Not a Pimple on Baby

Baby one year old. Had with Eczema. Hair all gone. Scalp covered with eruptions. Cured by Cuticura. Hair splendid and not a pimple on him.

Cured by Cuticura

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My boy, when one year of age was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was scall-head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES and, I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the CUTICURA REMEDIES to mothers as the most speedy, economical and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me.

Fever Sore Eight Years

I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured by using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have a leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well,—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. CASON, merchant

JOHN V. MINOR, Druggist Gainesboro, Tenn.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of scrofula I ever saw was cured by them.

Communicated,

Education

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel.

It is much to be regretted that many of our schools are not better attended this term, than they are. Let any one, who has enjoyed a good education, ask himself what he owes to it, and he will find he owes it almost everything he has. To it he owes his intellectual resources—those helps which draw him away from many moral temptations. To it he owes that best, most profitable and improving portion of knowledge, viz, how to make himself useful and to do good to others. To it he owes the means of rising in the world, which, although not the greatest of all objects, is yet, if followed up in due subordination to the higher duties of man, a thing which everyone is invited and called upon to do, and which is open to all. Education is the key to all these things. Without it, none of them is attainable. In this country there is almost no station which is not open to, and attainable by, anyone—by any virtuous and industrious man—to whom God has given good abilities, and who has received a sound education. The free and unrestrained access to these things—following in the steps of many men now living, and many who have gone before, who were striking examples of the highest success from the humblest beginnings, is offered to our children by our schools. Doubtless these children can but imperfectly appreciate the value of the prospect before them; but if they could be made diligent, assiduous, attentive, obedient and submissive to the moral discipline of our schools, as well as seeking to profit by their intellectual instruction—if they could be taught to cultivate, to the best of their power, such abilities as God has given them, not being discouraged or ashamed, because at first they might not be equal to others, they might depend upon it, they would reap the rich reward of present satisfaction, future usefulness and increasing benefits of every description. We would urge parents to enable their children to make the most of these precious opportunities now, which, if let slip in early youth, will never come again—which, if neglected now, they will know by bitter after-experience what they have lost, and what, if rightly used, would have thrown open the avenues to many sources of profit and pleasure. And of one thing they may make sure, viz, that by a liberal educational training, these children will become good and happy citizens—happy men and women—and better fitted to enter hereafter upon a more exalted state, where the only discipline is love, and the only lesson Immortality and Life.

Induction.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

Kindly publish the following: The Rev. Joseph Barker was inducted to the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian congregation at McKenzie Corner. The Rev. W. C. Calder, of Waweig, in the absence of the Moderator, Rev. Archibald Gunn, officiated. Rev. Kenneth McKay, of Houlton, preached, Rev. John Blair, of Florenceville, addressed the minister, and Rev. W. C. Calder addressed the congregation. There was quite a large congregation present, deeply interested in the proceedings of the evening. Mr. Barker enters on his pastoral work under very favorable circumstances, everything conspiring to give him a happy and successful pastorate.

Miss Mary Martin, of Fredericton, and Mr. James Crisholm, of Montreal, were married at St. Dunstan's Church, Wednesday of last week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Melbevitt, assisted by Rev. Father Chattalion. Miss Janie McGrath was bridesmaid and Mr. Frank Martin, brother of the bride, was best man. After the marriage there was luncheon at the residence of the bride's mother, St. John Street, a large number of invited guests being present. The wedding presents were very numerous and came from different parts of the Province and Montreal.

"La Grippe" or Lightning Catarrh.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—"La Grippe," or Russian influenza, as it is termed, is in reality an epidemic catarrh, and is called by some physicians "lightning catarrh," from the rapidity with which it sweeps over the country. Allow us to draw the attention of your readers to the fact that Nasal Balm, as well as being a thorough cure for all cases of the ordinary cold in the head and catarrh, will give prompt relief in even the most severe cases of "la grippe" or "Russian influenza," as it will effectually clear the nasal passages, allay irritation and relieve the dull, oppressive headache accompanying the disease. No family should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm in the house, as cold in the head and catarrh are peculiarly liable to attack people at this season of the year, and Nasal Balm is the only prompt and speedy cure for these troubles ever offered the public. Easy to use and agreeable. If you cannot get it at your dealers it will be sent post free on receipt of price (50 cents and $1 per bottle) by addressing Narrow Escape for a Queen.

While the Queen of Greece was walking in the grounds of the palace on the 22nd ult., an electric light wire became detached from its fastenings overhead and fell upon her in such a manner as to encircle her body. She struggled to free herself, but her efforts only resulted in binding her more securely. The wire was carrying no current at the time, but the hour when it should be turned on for the eve was near, a fact which Her Majesty fully realized. Attendants rushed to her assistance and she was extricated, but not a moment too soon, for scarcely had she been freed when the deadly current was turned on and brilliant lights flashed in every direction.

Conservatism vs The Rage for Novelties

The Seed Annual for 1890, issued by D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Michigan, has reached our table. Its cover, this year, is especially artistic and attractive, and its contents, as usual, interesting and instructive. Ferry's seeds are thoroughly reliable, and always come true. The directions given in the Annual for the cultivation of both flowers and vegetables are so full and explicit that no one can fail of success who uses their seeds and follows the instructions.

D. M. Ferry & Co. are very conservative, both in offering new sorts and in their claims for them when offered; but they take pains to inform themselves as to the true character of all new varieties, so if some much lauded novelties are not found in the Annual, the probability is they have tested them and found them of no value.

A request sent to the firm at Detroit, Mich. will bring you a copy of the Seed Annual for 1890 by return mail.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & Co.

Dear Sirs.—I took a severe cold in February last which settled in my back and kidneys, causing excruciating pain. After using several other preparations and being without sleep four nights through intense suffering, I tried your MINARD'S LINIMENT. After the first application I was so much relieved that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recovery shortly followed.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburgh Falls, Vt., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co., (and enclosing a two cent stamp for mailing same) is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the Horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenominal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise."—181-44.
