St. John has always held its own with the rest of the world in every way and now it appears her physicians are about to take their proper rank. A remarkable case has recently been treated by Dr. D. E. Barryman—a case of the displacament of one of the vertebrase of the spinal column with the reduction and complete recovery. Enrly in while he was in a stooping position. It was feared at first that he was dead, but fortunately such was not the case. A portion of the lumbar vertebrase was dislocated. This left the body completely paralysed from that down. When Swanton was taken to the General Public hospital the physis, class in attendance told his friends were diseatisfied and thay took im home. Dr. D. E. Berryman was called in, and his method of treatment was smething hither to unknown, in St. John at least. The boy was lifted out of his bad by six men and then strung up by the neck on a derrick. He was lifted a couple of feet from the floor. This strightened out the spinal column and by some manipulation the vertebraee was put in proper position, thereby relieving the pressure on the spinal cord. On Friday evening, 31st ult., John Hannah, a farmer about 76 years of age, living at Ball's lake, parish of Simonds, St. John went to the McKenzie intervale, where a bull and are of superior value. While thanking those who have so readily responded to an application for an advertisement to be published in Prize List, it may be remarked that the two thousand pamphlets to be issued will probably have several thousand readers. There is still a small amount of space available for those who desire both to aid the exhibition committee and to advance.

Ball's lake, parish of Simonds, St. John went to the McKenzie intervale, where a bull and several cows belonging to him were pasturing. Not returning late at night, a searching party started out, but were unable to get any trace of him. For Opaque Blinds and Window Poles always go to Hugh Hay's. Capada has much to be proud of, and is undoubtedly growing in natural sentiment. But, like the young man who had grown up with such a lotty code of morals, it may justly be said of Canada, "One thing thou lackest." I place the one greatest lack as absence of a sound, healthy public opinion.

It will scarcely be necessary to explain what public opinion is, nor that it is of supreme value—the very sateguard of the nonour, the liberty and the well-being of the State. It is the criterion of the moral sense of the community in the aggregate. Public opinion we have in certain relations. It imposes its penalties with inexorable force mnity upon lapses from honour, virtue, decency and self respect. It haunts the drunkard, the wife-beater, the seducer, and, still more, the seduced. It dogs the hypocrites the blackguard and the humbug. It shadows the valgar and the pretentious. It passes sentence on the liar and the loafer.

Thus far it is well, but it fails where it is most required, namely, in the arena of public life. What we lack is a national public sentence in the life, lapses from honor and decency are properly visited; in the higher functions of government, where party exerte its power, public opinion in Canada is weak and uncertain. It can, under the egils of party, be defied, and the offender reposes serenely under the powerful protection of half, and that, perhaps, a dominant half, of the community. It may be said we are as
