CARLETON CO. S. S. WORK.

Our readers will recall a programme pab-lished for a series of meetings to be held by the Field Secretary of Provincial Sunday School Association, throughout this county.
Since then he has spent about thirty-one days in this part of the field, and held more than forty meetings in the interests of more and better S. S. work. He has met with more than twenty of our schools with teachers and scholars assembled, and by questions, illustrations and application has been suggestively helpful to both teachers and schollars. His sermons on Sabbaths have been pointed and practical, aiming to arouse that large number of adults who think Sunday School is none of their business. These forget that their indifference increases the difficulty in keeping the older scholars. Meanwhile the Secretary never forgot to encourage the workers or to ennoble their high callling.

He sys, "The Church, as a whole, does not value; as it ought, its band of S. S. teachers and officers. It often speaks no word of cheer, and withholds its dollars needed for blackboards, charte, etc , to aid them." His week night addresses have reached many he could not meet on Sabbath. In this aggregate of work he has held six parish conventions, two of which, namely

Kent and Brighton, he organized. These parish associations aim to work out the principle of setting men to work rather than mittee. They must plan the work and then work their plan; and this encourages others to work. He called attention to some places in their own parish where true mission work

The next meeting is to be at Bath in early May. He exhorted the Executive to meet a month beforehand, arrange programme, make good use of local workers, as pastors, superintendents and teachers, and secure only one outside worker to come and help them, and each convention for awhile to seek one worker from other parts of the County.

The Brighton Parish Association was formed at Lower Brighton on atternoon of the availance of the privileges. formed at Lower Brighton on atternoon of able to avail myself of any of the privileges thus afforded to enter into the work with

The meeting at the Pembroke F. B. Church was next evening after a storm. Very few were present, but those few were asked to tell the message to absent ones, so they might do more work for the future.

On Sunday the 14th, field Secretary preached in Reformed Baptist Church, Woodstock. The Superintendents and Teachers say that the service was specially calculated to induce a more entire consecration to their Apr. 23

In the afternoon Mr. G. W. Hovey took the Secretary to Ferryville where he met the the Secretary to Ferryville where he met the united Sunday Schools, and led them in the lessons for the day. At the close useful hints for home study and Bible teaching were given. In the evening a full congregation of adults listened to the Secretary while he showed their responsibility. He proved that their own parish offered opportunities for much work along this line, and exhorted them to organize for work. The field Secretary closed his labors in this county at the tary closed hie labors in this county at the wakefield Parish Convention, held on the 16th, an account of which is given by Secretary Fletcher in another place.

WAKEFIELD PARISH 8. S. CONVENTION.

The Seventh Annual Session of the Wakefield Parish Sunday School Convention was held in the Methodist Church, Lindsay, on Tuesday, 16th instant. The session began at 320, p.m., with a devotional service, conducted by Rey. A. Lucas.

The President and Vice President of the Convention were both absent, and at the request of the Convention, James Watts, ex-President of the County S. S. Convention, took the chair and formally opened Nominations—J. A. Lindsay, Frederick Estey and Robt. Briggs.

Questions—S. J. Parsons, Rev. A. Lucas and G. L. Holyoke. The minutes of the last session were read

The Secretary made the following report. Mr. President, Officers of the Convention, and Fellow Sunday School Workers of the Parish of Wakefield— Those of you who were present at the last Annual Session will remember that when I was renominated to fill the office of when I was renominated to fill the office of Secretary-Treasurer of this Association, I declined the favor, stating that through arrangements I had previously made I would be absent from the County much of my time during the year, and that I feared my absence would seriously interfere with a proper discharge of the duties of the office. Notwithstanding the objections I offered I was elected, and today I must report that the fears I then entertained were not imaginary. During the year I have port that the fears I then entertained were not imaginary. During the year I have been away from the County most of the time, and when at home I felt that my duties as Secretary of the County Convention required the largest portion of the time at my disposal to devote to the work of the visitation of schools. Since our last Convention I have been able to visit but one school in the Parish—that of Rosedale.

You will remember that in former reports I have frequently referred to the vacant places in the Parish—places where Sunday Schools are required, but where none exist. I have frequently pointed those places out to you on the map of the Parish, and urged that measures be adopted to supply those places with the help required to maintain Sabbath Schools. On the Sunday following our last Convention I went to Lower Wakefield—one of those vacant places, where an excellent school had previously done a good work, but which had been dormant for the last few years. I had a

"August Flower"

This is the query per-petually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the big-ger, older, balder-head-ed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually cry from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is August Flower for?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dys-Mrs. Wm. Loane, Main Street pepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this brimful. with and to them. I urged upon their attention the importance of SS. work, and the responsibility of the parents and all members of the Courch of Christ in that place for the main chance of a S.S there mence S.S. work mere in April next. When that time comes I trust the many workers in this Parish will not forget it, but will render that school all the help

I must again ask that efforts be made to establish schools in the other vacant places of this Parish. It is useless to attempt t lisguise the truth with reference to this matter. We have not been faithful to the work committed to us. In no other part the Province have S.S. workers had better opportunities for self-improvement for the work, and for a co-operation in the work. In 1876 the first attempt at organized S.S. Convention work in this Province was com-

This Parish Convention was organized in 1884, and this is the twentieth (and seventh annual) session held. Had we been as faithful in the work as we should have been -as God undoubtedly requires us to bethere would not now be a place in the whole Parish where the children could be deprived of S.S. privileges, nor a Church declining through a neglect of a participa-tion in the work. were read and approved.
Excellent addresses were made by ollowing gentlemen. James Watts, who graphically traced the passages from youth to manhood and womanhood, and on to older age; showing the practical bearings and influences of apparently small events upon the foundation of character, and often the life work of the individual.

Rev. C. Comben, who emphasised the idea of a work leading to thought—deep, earnest thoughts, to be worked out for the temporal and spiritual welfare of mankind.

S. J. Parson, who gave practical illustrations of the use of the blackboard in five minute normal lessons before the comminute normal lessons before the commencement of the class study of the lessons at each Sunday School session.
