The Apple Trade and McKinley Bill.
To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
Permit me to call the attention of your Upper Woodstock correspondent to the following quotations of market prices of apples in New York, St. John and Toronto, as given in the New York Herald, St. John Globe and Toronto Globe of last week respectively, and then ask him if he thinks the low price of apples which he says prevails in Woodstock is due to the McKinley bill, or to the sluggishness of our apple growers and traders in depending upon the local demand for a market, instead of shipping to foreign markets where McKinley bill is not a hindrance to trade.

New York. St. John. Toronto.
per box. per box. per box.
75 cts. to $2.00 $3.00 to $3.50 $3.50 to $4.00
Also, I beg leave to ask why the apple growers of Canada should look to the United States for a market, or expect higher prices there than here, when the States as well as Canada has a large surplus of apples for exportation, the figures for this season's crop as given by the American Agriculturist, being 255,000 bbls. for the States and 200,000 bbls. for Canada.

In reply to Mr. Stikney's question, "Who pays the Duty?" it must be well that our friends across the border answer it themselves. The Bangor Commercial in an article taken from the Springfield Republican relative to a heavy importation of turkeys from Canada, says: "An American trader bought the 17 car loads of turkeys at the Brookville fair at the ruling price, which ruling price was determined by the McKinley bill, and he paid $15,000 in duties on the same and will add that $15,000 to the price he paid when he sells them in Boston or New York, and he will lose on his bargain. It is preposterous to suppose the McKinley duty of five cents a pound will force down the price of turkeys five cents a pound all over the Dominion. The tariff still remains a tax levied upon our people and paid by them, and luckily, we should say, for were the Government being supported by foreigners, the nation would surely go the way of all parasites who live on the labor of others."

Mr. Stikney mentions $4 as the price paid in one instance for lamb on the other side of the line. But I notice in the Toronto Globe of Aug. 26th (about which time probably the sale to which he refers was made), that lamb in the Toronto market are quoted as high as $4.00. If in some sections along the vast stretch of our boundary line, lambing is a higher price in the States than in Canada, is it a reason why our farmers should sell out and settle in the country to the south of us as Mr. Stikney intimates? If so, I would like to ask if he does not think it would be a safer venture to emigrate to Great Britain where the lamb is sent by the St. John's Agricultural College in May last sold for $2.50 per head, a price about the same as high as $4.00. ### Brighton Polling Booth.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
In your last SENTINEL, appears a letter from See See, enquiring about the Brighton Polling Booths. My attention was called to the matter some time ago by some of the rate-payers, but want of time prevented me from enquiring into it. It appears, however, that another Booth was established at Brighton, including in its limits all of District No. 2 and part of No. 1, and called No. 2 Polling Booth, notwithstanding that No. 2 Booth, as originally established at Windsor Corner, was not abolished by any Act of the Council, as per the published minutes. The questions that are asked by See See are to the point, and should be ascertained at once, so that we may have time to repair the inaccuracies, if any, and not be deprived of a representative at the Board, whether they be in the hands of loyal patriots or of the Dominion. The Secretary-Treasurer would be better able to answer the questions of See See than the Council, as the latter legal questions; and I hope he will, and set at rest the mind of the Brighton elector.

Reciprocity or Canadian Independence.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
The figures developed by the Canadian census are more or less startling and calculated to excite feelings of apprehension in the minds of loyal patriots of the Dominion. They appear discouraging in the extreme to any enthusiastic Canadian, who expected the census to show a reasonable increase in our population. It appears that since 1881 the population of Canada has increased less than a half million, which is considerably less than the rate of increase in England and Wales, from both of which countries there has been a steady emigration to the United States and Australia during the past decade. This showing is especially significant, when it is considered that about $50,000,000 worth of goods have been shipped from Canada to the United States.

Our country comprises within itself a vast empire in extent, rich in natural resources, blessed with a healthful and temperate climate, peopled by a progressive, educated and intelligent race, and supplied with the modern improvements of civilization, including railroads, large manufacturing industries, public works, etc.

The policy of the present Government for years has been to attract emigration from Europe, and especially English emigration, by appealing to the sentiment of affection for the mother country, which is natural to all born on British soil. In spite of all their efforts, however, the drainage of this exodus to the United States has increased largely during the past ten years, and at this time has assumed proportions that render it a problem in our politics that must honestly and fearlessly be met, without recourse to the worn out cry of disloyalty, in the near future.

The history of the Dominion, and the figures of the present census show that the present policy of the Government is a pronounced and utter failure, and that the prosperous times, good markets, increased population and national prosperity, promised by its promoters and leaders, have not been realized.

Comparisons are odious, when made between Canada and the United States, to friends of the present Dominion policy, but I cannot refrain from suggesting that the increase in population of the latter country has been less than one-half which, considering the difference in the respective populations of the two countries, renders more startling the contrast in their growth.

The reason which, perhaps, may be assigned for the American emigration is that the United States offers superior advantages to young men in every department of human endeavor. Perhaps the thousands of young men who are annually leaving Canada have become discouraged and believe there is no prospect of obtaining reciprocal trade relations with the Republic lying south, and that the policy of the free holding clause in this country will ultimately be carried out, viz: To have the Dominion become two or three dependent provinces, sending representatives to European parliament, to legislate upon questions of which they know nothing and to have the Dominion become two or three dependent provinces, sending representatives to European parliament, to legislate upon questions of which they know nothing and to have the Dominion become two or three dependent provinces, sending representatives to European parliament, to legislate upon questions of which they know nothing.

Under this arrangement the young men of our country would have the glorious privilege of visiting their lives in the life-sanguinary European war inaugurated for the purpose of preserving the balance of power. There are other more or less substantial benefits to be derived from this liberal and visionary scheme called imperial Federation.

There is, of course, among loyal Canadians, a difference of opinion as to the best policy for Canada, yet it seems certain that some change is needed, whether it be Reciprocity or Canadian Independence.

Yours truly,
Blomfield, Sept. 4, 1891. JONES

FREDERICTON TOPICS.

Public Opening of the Normal School—Prospects for the Exposition—The Smallest Horse in the World as well as the Famous Stallion—A. A. McMillan—The Fall Election—Police Court News—The Kent Election—Local Briefs.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 16, 1891.
The movers reached the minimum limit this season on Sunday.
M. Welsh left for Glasville yesterday.

J. J. Weddall and C. H. B. Fisher returned from their European trip on Monday. Barking operations have been finished at the Douglas to me.

A large number attended the Presbyterian picnic up the Nashwaak, on Tuesday. About 100 hands were now at work in Hoag's canning factory.

Guinan W. Brown, C. E., now of Wheeling, Virginia, was in the city last week. The election for councillors in the county of York, will be held on Oct. 5th.

Mrs. McGoldrick, wife of Owen McGoldrick, merchant of this city, died on Thursday last.

John McCoy refused $7000 for his stallion Mack F., that won the 235 class at Bangor on Monday.

The Women's Aid Society will hold a festival and lawn party on the grounds of the Methodist Church this evening. The Fredricton Brass Band will discourse music.

On Monday Victoria mills below town with one gang sawed 75,325 feet in 9 hours. The mill was cutting time, or 79, 651 feet in 10 hours.

A locomotive for burning wood is being constructed at McAdam, to run on the Gibson branch of the C. P. R. It will consume about 8000 cords per year.

Dedicator services will be held in the new Methodist Church at Nashwaak village on Sept. 25th by Rev. D. A. Carman, the General Supt. of that denomination.

The nuptials of Miss Bessie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. B. Mitchell of Newbury, and Mr. R. H. Boyd of the North Sydney, Cape Breton, telegraph service, were celebrated in this city last Thursday by Rev. Geo. B. Payson.

William Johnson, who was charged with stealing a wagon from Edgecombe & Sons, was tried Tuesday under the Speedy Trial Act, and was found guilty of the charge on two days in jail, it being decided that he was guilty of misdemeanor only.

Rev. P. A. McMillan preached in St. Paul's Church on Sunday. The pulpit of that church was filled by Rev. Mr. Goff, and Rev. Mr. Hughes officiated at the Baptist Church in the absence of Rev. Mr. Crawley, who was called to Nova Scotia by the death of his father-in-law.

Willard Kitchen was in town on Monday. Kingsclear Agricultural Fair will be held Oct. 21st.

The Wallace-Hopper Comedy Co. appeared in the City Hall on Monday evening to a good house in "Reclaimed." Mr. Wallace, a former member of the "Philosophy in rage," and Miss N. H. R. Hopper sustained their roles almost to perfection, but the same cannot be said of the other members of the company. One, in particular, was decidedly incompatible with the exhibition of good acting. However the company, as a whole, is a good one. They drew a good house on Tuesday when they appeared in "The Hidden Hand."

The news of Attorney General Blair's grand victory in Kent Co. was received here this morning with a rush of enthusiasm.

That the exhibition on Oct. 6, 7 and 8 will be a grand success is conceded on all sides. Great preparations are being made for the fair, and the second day of the exposition the Knights of Pythias of the Maritime Provinces, Presque Isle, Bangor, Eastport and Calais will be in the city.

The Firemen also will have a large procession and torch light procession. The most valuable horse and the most valuable cow in the world will be on exhibition. Everyone has heard of the horse "Lulus," whose tail is 14 feet long and mane 12 feet. The other is a pure bred Shetland pony colt owned by Percy Edgecombe & Sons, and is about 23 inches in height. It is two weeks old and weighs only 150 lbs. Thousands of strangers are expected in this city, and ample accommodation will be provided for all. Good board can be obtained at the rate of $1.00 and $1.25 per day. Excursions on all railway and steamboat lines.

At the police court last Wednesday an interesting case came up for trial. J. W. Taber, grocer, of this city, sued a Mr. Blair, a former clerk of Taber, J. A. Blair, who was in Uncle Sam's territory. Five dollars is credited on the book on the date corresponding with the alleged receipt. Mr. Taber repudiated the receipt and said the balance. The case was adjourned till to-day to afford time for counsel for the plaintiff, A. J. Gogory, to summon the clerk, J. A. Blair, to the witness stand. Mr. Taber is conducting the case in the interest of the defendant.

The public opening exercises of the Provincial Normal School were held on Wednesday last. Quite a number of visitors were present. Besides the faculty of the school Dr. Harrison, U. N. B. Chief Superintendent and Rev. Canon Roberts occupied seats on the platform. Dr. Inch in his address made a most favorable impression. He extended an hearty welcome to the students and wished them all success, indicating that the course of study for the present term would be of a certain extent, but difficult.

That of previous years, the Principal, Mr. MacIn, outlined the history of the Normal School since it was first instituted. During the past 20 years 4531 teachers had graduated 368 of them in 1888, the students numbered 224; in 1889, 230; 1890, 243, and this year, when all were in, the number would be about 270. Dr. Harrison also made an address of welcome and encouragement to the students.

Attorney General Blair was not present as is his usual custom on account of public affairs demanding his attention elsewhere. The following is the correct representation in the Normal School by counties: York, 51; Kings, 22; Northumberland, 19; St. John, 18; Westmorland, 18; Fredericton, 42; Bay of Fundy, 10; Eastgouche, 8; Kent, 8; Sunbury, 6; Gloucester, 4; Victoria, 4; Charlotte, 10. The religious classification was: Roman Catholics, 42; Baptists, 43; Methodists, 39; Episcopians, 38; Presbyterians, 35; F. C. Baptists, 15; Unitarians, 10. The total number of students was 453.

The students are all from Gloucester, Westmorland and Kent counties, with the exception of Miss Alice Cyr, who lives at St. Hilare, Madawaska Co.
