Letter Frem Dr. Atkinson To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel. My attention has been called to a domme siestion appearing in the last sense of you paper signed "Justice," in which severe .. sections are in de upon my our duct with re speech which I delivered at Hartland, dealing with the question of the construction of bridge at Hartland, and reported in your paper of the 12th met. It will be readily nderstood that a half column report of a tinent to the discussion. The report of my remarks, and the remarks of other speakers as far as it went, was fairly just as a whole.

One slight error, in which it is is made to appear that I advocated the repair of the Woodstock, bridge, occurs in the report of my remarks. I did not advocate at Hartland or elsewhere the repair of the Woodstock Bridge. elsewhere the repair of the Woodstock Bridge, but on the contrary I have always advocated the construction of a new bridge at that point. audience. And if 'Justice' thinks they will comper their position for any one county he is very much mistaken; and if this be true with respect to a bridge similar to the Florenceville bridge, it has added emphasis of truth if the bridge be built of steel and granite. Thanking you. Mesers. Editors.

December 29, 1891.

Christmas passed very quietly here, and as there was no snow for travelling, business was as a consequence dull. The river here has now been frozen over for a few days, but there is yet no crossing with teams, nor has there been for some weeks. A bridge is much needed here, and would be a great accommodation to the people of Wicklow and vicinity.

The little one was not able to move hand or foot, and for a time the case was considered a hopeless one. Seeing an advertisement in the Hamilton Times, of the wonderful cures being effected by Dr Williams' Pink Pills, Mrs. Martin precured a box and before the youngster had taken all it contained, a marked improvement in her condition was noticed. The paralysis disappeared and the little one's appetite returned. The parent's hearts were delighted with the result. It was while buying the second box that the child torambled out of the carriage on to the sidewalk.
