For 1893.

Partial Prospectus:

Frances Hodgson Burnett will contribute the first serial to appear in Scribner's Magazine for many years, entitled "THE ONE I KNEW THE BEST OF ALL."

H. C. Bauner will furnish a series of six sketches entitled "JERRY STREET AND JERRY LANE" illustrated.

Robert Grant will relate the further experience of Fred and Josephine in "A SUNDAY TO THE REFUGIATIONS OF A MARRIED MAN" illustrated.

Harold Frederic will contribute a brilliant novel of great power entitled "THE COPPERHEAD."

By the Author of "Jerry."

Miss S. B. Rayner, the author of "Jerry," will write a realistic story of life among the Tennessee mountaineers, "THE DURKEE SPECTER."

Personal Reminiscences.

SOME UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF CARLYLE TO EDWARD IVING and others, dealing with a part of Carlyle's life, different from that brought out in the recent letters of Carlyle to his wife, and others, are all of new matter. AN ARTIST IN JAPAN. By ROBERT FLICK, who has just returned from a residence of nearly two years in Japan, and who has been illustrating the author. HISTORICAL MOMENTS, which have been a feature of the magazine during 1892, will be continued by some particularly striking papers, among them several by the great war correspondents, WILLIAM D. HOWARD, ARTHUR FOWLER, and others.

Men's Occupations.

A series of articles on the life work of men in many callings—the chief war (exclusive of professions) in which men earn their livelihood.

The World's Fair in Chicago.

A series will be published later in the year giving the impressions made by the Exhibition upon different observers of note, both American and foreign; and many of these observers will be also artists who will illustrate their articles.

Miscellaneous Articles.

Further contributions to the POOR IN GREAT CITIES. Mr. Brewster's illustrated paper on the London plan for HOME AID TO INVALID CHILDREN, etc. Of special interest also will be Professor Huxley's authoritative account of the PEABODY EXHIBITION (illustrated). A very interesting article by OTTAVIO LUZZATI on the exhibition of WOMAN'S ART now going on in Paris, and articles upon artistic subjects, accounts of travels, etc., etc.

The Illustrations.

Of the year will represent the work not only of the well-known illustrators, but many drawings will also appear by artists who are best known as painters.

After the Election.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

As a result of the Presidential Election of the 31st inst., there can be no doubt that, in due time, measures of tariff reform will be inaugurated and carried through. But these remedial steps cannot come about as quickly as some persons are saying, or perhaps as many who live in the Maritime Provinces might wish. By the terms of the Constitution of the United States no sudden changes of methods of government are admissible. The Democratic party carried the country at the election, but Mr. Cleveland will not take the oath of office until the 4th of March next. At that time the new Congress comes into being, but except a short session of the Senate for executive business, no attempt at legislation will occur until the regular meeting of Congress on the first Monday of the next December. The Republican leaders, in their eagerness to make trouble for the new administration, are striving that an extra session of Congress will be called, but the wish is father to the thought. It is not at all likely that the regular routine of the forms of our government will be interfered with.

There must necessarily, therefore, be quite an interval of time, yet, before the enactment of new tariff laws. It would be certainly to try to state just what modifications of the existing law will be made. It is certain, however, that free trade, pure and simple, will not be advocated by any large number of persons.

It is reasonable to believe that the prohibitory features of the present law will be largely retained, and that can be done with out loss of revenue, for with a lower duty on raw materials there will be larger consumption of imported articles.

The free list undoubtedly will be enlarged in the interests of reform by putting on it coal, iron, lumber, and wool. The duty on potatoes will probably be placed again at the former figure, for in this year of scarcity we find that the price, at retail, has advanced away out of reach of the means of the work ing people.

If these additions to the free list be made, the change will undoubtedly benefit the Province, but the greater benefit will be seen in giving us materials we want, and also intending to break down certain giant monopolies which have thriven under the tariff laws, a legacy of the war times.

We are glad to hear that our young friend Mr. S. Dunlop has supplied a well long felt here, by opening a store, and beginning to do a general business. From what we have long heard of the gentleman, we are sure he will give every satisfaction to the public.

Mr. Dunlop, Methodist Missionary, still continues to occupy the F. O. B. pulpit here with much acceptance. It was rumored in certain quarters, a short time ago, that a suggestion had been made by a leading M. in the district to put up a small M. church here. Such a suggestion will certainly not be carried out, at least, so long as present arrangements hold good. Besides, we don't require any more churches in Aberdeen, at any rate at present. We have enough and to spare, "I don't know" will insist on adding to our already large number—large for such a district, why then—"Go it, ye cripples!"—Aye the man, the merrier."

It is marvelous how many people use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, to say retail druggists.

I must tell you that the harvest is past and the summer is ended and I trust the people in this district are all saved; if we are not, we will only have ourselves to blame, for we had a very faithful minister in the person of A. F. Johnson. A sorry story may be told, but the same time I am glad that he has gone to the land of work he loves; he has gone to be a Missionary amongst the Indians on Pine Ridge, Southern Dakota. I am so pleased to inform you that we have got another Missionary among us, who, we trust will also do good work. His name is Mr. Pringle, he came from the north and on speak Scotch as broad as any of us; he preached in our District last Sabbath, and gave a very able and interesting sermon. He was educated in Ellensburg, Scotland.

Crops were all good and the weather was very favorable for getting them taken care of. The thrashing machine has been around, but we have not heard of any very big returns from that source, with the exception of one small sample of oats, sown in this district, which came from the experimental farm, Ottawa; three pounds were sown, and about 200 bushels, the average figure for this year of scarcity we find that the price, at retail, has advanced away out of reach of the means of the work ing people.

If these additions to the free list be made, the change will undoubtedly benefit the Province, but the greater benefit will be seen in giving us materials we want, and also intending to break down certain giant monopolies which have thriven under the tariff laws, a legacy of the war times.

Electricity Put to a New Use.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Jockey Kuba was caught stirring up Little Ore with an electric battery at 12 1/2 this afternoon. As the horse came to the post for the third time the attention of the judge was attracted by the unusual commotion, and when he came in contact with Kuba's heels.

The jockey was searched and under his jacket was found a broad belt with cartridges strapped to it, each of which contained an electric coil with wires running to the spurs. Nothing could be done with Kuba under the rules, but the judge immediately ordered the regulations to be so altered that the case.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

As a result of the Presidential Election of the 31st inst., there can be no doubt that, in due time, measures of tariff reform will be inaugurated and carried through. But these remedial steps cannot come about as quickly as some persons are saying, or perhaps as many who live in the Maritime Provinces might wish. By the terms of the Constitution of the United States no sudden changes of methods of government are admissible. The Democratic party carried the country at the election, but Mr. Cleveland will not take the oath of office until the 4th of March next. At that time the new Congress comes into being, but except a short session of the Senate for executive business, no attempt at legislation will occur until the regular meeting of Congress on the first Monday of the next December. The Republican leaders, in their eagerness to make trouble for the new administration, are striving that an extra session of Congress will be called, but the wish is father to the thought. It is not at all likely that the regular routine of the forms of our government will be interfered with.

There must necessarily, therefore, be quite an interval of time, yet, before the enactment of new tariff laws. It would be certainly to try to state just what modifications of the existing law will be made. It is certain, however, that free trade, pure and simple, will not be advocated by any large number of persons.

It is reasonable to believe that the prohibitory features of the present law will be largely retained, and that can be done with out loss of revenue, for with a lower duty on raw materials there will be larger consumption of imported articles.

The free list undoubtedly will be enlarged in the interests of reform by putting on it coal, iron, lumber, and wool. The duty on potatoes will probably be placed again at the former figure, for in this year of scarcity we find that the price, at retail, has advanced away out of reach of the means of the work ing people.

If these additions to the free list be made, the change will undoubtedly benefit the Province, but the greater benefit will be seen in giving us materials we want, and also intending to break down certain giant monopolies which have thriven under the tariff laws, a legacy of the war times.

We are glad to hear that our young friend Mr. S. Dunlop has supplied a well long felt here, by opening a store, and beginning to do a general business. From what we have long heard of the gentleman, we are sure he will give every satisfaction to the public.

Mr. Dunlop, Methodist Missionary, still continues to occupy the F. O. B. pulpit here with much acceptance. It was rumored in certain quarters, a short time ago, that a suggestion had been made by a leading M. in the district to put up a small M. church here. Such a suggestion will certainly not be carried out, at least, so long as present arrangements hold good. Besides, we don't require any more churches in Aberdeen, at any rate at present. We have enough and to spare, "I don't know" will insist on adding to our already large number—large for such a district, why then—"Go it, ye cripples!"—Aye the man, the merrier."

It is marvelous how many people use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, to say retail druggists.

I must tell you that the harvest is past and the summer is ended and I trust the people in this district are all saved; if we are not, we will only have ourselves to blame, for we had a very faithful minister in the person of A. F. Johnson. A sorry story may be told, but the same time I am glad that he has gone to the land of work he loves; he has gone to be a Missionary amongst the Indians on Pine Ridge, Southern Dakota. I am so pleased to inform you that we have got another Missionary among us, who, we trust will also do good work. His name is Mr. Pringle, he came from the north and on speak Scotch as broad as any of us; he preached in our District last Sabbath, and gave a very able and interesting sermon. He was educated in Ellensburg, Scotland.

Crops were all good and the weather was very favorable for getting them taken care of. The thrashing machine has been around, but we have not heard of any very big returns from that source, with the exception of one small sample of oats, sown in this district, which came from the experimental farm, Ottawa; three pounds were sown, and about 200 bushels, the average figure for this year of scarcity we find that the price, at retail, has advanced away out of reach of the means of the work ing people.

If these additions to the free list be made, the change will undoubtedly benefit the Province, but the greater benefit will be seen in giving us materials we want, and also intending to break down certain giant monopolies which have thriven under the tariff laws, a legacy of the war times.
