Don't Give Up

The use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One bottle may not cure "right off" a complaint of years; persist until a cure is effected. As a general rule, improvement follows shortly after beginning the use of this medicine. With many people, the effect is immediately noticeable; but some constitutions are less susceptible to medicinal influences than others, and the curative process may, therefore, in such cases, be less prompt. Perseverance in using this remedy is sure of its reward at last. Sooner or later, the most stubborn blood diseases yield to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For several years, in the spring months, I used to be troubled with a drowsy tired feeling, and a dull pain in the small of my back, so bad, at times, as to prevent my being able to walk. The least sudden motion caused severe distress. Frequently, boils and rashes would break out on various parts of the body. By the advice of friends and my family physician, I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continued it till the poison in my blood was thoroughly eradicated. I am now perfectly cured, and feel like a new man, being fully restored to my former health. I feel sure of its reward at last. Sooner or later, the most stubborn blood diseases yield to

Cured Me.

I presume my liver was very much out of order, and the blood impure in consequence. I feel that I cannot too highly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla to any one afflicted as I was. —M. S. A. Smith, Gloucester, Vt.

"For years I suffered from scrofula and blood diseases. The doctors' prescriptions and several so-called blood-purifiers being of no avail, I was at last advised by a friend to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and now feel like a new man, being fully restored to my former health. I feel sure of its reward at last. Sooner or later, the most stubborn blood diseases yield to CHARMED HIM STILL.—"Freddy, I can't see what you find to admire in the Miss McGinnis. She is a dreadfully pitted with the smallpox."

"Bah Jove, Cholly, she caught it. Don't yer know, while she was taking care of that wick old uncle who died and left him a great big hundred thousand dollars, bah Jove?"

GETTING EVEN.—Mr. Loxier Hope: May 1.—May I speak to your father, Miss Vera Cole?—It is useless, Mr. Hope. I can never be your wife.

Mr. Loxier Hope.—Excuse me, I wished to speak to him about that $15 he borrowed of me week before last. I'm getting a little nervous about it.

ECONOMY.—"My wife has a saving disposition," said Hicks. "When we got our upright piano, she made a real plush cover for it, so that the roomwood wouldn't get scratched. Then she covered that with a sort of linen duster arrangement so as to save the plush. I tell you, women have great big minds."

QUARRELSOME, SURE.—"I hear your son John is courting Miss Nightingale."

"Yes, and I'm sorry for it. I'm afraid she's a quarrelsome disposition."

"Quarrelsome disposition? What makes you think so?"

"Well, she's a member of the church choir."

They were standing at the front gate. "Won't you come into the parlor and sit a little while, George, dear?"

"No, I think not," replied George, hesitatingly.

"If I wish you would," the girl went on, "it's awfully lonesome. Mother has gone out, and father is upstairs groaning with rheumatism in the feet."

"Both feet," asked George.

"Yes, both feet."

"Then, I'll come in."

"Don't waste your time in clipping off the branches, but lay your axe at the root of the tree," said a woodman to his son.

And the young man went and laid his axe at the foot of the tree, like a good and dutiful boy, and then went fishing.

A Dish of New P's
P stands for Pudding, for Peach and for Pear, and likewise for Poetry and Prose; The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air, For a P in a ring in his nose; For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press, For Physic, and People who sell it; But when you are sick, to relieve your distress Take at once Pierce's Purgative Pellet.

Oh, yes, indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or woman. Nothing like them for relieving the bowels and stomach regulated and in order—tiny, sugar coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

A shrewd old lady cautioned her husband against worrying her husband too much, and concluded by saying: "My child, a man is like an egg. Kept in hot water a little while, he may boil soft; but keep him there too long and he hardens."

An Accident Policy.
The best Accident Policy is to keep Haggard's Yellow Oil on hand. As a pain cure it is unrivaled, while for cramps, sore throat, quins, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., its results are often almost magical. Used externally and internally, price 25 cents.

No matter what the season of the year, we always have flies with us. In the warm weather they are house flies; in the cold days, snow flies; and perpetually there are gnats.

In Darkest Gloom.
Millions of men and women are in the dark gloom of disease. The way out is by using Burdock Blood Bitters, a tried and sure remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

Although the birds begin to sing, The frost at times tangles ears and fingers, For winter is the lap of spring. With all his old persistence lingers. If spring's as charming as is claimed By birds, with all their sweet songs, receive her. Old winter cannot well be blamed For being mighty loath to leave her.
