Fredericton, June 11, 1890.

Remarkably cold weather.
Citizens have again donned their overcoats.
The fountain in front of the City Hall is being repaired.

The incandescent electric light is soon to be adopted in Fredericton.

No drunk at the police court for over two weeks.

The watering cart has at last made its appearance.

Rafting has commenced at the Sterling boom.

On Sunday the collections in all the churches were in aid of the Victoria Hospital.

The I. S. Corps is making preparations to go into camp at Moncton, on the 30th inst.

Chief Commissioner Ryan was in the city Monday.

Mr. Reid made his first shipment of ice to New York, yesterday.

Adam Smith, the father of the press in New Brunswick, was in town last week.

A. B. Connell of Woodstock, is attending the supreme court.

Last week 1,200 joints were rafted at the Douglas booms.

There are three females in the Salvation Army Fredericton band—two cornetists and an alto.

The I. S. C. Band gave an out door musical concert Friday evening; another will be given by the Fredericton Brass Band this evening.

The Methodist annual conference will meet here on the 18th inst. It is expected about 80 clergymen will be in attendance.

Robbins' circus paste brigade spent a portion of last Sunday posting bills just below town. Such open desecration of the Sabbath should not be left to go unpunished.

Take advantage of the excursions on "circus" Monday and see Fredericton at its prettiest.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Mowatt, at Montreal, Rev. Daniel Fiske conducted the services at St. Paul's church on Sunday.

It is estimated there are now over 100,000 logs in the Fredericton booms; the largest quantity ever known at one time.

A side track is to be constructed from the N. B. Railway to the Victoria Mills below the city, owned by Fred. Hale, M. P.

William Richards, the lumberman, has returned from New York, where he went to undergo a second surgical operation for an injured hand; he is greatly encouraged.

A terrific gale prevailed on the river Monday; large boats were blown about like logs. One woodboat was blown ashore but no damage was done.

Trinity term of the Supreme Court opened yesterday, Chief Justice Allen and Justices Wetmore and Tuck being present. Nothing of public interest was transacted.

The delegates to the A. O. H. Convention were tendered a banquet by their Fredericton brethren at the York Street saloon last evening. Toasts were drunk and, on the whole, the affair was most enjoyable.

Mr. James Strang, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Tilley Martin, of this city, were married at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Mr. Crawley, Saturday evening. The happy couple left Monday for their future home, Cleveland, via St. John.

Prison life having evidently become rather monotonous, the prisoners and violators of the Scott Act, now in jail, honored Rev. Mr. Payson (Methodist) with an invitation to conduct a religious service at the jail last Sunday morning. The reverend gentleman accepted the invitation and preached a very impressive sermon from the words: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ." A collection of $20 was taken up and presented to the clergyman.

Nehemiah Gorman was severely injured at Estey's mill Saturday by being struck on the head with a seven inch deal which was thrown with great force from the edger saw.

"Running Wild" in the City Hall Monday evening drew a fair sized and not very appreciative audience. Although some features of the performance were fairly well rendered, the company as a whole is rather inferior. The singing and dancing were good but outside of these two features the play could hardly be considered "fair" notwithstanding it was 25 per cent. better than the "Two Barneys" who gave so much disappointment to a large audience a few weeks ago.

Next Monday will be a big day in Fredericton both in business and amusements, as early as Friday people from the country will begin flocking to town and the hotels and boarding houses will be taxed to their utmost. Robbins' Circus which shows here on that day is said to be greatly improved since its last appearance in this Province, and it is expected will give a good performance. It is astonishing how the small boy will economize between now and circus day in order to obtain the traditional dollar which he deems necessary on that important day. Considering the big show, side shows, menagerie and museum, not to mention lemonade, peanuts, candy and other "innumerable," that cause the heart of a small boy to rejoice, the amount seems to be no more than adequate. Parents, take the hint and make your boy happy, as a circus is like Xmas and comes only once a year.

Your correspondent has been asked to state that a large number of friends in Fredericton wish to tender their congratulations, and best wishes for his future happiness, to Mr. Alfred A. Brewer upon the interesting event which occurred last week, in which he was a principal. May Alfred enjoy perpetual prosperity and may his life be replete with happiness and enjoyment.

Last Thursday was a great day at the Indian reserve at Kingsclear, the occasion being the election for Governor of the Provincial Indians, who came from all parts of the Province to choose their Chief. About 225 Indians were present. There were four candidates for the office, viz.: Noel Sappier, Gabe Atquin, Edward Paul and Frank Sappier. The main issue was as to whether the Chief should be a half-breed or full blood. The latter carried the day, Noel Sappier, a full blood, being elected. A grand fete was held in the evening.

The closing exercises at the Normal School took place on Friday. A number of visitors were present, and was entertained by a variety of interesting features, the music being particularly regarded. Miss Annie Moore of this city and Miss Galt were announced as the winners of the Governor General's silver and bronze medals in the senior and junior classes respectively. Miss Helen Galt delivered the valedictory in a graceful manner. The written examination for teacher's licenses commenced on Monday morning and will continue until Friday which will be the final day. Seventy three teachers are in attendance for advance of class making the total number of candidates 249 of whom 198 are of the feminine sex.

The second biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians opened in St. Dunstan's Hall Monday. The following delegates from Carleton Co. were in attendance: John Troy, Edward Rougan, Thomas McCaffery, John P. Malaney, Owen Kelly M. McManus, and M. Ryan. J. J. Gallagher of Woodstock, provincial delegate, was called to the chair and John P. Malaney of Woodstock, appointed provincial secretary pro tem. Mr. Meagher, president of York Co. division welcomed the delegates in an appropriate speech. Reports were submitted showing an increase in the number of members. Yesterday morning the convention re-assembled, the various committees appointed Monday submitted their reports. The provincial secretary's statement showed a balance of $5280.91 in the provincial treasury. John P. Malaney, chairman of the committee on resolutions submitted a resolution extending thanks to the Provincial Officers for their untiring efforts in behalf of the Order, and showing the Society's appreciation of the laws of Canada etc., yet revealing the fact that their sympathy is extended to the land of the Shamrock and gem of the sea—dear old Ireland, and it was further resolved that the convention endorse the action of Parnell and the revered leader of the Liberal party, Gladstone, in their laudable struggle to secure Home Rule for Ireland. The reports were unanimously adopted, and the convention adjourned.

The League base ball game between the Shamrocks and Frederictons here last Thursday resulted in a score of 10 to nothing—with Fredericton "left in the cold" of course. On the following day at St. John, the same team again defeated the Frederictons although not so bad as before. Score, 4 to 3. The Star Social B. B. nine got away with the College team last week. Score, 13 to 10. Members of the Infantry School Corps have organized a club and now challenge any amateur nine for a game. A purely local team will soon challenge our professionals and they will have to look to their laurels, for the nine will be a strong one.

Many of the male lieges of this neighborhood are enthusiastic disciples of Isaac Walton and profoundly versed in all the mysteries of the rod. Long before the fishing season approaches, the most extensive preparations are made by old and young for the recreations of the coming day, and loud and jubilant are the rejoicings over the first captive. Not the least devoted of our admirers of mud and water larks, in the pursuit of "silversides," is our esteemed After a long and anxious debate in the domestic parliament, the other day, it was unanimously resolved that he should arise and go forth on a piscatorial expedition to try his fortune on the fine denizens of Debec River, an important commercial affluent of the noble St. John. So having carefully overhauled his rod and fishing tackle, stuffed his angler's pocket book with every description of fly under the sun—from the "bite and no see him" to the regular old fashioned blue bottle—and filled his lunch-basket—thanks to Mrs. F.'s anxiety for his welfare—with a bountiful supply of cold ham and chicken, bread and cheese, apple pie and cake, not forgetting half a dozen bottles of lager, our friend bravely shouldered his weapon of destruction, and took up the line of march to the enemy's territory. When he arrived on the confines of the stream, old Sol was just tumbling out of bed and rubbing his eyes. As the day brightened, and nature put on her morning robes, the birds, in all their beautiful variety of plumage, combined with the sighing woods and murmuring stream to swell the matin anthem of nature's praises, while both salmon and trout threaded the mazes of a subaqueous hornpipe, all unconscious, in their sportive glee, of the terrible damper our friend was even now preparing, seated on an old log, to put on their "morning glory." Having finished his fixings to his entire satisfaction, he surveyed all his "arrangement" with the eye of an accomplished professor of angling, and taking another pull at the lager, with its stick, went to work on the stream with a vengeance. Being quite an adept at the trade, he soon filled his basket, and was just on the point of landing a splendid farewell haul, weighing about twenty pounds, when he was rudely startled from his ripary rivalries by an ominous roar, that came reverberating through the bushes to his agonized ear. His joyful exultingly countenance immediately fell, his trembling knees smote, one against another and the rod fell from his nerveless and shaking hand, as fearful visions of bears and mangled bloody carcasses flitted through the chambers of his soul. Dropping his flimsy spoil, fear lent wings to his feet, and he was off at a double quick trot "over bank, bush and scur" to a haven of safety. The roar was repeated again and again, the bushes cracked and crackled; and just as our friend was turning a clump of trees, the terror of the woods emerged from a thicket in the shape of a polled Angus bull, the property of J. S. Leighton, Esq., and met him face to face, giving him a regular old fashioned, old country look, as much as to say—"awee, freend hoo's a' wi' ye?" But our friend was in no mood for courteous palaver, even with a brute, so he kept on his headlong way, and never drew breath, till saluted with rollicking tongue and—for daring to show his face without a cargo of fine fish.

The Reformed Baptist Church of this village have now a very neat, commodious place of worship, and last Sunday it was dedicated to the service of God. Services were held in the morning, afternoon and evening. Rev. W. Kinghorn preached at the morning and evening services, and Rev. Geo. W. McDonald of Woodstock, preached in the afternoon. The attendance was good. At the evening service the "Right hand of Fellowship" was given to a new member. The members of this church deserve much credit for the manner in which they have provided themselves with this place of worship. They did not resort to tea meetings, socials nor begging, but went to work themselves with a will to accomplish the work, and have succeeded almost beyond their own expectations. I have been informed that there is not more than $75 due on the completed building, and this small debt they expect to wipe out in a very short time.

The attendance at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening was very large. The Church was filled to its utmost capacity, and many stood outside. Rev. J. E. King preached an excellent sermon, and then administered the rite of baptism to seven persons. After the service of baptism, the "Right hand of Fellowship" was extended to the seven who were baptized and three others.

A Bad State of Affairs.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel.

Several branch banks of Hell in Aberdeen are still in full blast. The agent in Glassville has a busy time of it, negotiating bills of exchange and securities of every possible description. The gentleman, running these business establishments must stand high at headquarters, as they are doing a rattling trade. Whether that trade is for the benefit of the inhabitants is a very different thing.

If a disgraceful waste of means, disreputable scenes in the street, by day and by night, shameful conduct of the boys the worse of liquor at Bible class, and profane and immoral language, echoing on every side a-e evidences of progress, then our once quiet, aye, and religious community too is on the high road to prosperity. Alas—thanks to a hoary headed rumseller—you might as well now look here for the evidence of religion and morality, for which the people in this neighbourhood were so eminently distinguished, in former years as for the grace of God in the highlands of Scotland."

HALIFAX, June 8.—A new feature of the Newfoundland trouble was reported today. The people of Bay St. George recently held a mass meeting and unanimously resolved that inasmuch as the Newfoundland government was unable to protect them from French outrages, that hereafter they would pay no duty on imports to the Newfoundland government. A few days ago the steamer Harlaw sailed from Halifax with a cargo of supplies for Bay St. George, but upon arriving there the custom officers, acting under instructions from St. Johns, refused to allow the freight to be landed, on the ground that the importers had pledged themselves not to pay duties. It might have been supposed that the goods would have been landed and placed in bond, but the government was afraid to do that, as the people would simply have taken possession of the goods and the custom officers would have been powerless to prevent them. The result is the steamer will bring her freight back to Halifax.

A Just Claim.

The Methodist Conference at its session on the 6th inst., adopted the following, moved by Dr. Douglas of Montreal:—

"Whereas, the constitution of the Dominion of Canada knows nothing of union of church and state, recognizing all sections of the church as standing on the ground of equality;

"Whereas, in the table of precedence we have the following order: Governor generals, lieutenant governors, archbishops and bishops, members of the cabinet, etc., thus ignoring the existence of the great Protestant church, which represents the majority of the dominion;

"Whereas, in the aforesaid order of precedence pre-eminence is given to an archbishop who is the appointee of the primate of Rome to the official degradation of the clergy of all Protestant churches;

"Resolved, that we hereby utter our decided protest against the aforesaid order, and declare our purpose to employ all legitimate means to secure its abrogation as creative of invidious distinctions between religious bodies to the disadvantage of the Protestant minority.

"Resolved, that we memorialize the general conference to take such means as it deems best to secure such abrogation."

A sailboat containing Lawrence W. Tierman, and John Sullivan, of Charlestown, Albert Lombard of Boston, Junius Husband, Thomas Troy and Joseph Tufts of South Boston, Edgar Maloney of Dorchester and Walter Quinlan, was capsized in a squall in Boston Harbor, Monday morning. The men could swim, but tried to save themselves by clinging to the boat, which was so heavily ballasted it continually sank, leaving them struggling in the water till they became exhausted and sank. All were drowned but Quinlan, who was caught by the boat just as he was going down the last time, and kept above water in an unconscious condition until rescued. Their ages ranged from 17 to 24 years. All were unmarried but Tierman, who left a wife and child.
