Concerning the Census.

We publish to day considerable infor mation gleaned from the census. The com pilation will afford our readers interesting matter for comparison and reflection. Presently when the returns for the Parishes are in, the scope of interest will be enlarged. It will be a matter for regret, if not surprise, that the population of this County has

We confess to a very satisfactory feeling over the good showing made by Woodstock, a showing that we did not anticipate. In 1881, our population was given as 2.487; in the County is 842, so that the increase in the County. The population of the County in '81, deducting that of the Town, was 20.878, and in '91, making like deduction, 19,233, showing that the decline in the population of house, for each family same price as above. the County, outside of the Town, was 1,645. It is altogether unpless int the fact that the garden county of the Province in agricultural advancement and intelligence should not have made even the natural increase in population.

York is the only strictly English sounty in the Province where there has been an increase and, prebably, to Margeville and Mr. Gibson, York is indebted for her exceptional position. Woodstock is the fifth Town in the Maritime Provinces as regards population, and St. John stands sixth among the cities.

The correctness of the census is seriously challenged by St. John newspapers.
