To Those Interested in Fruit

Growing.

It is often said that the New Brunswick is a splendid apple, none better, but it lasts such a a short time. Why can't we grow a good keeper like the American Baldwin. We have that apple in the Wealthy which is just as bardy and productive as the New Brunswick, the apple being as good if not better than the Baldwin. Wealthy apples are for sale and on exhibition at G. W. Slipp's, where those who want a good apple or are interested in truit growing are cordialy invited to call and see the best apple ever introduced to this part of the country.

Is cut down for the track of the railroad, and here we can look up to see huge boulders reeting so carelessly on the side of the mountain that one would imagine a slight push would send it orashing down upon us. In some instances, large rocks have tallen and delayed the train for hours, but the sections are all carefully watched.

One mountain will have on the top, what looks to be a cabin, that might have been built by some lover of scenery to command a view of the country, but on approach we see it is cold stone; another will be guttered down the sides as if it were necessary to have stairs built to the top. Several are orna mented in this way.

Dr. Hoskins of Vermont, authority on fruit growing says, that fruit growing is profitable six hundred miles further north than was supposed to be possible before the Wealthy was originated.

The passage over the mountains to Butte was made in the moon light, and the cool grandeur of the mountain tops is very impressive. This part of the road is eaid to be the most dangerous in Montana. It was often easy to see the headlight of the engine and the lights in the rear car at the same time, while making one of the numerous curves, in while making one of the numerous curves, in Referring to the juvenile work of the order which this portion of the road abounds. The soil is all sand and having been "placer mined" over so much has an anoven appearance, unless levelled for building purposes. Some few have produced soil from unknown sources and made an attempt at a lawn by planting a few trees, etc., but these are very few. This sandy soil has a great tendency to rise even if there be no boom. On a windy day it can be seen and felt, and often to a great deal of discomfort. The smoke of Butte, of which so much has been said, is often very disagreeable as the smell is of sulphur, etc., from the roasting of the ore. The mining-and consequent industries is the chief source of wealth. Business of all kinds is dull now owing to the shutting down of the famous Anaconda mines. Therefore it is not as good a place for a working fore it is not as good a place for a working man as is generally supposed, and to get a good situation at almost any kind of work it is necessary to be very well recommended, for the number of idle men who are known, always get the preference to the stranger within the gates.
