A Little Baby's Skin

The Scalp Covered with Sores. A Wonderful Rapid Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I did. He took one and one half bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the CUTICURA on his sores and the CUTICURA SOAP in washing him. He is now five years of age and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the CUTICURA SOAP and rubbing in the CUTICURA, one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT being used. It is suprising how rapidly a child will improve under this treatment.

Itching and Burning Skin

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning was almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally and RESOLVENT internally for four months, I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. C. A. FREDERICK, Broad Brook, Conn.

Why Suffer One Moment.

From torturing and disfiguring skin diseases, when a single application of the CUTICURA REMEDIES will, in the great majority of cases, afford instant relief in the most agonizing of itching, burning, scaly, crusted, pimply, and blotchy skin, scalp and blood diseases with loss of hair, and point to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when the best physicians and all other remedies fail.

Sold everywhere. Price CUTICURA, 75c; SOAP, 35c; RESOLVENT, $1.50. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston, Mass.

A Market Wanted.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

Some weeks ago I wrote a letter to your valuable paper, recommending the corporation of Woodstock to build and establish a market, and put a final stop to peddling within the corporation. I invited and hoped some one else would take up the matter, either in favor of it, or in opposition. But as no other person has taken upon them to do so, I beg to say something more on the subject. Since writing my former letter, I have ascertained that the corporation cannot do so without the consent of the County Council. So far that is very good. I believe the County should be consulted, and I feel quite certain that when the measure is brought before the Mayor and Town Council and adopted, as I have no doubt it will be very shortly, that the County authorities will sanction it, as every farmer and dealer in the County will be benefitted by the adoption of it in a greater or less degree. The farmer would know when the market day was, and, by going on that day to buy or sell his produce, he would be likely to meet others there he might want to see. A man wants to buy a cow; he would know which day of the month was the cattle market day, and he could go there and find perhaps hundreds of cows on the ground to choose from; the same in horses, sheep, pigs, hay, straw, oats and other cereals could all be found on the appointed market days for such stock and goods. The same in other things of a retail description. The buyers would know where to go to find the article required and the seller would know where and on what day or days to go to sell, not as now—if a man wants to purchase a cow, a horse, or even a pig, he may have to travel round the country for days before he can find the thing wanted. I could write volumes on the benefits to be derived from the establishment of a market both for wholesale and retailing of goods as well as farm produce. I hope somebody else will say something on the subject; if not I shall conclude that silence gives consent, and shall get up a petition to the Mayor and Town Council to establish a market in the town of Woodstock.

I am now an old man and shall not want it long and would like some younger man to do the work so necessary for the good of all.

I am yours respectfully,
THOMAS MORGAN.

Woodstock, Oct. 28.

Notes by the Way.
(Concluded.)

Thursday 18th, visited in Deerfield; Friday went to Pleasant Valley and returned to Deerfield same night. Saturday afternoon accompanied brother Turner to Tusket Lakes to Conference meeting at the Falls. Sunday had meeting there at 10 a. m., and at 2 p. m. returned to the hall at Tusket Lakes and held a meeting at which Bro. Turner preached to a large congregation. Returned to meeting at Deerfield. After spending several days in visiting friends at various places, attended yearly meeting at Deerfield, which opened in the meeting house at 2 p. m. on Saturday, 27th; in the Conference meeting a good many took part; 7 p. m., preaching; Sunday, 10 a. m., Bro. Turner preached, a large number being present and many bearing witness to the truth. 2 p. m., I preached and at the close the sacrament was administered, a goodly number partaking; 7 p. m., met again when many testified to their hope of being saved. Monday, 9 a. m., met in business session and elected chairman of the meeting in New Brunswick in July next. Adjourned to meet at Tusket Falls in October next. 2 p. m., social meeting.

Tuesday morning took the cars at Green Cove; arrived at Digby at 10.30, and at 2.45 took the steamer for St. John, reaching there after a rough sail, at 6.30. Left by train at 10 30 and reached McAdam about 1.30 where we stopped about two hours and started for Hartland which we reached at 7.30 a. m., October the 1st, to find all well. For my travelling companion I had my grandson, Burton W. Morgan.

Respectfully Yours,
M. P. O.

RUGBY, TENN.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

Perhaps you would like to know what kind of place Rugby, Tenn., is; cannot do it justice, but will tell you something of it. Rugby is a pretty little town of about 300 cottages, founded by Mr. Thomas Hughes, of Rugby, England. It is owned by an English syndicate, and its owners reside in London. They have an agent here who attends to letting the hotel and cottages, etc. The "Tabard Inn" is a large hotel after "Queen Ann" style, situated on the far-famed Cumberland Plateau, where a people are said to live without Consumption.

Mr. P. D. Staggs, the hotel proprietor, and his wife, belong to Nashville, Tenn. They are very pleasant people, and their servants are very polite and attentive. "The Hughes Library" of seven thousand volumes, places good reading matter within reach of all for the small sum of 25 cents per month. There is a very pretty English Church here, and a well regulated school of two departments; the advanced taught by a male teacher and the primary by his wife, who is a very pleasant lady. I visited the schools here and consider them excellent. One very pleasing feature here worthy of note is, that on meeting the small boys on the street they invariably lift their hat and pass on noiselessly.—The society here is good, the people are well educated and very social with strangers.

Rigby's elevation is nearly 1,500 feet above the level of the sea; temperature rarely exceeding 84° F. in summer, with cool nights. Scarcely any snow is seen here during winter, but the chilly winds call for plenty of fires and warm wraps. Furs are used here just as well as in the north. There is no severe cold and no frost as yet. The flowers are blooming in the hotel grounds. Beautiful groves of pine and chestnut trees are arranged in rows, so that from the piazzas one can see a large expanse of mountain scenery.

I loved Berlin Falls, N. H., very much and hated to leave there, but my husband is employed by Nashville Lumber Co., and is carrying on lumbering near Rugby, consequently I came also.

Now, dear SENTINEL, I will be pleased to receive you as a weekly visitor in Morgan Co., Rugby, Tenn.

Yours, respectfully,
MRS. JOHN CORBETT,
Morgan Co., Rugby, Tenn.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24, 1890.

Admiral Porter and the Historian, George Bancroft, continue ill, and fears are felt for the result in both cases. They reside within a stone's throw of each other, and their houses are beseiged by hundreds of anxiously inquiring callers every day.

The work of the two Congressional campaign committees being about over, I paid a visit to the headquarters of both the Democrats and Republicans to-day, in the hope of obtaining some data upon which to form an opinion as to which party will control the next House of Representatives. I got left. They are doing no figuring or prophesying, that is not for publication, at either headquarters, and it required no special powers of penetration to see in both places that the result is considered to be in doubt. Last summer the Democrats were claiming that they would control the next House by a majority of at least forty, and the Republicans made very faint attempts to refute the claim; now, the Democrats are claiming nothing and will be glad to control the House by a majority of one. What has brought about this change? Organization. The Republicans are as well organized as if it was a Presidential campaign and their Congressional committee has sent out many thousands more documents than were distributed when Mr. Harrison was elected, while the Democrats have scarcely made all they might out of their opportunities.

Somehow or other, the idea seems to be generally accepted here that a member of Mr. Harrison's cabinet will succeed the late Justice Miller on the bench of the Supreme Court. The Attorney General is rated as first choice with Secretaries Noble and Tracy second and third, respectively. Of course all this may be changed when the big politicians come back to town.

Our navy continues to grow. The Navy Department has been notified that the cruiser Concord is now ready for her trial trip, and next week has been set for the interesting event. The Concord is almost an exact counterpart of the Yorktown, now in service.

Mr. Blaine has gone to Ohio to undertake the difficult task of making reciprocity speeches in the district of Representative McKinley, who is an opponent of the principle of reciprocity. Mr. Blaine is a man of expedients, and if anybody could straighten this paradoxical crookedness, he can.

There is very little extra session talk this week, and nobody now believes that there will be one.

Grand Division, S. of T.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, held in St. John, last week, there was a good attendance of representatives and it proved an excellent session. The following is a recapitulation of the work done during the year:—

Divisions organized,	19
Initiated,	2.581
Joined by card,	55
Reinstated,	260
Withdrawn,	520
Suspended,	701
Expelled for violation of pledge,	116
Expelled for other causes,	178
Died,	81
Violated pledge,	94
Present number of members,	6,497
Amount received for per capita tax,	$1,456 03
Amount of receipts of Divisions,	4,719 38
Amount of expenses of Divisions,	4,282 99
On hand and invested,	7,917.27

The grand scribe mentioned the fact that the National Division holds its next session in St. John next Summer. It would be necessary to give the grand body a reception worthy of the high position it occupied not only with the members of the order, but in the esteem of the general public.

The grand treasurer, W. C. Whittaker, read the following report:—

Balance on hand October '89,		$ 368 90
Receipts during year.		1179 46
		1548 36
Amount expended,		1439 81
		$ 108 55

The election of officers resulted as follows: H. J. Thorne, Albion division, St. John, Grand Worthy Patriarch.

John C. Thomas, Granite Rock division, Carleton, Grand Worthy Associate.

Andrew J. Armstrong, Excelsior division, St. John, Grand Scribe.

Rev. John C. Berrie, Wilberforce division, Milltown, Grand Chaplain.

Alex. McLean, Jr., Moncton division, Moncton, Grand Conductor.

LITERARY NOTICES.

Scribner's Magazine for November contains three remarkable illustrated articles of travel and adventure of widely differing characteristics, embracing elephant hunting in Africa, a perilous voyage through the Canon of the Colorado (the first trip ever made from the source to the mouth of that river), and cruising with the White Squadron along the coast of France. Another unusual feature is an article ("A Day with a Country Doctor") written, drawn and engraved by the same man—Frank French. Training Schools for Nurses are described by Mrs. Frederick Rhinelander Jones, who has been interested in their organization from the very first. There is a long instalment of the anonymous serial "Jerry," and a short story by F. J. Stimson, the author of "Mrs. Knollys." Two sonnets on Cardinal Newman are by the aged Irish poet Aubrey de Vere, and by Inigo Deane, a disciple and friend of the late Cardinal. A strikingly melodious anonymous poem, "In Broceliande," and the last of Prof. Shaler's papers on "Nature and Man in America," are among the other features of the issue. Frederic Villiers (the English war artist), R. F. Zogbaum and Frank French illustrate single articles.

The November number of Harper's Magazine contains the first of a short series of papers on Southern California—"Our Italy"—by Charles Dudley Warner, describing the climate, resources, and scenery of that most interesting portion of our country. Numerous illustrations from photographs and from drawings by distinguished American artists give additional value to this interesting paper. E. W. Mealey describes the quaint old town of Rothenburg, and gives an account of "Der Meistertrunk," the festival play which occurs there annually. His article is accompanied by nine illustrations from drawings by Otto Beck. The series of articles on South America by Theodore Child is continued in "Urban and Commercial Chili." The illustrations, which are numerous, present views of objects and scenery in and around Santiago and Valparaiso. Lafcadio Hearn describes "A Winter Journey to Japan" by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Pacific Ocean. S.H.M. Byers contributes an article on "Switzerland and the Swiss." "Princeton University" is the subject of a timely paper by Professor W. M. Sloane. Daudet's inimitable story of "Port Tarascon" is brought to a conclusion. The other fiction includes "A Halloween Wraith," by William Black, with five illustrations; "Madrilene; or, the Festival of the Dead," by Grace King; and "Portraits," by Ruth Dana Draper. Dr. S. Weir Mitchell contributes a charming poem entitled "The Quaker Lady," which is quaintly and beautifully illustrated by Howard Pyle. George William Curtis, in the Editor's Easy Chair, discusses a number of interesting subjects, such as the decrease of population in some of the mountain districts, gentlemanliness in Parliament and in Congress, the "society column" of the newspapers, and some recent legislation for the restraint of the liquor traffic. William Dean Howells, in the Editor's Study, considers the most recent theories regarding the origin of the Aryans.

The Century Magazine celebrates its twentieth anniversary with the November number,—a number which is intended to exemplify the best that an illustrated magazine of our day can do for its innumerable readers. In the editorial on the event the editor claims for The Century "a sane and earnest Americanism," an Americanism "that deems the best of the Old World none too good for the New" Instead of viewing at length the literary and artistic achievements of the magazine the editor considers it best to celebrate the astonishing progress in magazine printing during the past twenty years in an illustrated article by Theodore L. DeVinne of the DeVinne Press. There is a profusion and variety in the illustration of the November number which is remarkable even for The Century,—varying from the actinic reproduction of rapid pen work to the exquisite engraving of Cole in the "Old Master" series,—(a full-page after Signorelli) The great feature of The Century's new year, the series on the Gold Hunters, is begun with John Bidwell's paper, fully and curiously illustrated, on "The First Emigrant Train to California." Another important series of papers herein begun is Mr. Rockhill's illustrated account of his journey through an unknown part of Tibet,—the strange land of the Lamas. The frontispiece is an engraving of a photograph of Lincoln and his son "Tad," accompanied by an article by Col. John Hay on "Life in the White House in the Time of Lincoln." The poetry of the number is by Edgar Fawcett, the late James T. McKay (a posthumous poem entitled "The Epitaph"), James Whitcomb Riley, G. P. Lathrop, R. W. Gilder, Thomas A. Janvier, John Vance Cheney, and Arlo Bates, besides a full Brio-a-brac department of lighter verse. The Editorial Department discusses forestry, international copyright, etc., and W. W. Ellsworth protests in Open Letters against "The Spoiling of the Egyptians."

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—At Notre Dame church yesterday, 18,000 Catholic school children of the city were consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Times says: "Should congress offer Canada reciprocity we cannot blame Canadians if they succumb to the temptation, but that seems unlikely. The McKinley bill has had precisely the reverse effect on Canada to that which the Americans intended."

QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—The death is announced of Rev. E. Sewell, son of the late Chief Justice Sewell, at the age of 91. He was the oldest Angelican clergyman in this diocese if not in Canada.

Brutal Assault.

FREDERICTON JUNCTION, Oct. 27.—Dr. Miles McAlpine of Grand Falls, was a passenger on the east bound train on Saturday from the west. He was carried past and put off the Atlantic express at Fredericton Junction. He had been drinking and was asleep when carried out of the train. The conductor told the agent to send him back to McAdam, and he was put on the night express by the night agent Matthews. After Matthews left him on the train he must have got out to get a drink, and was met at McQuestion's by William Dewitt and Geo. Kingston, two hard characters from the boom. They had several drinks together and left McQuestion's. When they got on the highway road one of them struck McAlpine several times in the face, knocking him down and kicking him until he was insensible. They then robbed him of $75. He is very badly cut up and bruised about the head, but his injuries are not considered serious. Information was laid against Dewitt and Kingston before Parish Court Commissioner Alexander, and warrants were issued for their arrest.

By All Odds

The most generally useful medicine is Ayer's Pills. As a remedy for the various diseases of the stomach, liver, and bowels, these Pills have no equal. Their sugar-coating causes them not only to be easy and pleasant to take, but preserves their medicinal integrity in all climates and for any reasonable length of time. The best family medicine, Ayer's Pills are, also, unsurpassed for the use of travelers, soldiers, sailors, campers, and pioneers. In some of the most critical cases, when all other remedies have failed.

Ayer's Pills

prove effective.

"In the summer of 1864 I was sent to the Annapolis hospital, suffering with chronic diarrhœa. While there, I became so reduced in strength that I could not speak and was compelled to write everything I wanted to say. I was then having some 25 or 30 stools per day. The doctors ordered a medicine that I was satisfied would be of no benefit to me. I did not take it, but persuaded my nurse to get me some of Dr. Ayer's Pills. About two o'clock in the afternoon I took six of these pills, and by midnight began to feel better. In the morning the doctors came again, and after deciding that my symptoms were more favorable, gave me a different medicine, which I did not use, but took four more of the pills instead. The next day the doctors came to see me, and thought I was doing nicely, (and so did I). I then took one pill a day for a week. At the end of that time, I considered myself cured and that Ayer's Pills had saved my life. I was then weak, but had no return of the disease, and gained in strength as fast as could be expected."—P. C. Luce, Late Lieut. 55th Regt. Mass. Vol. Infantry.

"Ayer's Pills are

The Best

I have ever used for headaches, and they act like a charm in relieving any disagreeable sensation in the stomach after eating."—Mrs. M. J. Ferguson, Pullens, Va.

"I was a sufferer for years from dyspepsia and liver troubles, and found no permanent relief until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills. They have effected a complete cure."—George W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T.
