

Ask For Ayer's

Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier. With its forty years of successful use in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's.

Sarsaparilla
The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—W. W. Watson, Druggist, Albany, Ind.
"I am sure in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far exceed those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Dr. of Medicine, Iowa.
"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them confidently."—C. C. Bickhaus, Pharmacist, Roseland, Ill.
"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked for the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.
"I have sold your medicines for the last sixteen years, and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. There is nothing so good for the youthful blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.
"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Callahan, Monmouth, Kansas.

The Holiness Movement.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
The Religious Intelligencer of April 10th, has made some statements in regard to this movement which I think demands a reply. The Intelligencer says "It is very evident that the movement is almost entirely against the churches."

Interpreting this statement by another made by the same paper at the close of the article referred to, viz., "It," the holiness movement, "seeks to hurt us." I have great pleasure in recording a contrary opinion. I am sorry the Intelligencer has such a poor opinion of those I think so much of. If it had only said: "It has divided churches, made bitter and strife in families, and severed the dearest and most intimate friendships," it would have been fearfully bad indeed. But, when the Intelligencer says "It seeks to hurt us," it charges the holiness people of being desolate of the Grace of God completely, and not only so, but as being the worst specimen of depraved humanity. The holiness teaching surely must have done its work upon these brethren at a fearfully accelerated speed, to make such moulders of depravity to reject sin in others, as their own and drink, in so short a time. Well, I never had such an opinion of the e. brethren, and don't see how anyone else can; I am greatly delighted to observe in them such a kind, forgiving, meek and humble spirit as they exhibit.

NEW YORK LETTER.

N. Y., May 20, 1889.
DEAR SENTINEL,—There is not much in this city at present to interest or even amuse your readers. Of course subjects of Queen Victoria do not take a great deal of stock in American politics particularly of almost stamp. But in the event that some one would like to learn a little of the Empire State "situation," I will just give you a brief and ungrounded rapid Transit, Ballot Reform and High License were set down on. Up at Albany, there is a very large "Hill," and it is a hard hill to climb. This Hill is a prominent candidate in his own mind for the Democratic nomination for '92; here in Gotham we have a Mayor who wants to go up where the Hill is, and they are working together. Hill says you help me with a pass to Washington, "I'll give you a free ticket to Albany." The Excise Bill passed through the Republican Legislature with a sweeping majority, and the Ballot Reform Bill followed suit, but neither of them could get over the Hill; they died at the foot of it—dead.
Hill says you help me with a pass to Washington, "I'll give you a free ticket to Albany." The Excise Bill passed through the Republican Legislature with a sweeping majority, and the Ballot Reform Bill followed suit, but neither of them could get over the Hill; they died at the foot of it—dead.
There was a little "business" in the late Centennial. One of the committees makes no report; they have a balance of $10,000, and as there was no provision made at the start where the surplus would go, they keep it among themselves. Patriotism is good when it turns in $5.00 per day.
Paris now has the call, and all New York society is in a state of excitement. That old port on the 18th of Europe, loaded with society; the rush never was so great; it is said there will be 100,000 Americans in Paris this season, and how they will get "trussed." Paris is undoubtedly but in the summer months, worse than New York, so you can imagine the pressure with the mercury in the nineties.
We have had quite an excitement over last time across the Atlantic—got it down to 5 days, 23 hours, 7 minutes. That old vetras, King Neptune herring of it, made a dying visit here last Saturday, and thought he would have a laugh, so he just ordered up from that vast storehouse of wit—Newfound-land—a few banks of his very best fog, and told his dogs to dispose of them along the Jersey coast, from Atlantic City, Long Branch, Sandy Hook, and be liberal with it about the Narrows; the order was obeyed to the letter. On the 18th nine mammoth steamers—four for Europe—filled with select society—3 for South America and other ports sailed. Old Nep, said there would be no fast-time in that crowd; he and his dogs laid along the Bluffs at Long Branch and enjoyed the sport. The Canadian Service, ran her nose 150 feet two feet deep into a mud bank, and laid there 15 hours—the French steamship carried away a channel buoy and ran down a pilot boat—the Dutch steamship ran into a schooner and took away one side of her—two coasters ran into each other, and both were towed back to their wharves with big holes in their sides. On Sunday morning at the old king wanted to go to church, or, perhaps, he lifted up his bare head and let the crowd out, but there will be no records broken on this trip.
We are having a very select lot of romantic suicide of late. No I was a gentleman of great taste. He wrote out cards of invitation to his funeral to his lady friends in mourning borders, enclosed them in envelopes with the same emblem of grief, then dressed himself in the very highest style of fashion—full dress evening costume—looked a scented man in handkerchief inside of his vest—clawhammer coat—silk hat—then walked very deliberately to Central Park Reservoir, and plunged in—wrote—only think of it—the Croton. That is the second one who has played this mean trick on respectable people. The first was a Dutchman, and he laid eight days, soaking the pure, fresh water. No one's funeral spree was spoiled by a heartless father, who came down from Foughkeepsie, and carried the body off and buried it. Another young blood, after helping his betrothed write out the wedding invitations, went up to the Harlem river, tied a lot of iron to his legs and sprang in. The third was a young man of "very high standing"; he left his adored about 11 p. m., went to the Hudson and slipped down among some canal boats with fine pin, a little money and two gold watches in his pockets. Now for the latest—I have not an evening paper—it is only a p. m.—a crazy compositor he must have been—takes $200 from the savings bank—every dollar he had—that he had worked late and early for, and goes to the race course, gets a "tip" on a sure horse, and loses his money, he comes back to Brooklyn, takes a room at a hotel, turns on both taps of gas, and goes to bed; the Coroner was seen going into that hotel in a great hurry. The "Giants" are getting left. The Polo is gone, and the Gent that watched the Giants has also departed; they are now fifth in the League. Boston, impudent bean eaters, had the check to "whitewash" the Giants, they will never be forgiven, particularly by a Gotham blood, who dropped $1000. The Evening Sun publishes a 7 p. m. edition latest baseball news, and everybody buys it—old men, ministers, young ladies, old ladies, and boys and girls 10 and 12 years old.

Be sure and call at R. B. Porter & Co.'s this week and see their new dress materials. They have marked them at astonishing low prices. The sale is going on.
