The time for holding the next convention was fixed for the 3rd Tuesday in June, and the place, Silverdale. On motion it was ordered that in future the convention shall meet three times during each year, instead of the present arrangements for quarterly sessions.

Rev. E. C. Chapman pronounced a benediction, and the convention adjourned to

AN AFTERNOON TRIP.

ME SRS EDITORS, -The brief note in the SENTINEL, in which allusion was made to unusual activity in Mr. Haggerty's department just at present, led me to start out the other near to make the start out the other near the start out the st other noon to note points of interest on the line and around McAdam, at the let of May. At Detec, the two express trains arrived, promp; to the minute, and soon sped on in their opposite directions. On the siding Hemp Carpets; stood No. 40, and inquiry about her showed that extra work is assigned to the men who have her in charge. Doubtless the reputation the ergine has of pulling all that can be attached to her makes her valuable to pick the latest novelties. up whatever is left over from regular trains.
It seemed an evidence of heavy freighting, just now, that such a powerful machine was running extra. As we coursed over the rail there was noticeable, of course, a certain roughness unavoidable at this season, but, thanks to the unremitting vigilance of Engineer Burpes and the roadmasters, the permanent way is in most excellent condition. Both on the down trip and on the return, the particular smoothness of the rail between Scott's siding and Canterbury was very marked. The same fact has been noted before. Either through superior skill of the section men, or some thing else, those miles are a treat to roll over. Credit should certainly be given where it

As we go down the hills below Deer Lake we feel that peculiar sensation so discernible on the down grade. The speed may not accelerate very much for at short intervals we hear the brakes at work; but the feeling is like the downward motion of the ship as she descends between the billows. Everything is going. It is not so easy to sit still on the seat, and the cars jostle against each other. But with the bottom reached, and the upward course begun, all brace up, the cars are steady, no noise of brakes, and we are conscious that the engine is working with full steam, and bound to pull us to the top. McAdam Junction is reached on the moment of the time card. Connecting trains are in waiting, transfers are quickly made, and the Western passengers are off in a

"Mr. Haggerty is snugly fixed" is the universal expression of all who invade his sanctum and see the exact method and scrupulous neatness of this official abode. The park, the office and the private room are strongly marked with the individuality of the inmate, and to his friends he reveals himself as a most hospitable and en-

Ayer's Pills

'In the summer of 1864 I was sent to the Annapolis hospital, suffering with chronic diarrhea. While there, I became so reduced in strength that I could not speak and was compelled to write everything I wanted to say. I was then having some 25 or 30 stools per day. The doctors ordered a medigine that I was satisfied would be of no benefit to me. I did not take it, but persuaded my nurse to get me some of Dr. Aver's Pills. About two o'clock in the afternoon I took six of these pills, and by midnight began to feel better. In the morning that my symptoms were more favorable, gave me a different medicine, which I did not use, but took four more of the pills instead. The next day the doctors came to see me, and thought I was doing nicely, (and so did I). I then took one pill a day for a week. At the end of that time, I considered myself cured and that Ayer's Pills had saved my life. I was then weak, but had no return of the disease, and gained in strength as fast as could be expected."—F. C. Luce, Late Lieut. 56th Regt. Mass. Vol. Infantry. "Ayer's Pills are The Best
