MONTREAL.

THE BUTTERFIELD SPRING BED has been in use in this country nearly two years. From a very small beginning and with very little effort the trade has grown until the sales have run up into the thousands, and with the exception of a slight defect in a few of the first manufactured the Beds have given universal satisfaction. In fact in many localities the very name has become a synonym for Esse and Comfort. The EXCELSIOR SPRING BED is a later invention which, while retaining all the elasticity and freedom of action which characterize the BUTTERFIELD, is so securely braced that there seems to be no possibility of the outside springs being bent inward under any circumstances.

Iliamsport a dozen houses were demolished. The building of the Demorest Sewing Machine Co. were demoralized; loss $50,000. The brick walls of the Demorest foundry department—in course of construction, a story in height, 200 feet long and 50 wide—was raised to the foundations. Several persons are reported injured or killed. The wind blew over two stacks of the Sunbury nail mills, burying 35 men in the ruins. Two were killed, ten are injured and four are missing.

Information Wanted. To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel: Will you allow me through your paper to ask some of our farmers for information. Like ther young and inexperienced householders, who know more about office or shop work, who know more about effice or shop work, han farming, but who keep a cow and a pig —your humble servant owns to his ignorance and asks for help. The cow is common sized, ordinary bred, looks fairly well. Now I want to know how much I ought to feed. How many pounds of hay? how many quarte of oats, cornmeal or mashed feed? whether weter dry—cooked or raw—and when, that is now many times a day and at what hours. Also how often water should be given, how much, and at what temperature? All this nay be simple enough to one accustomed to be care of cattle, but when I read that over feeding is as injurious as feeding too ittle, and other things in the same strain, he need of more definite information will be noticed. Will some farmer reepond to my request? and much oblige wanted it to be known that I was elected in the face of the opposition of the temperance party. I am certain I did not mean to say so or to convey that idea. What I intended to say, and what I am certain I did say beyond the scintilla of a doubt, was that in consequence of a report having been put in circulation that I was assisting Mr. Hanson in his candidature, a few fanatics in the temperance party had refused to vote for me. In using these words, I can assure you I meant no offence to the temperance party, as I was fully convinced that the temperance workers with the exception hereinbefore referred to by me did all they could to secure my election, and I thank them for it, and I hope to show myself worthy of their confihope to show myself worthy of their confi-

The Wood Swindle.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel Our town people are being swindled out of bundreds of dollars in the purchase of cord wood upon the streets. The principal quantity now being offered is less that 4 feet long. l often find lots which will not measure over 3½ feet; rotten and crooked is very plenty, and the deception practised in pileing wood upon the sleds is ingenious and damaging. Altogether the wood business is a system of successful fraud on a majority of our town

Will the next Town Council take such steps to secure legislation at the next session of Parliament, as will remedy the evil? Every load of wood offered on the streets, the survey bill should accompany it, signed by a particulars of the storm in Pennsylvania :-A cyclone did an immense amount of damage and caused large loss of life in the western part of Pennsylvania on Wednesday. A new six story building in process of erection in Pittsburg was blown down. The rear walls of two other buildings were crushed in by the falling building, and their front walls fell upon the pavement, burying several people in the debris and mangling some horribly. A barber shop in the rear was totally demolished. The ton story in the rear of Eighbern's A barber shop in the rear was totally demolished. The top story in the rear of Eichbam's building on Fifth avenue was also knocked in and three printers working there injured, how severely cannot be learned. At 10 o'clock p. m. a number of persons were known to be still underneath the debris. Up to that hour 40 mangled and bruised bodies had been taken from the raises some dead others deing taken from the ruios, some dead, others dying and many fatally injured. One or two died on the way to the hospitals. From the best information obtainable, eight were killed outright or died in a short time, and 35 others injured. At Reading, the cyclone passed over the northern portion of the city and cut a swath 200 feet wide. Houses and barne were unroofed or overturned, crope rooted up and destruction spread every where. The paint shop of the Reading railroad, 60 by 150 faint shop of the Reading railroad, 60 by 150 feet, was utterly demolished, and nine new passenger cars, valued at $45,000, splintered. Gasoline fired the ruins. There were 30 workmen in the debris, but twenty crawled out, more or less injured. Four were roasted alive. It is rumored several others were killed. The loss to the railroad is $75,000. The storm travelled at the rate of 100 miles. The storm travelled at the rate of 100 miles an hour and unroofed many private residences. It struck the Reading silk mills, four stories with basement, 300 by 150 feet, surmounted by a 100 feet tower, reduced it to kindling wood and buried some 175 working girls in the ruins. Some 75 to 100 dragged themselves from the ruins more or less hurt. In some places bricks are piled 20 feet deep and underneath them lie dead bodies by the score. Thousands of citizens turned out to search the ruins. Huge bopfices were built around the ruins. Huge bonfires were built around the ruins to aid the search and up to 10 30 a dozen bodies were taken out. The wind swept down West Branch valley. In Wil liamsport a dozen houses were demolished.

Dana Hayes, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

Note-The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler.

A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords age of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any
