proof of my charge, look into ac's passed in 1885, at the amendment of chap. 69 revised statutes, of taxes on unimproved granted lands for certain jurposes, placing no assessment on wilderness lands not lying or being within three miles from any village or settlement, and goes on placing the distributing of the work in making and repairing of roads in the hands of the monopolists of our wild lands, who keep them locked up from settlement when no roads are wavated. A more barefaced swindle of the wild land taxes would tax a brain equal to Pigot's, who swindled the Times. Here we have Victoria and Madawaska's fertile belt locked up and an infallible house of ass mbly and legislative council passing an act offering a premium for syndicates to keep locked up all our agricultural lands from settlem into the substance of the victoria and Madawaska's fertile belt locked up and on infallible house of ass mbly and legislative council passing an act offering a premium for syndicates to keep locked up all our agricultural lands from settlem into the substance of the victoria and Madawaska's fertile belt locked up and our agricultural lands from settlem into the substance of the victoria and monopolists of our wild into the passed in 1882; to be excepted from the above described lot a portion thereof here for more victorial and made of the monopolists of our wild into the passed in 1882; to be a decreased to the passed in 1882; to be a decreased to the passed in 1882; to be a decreased left alone at three score years and ten, by having his children driven from him by imbecile legislation; out of one of the finest countries on earth, to hue out a home countries on earth, to hue out a nome amongst strangers. Again, look into our regulations of crown lands, allowing the lumber monopolists to skin all the lumber off of lots Government selected for actual settlement before they fell into settlers hands. All the acts and regulations of our Province goes to play into the hands of syndicates and applied. Our friend Wetmore, who now is a Judge in the Northwest, told me he lost his last election by advocating the lien law. When capital can influence a country to reject any men of indep ndent principles we must expect to be governed by men that are party slaves and be subject to all that is most corrupt in party management and party preju-

It will be easy for our members who want House to see our back settlement prosper, and open up our wilderness lands, to say at once we must repeal this legal this ving act, amending the 69th chapter of the consolidated statutes, concerning our wild land tax, and tax every acre of granted wild lands alike, rich and poor, and have the money paid into the hands of our by-road commissioners, to repair and make roads through lands already settled, and not allow one dollar to be spent on monopolists' lands, until they are thrown open to settlement by our pioneers. And at once put a stop to cutting one stick of lumber off of lots government selected and laid off for actual settlement. The failure of G V. Hammond has caused many destitute families to put their children on allowance, whose fathers toiled hard all winter to have something in the epring to put in a crop, all for the want of a lien law. But capital and a lien law don't agree, because its a protec-tion to the laborer, which builds up all countries. Hoping my remarks will not reach the waste basket before the public will have a chance to criticise them. P. O. BYRAM. Powers' Creek, March 30, 1889. P. S.—A telegram came to Chas. Hodgins saying that his brother George Hodgins was shot by Indians in Montana and seven or eight others. G. Hodgins had a ranch on the Indian reservation. It happened this week and his wife was on her way to him it Death of a New Brunswicker.
