FREDERICTON, June 22, 1892.
The crops in York Co. look well.
The weather lately has been cold and showery.
Strawberries have appeared; they bring 25 cts. a box.
J. B. Gunter has returned from McGill for the summer vacation.
Willard Kitchen was in the city from Woodstock on Monday.
The Kickapoo Medicine Co. is now at Chatham.

Hale the Carleton Co. ventriloquist, is enjoying the hospitality of Marysville.
There is a plentitude of salmon in the market. Prices ranging from 15 to 20 cts.
Private Quinn of the I. S. Corps, is spending 25 days in jail for being drunk while on duty.

The Salvation Army had a big bazaar at their barracks on Monday. The jubilee was very largely attended.

The work of remodelling the C. P. R. depot is about finished. It is a great improvement and looks very fine.

Tuesday was the longest day of the year. The out going trains on Saturday were crowded with students of the Normal School on their homeward journey.

Big audiences saw the plays produced by the Summer Stock Co. last week. The Co. gave good satisfaction.

A slight fire in the Custom House, over the post office, on Friday drew a big crowd but it was easily distinguished. The hose carts were at hand but the water was not turned on.

Wm. Smith, truckman, fell off a heavily loaded wagon on Monday the hind wheel passing over his chest. He is seriously injured but will recover.

Rev. Father Chaitilian, assistant pastor of St. Dunstan's Church, was seized with a sudden illness while visiting a parishioner on Monday.

John Eggar, a well known artist and house painter of the city, died last week, aged 65.
Two privates of the I. S. C., named Brown and Allan, were sentenced to 30 and 22 days jail respectively for desertion. The boy bugler, Furlong, will be tried by district court martial for the same offence.

A. J. Fowle, drill instructor of the Canadian Regiment of Infantry, and Miss Minnie H. Martin of the city, were united in marriage at St. Paul's Church last Wednesday. Rev. Mr. McDonald performed the ceremony.

The Fredericton Orange Lodges have decided not to go to East Florenceville on July 12th, but to go to Moncton instead, where a monster celebration is to be held. It is estimated the number of Orangemen in the parade will reach 2,000.

The "Emeralds" temperance workers, are still in the city holding meetings in the Temperance Hall, York St. Sunday evening the building was crowded. Prof. Morgan and Fair's daughter, delighted the audience with their singing.

Wilnot Lawrence of Lower Dumfries who taught the East Florenceville school for a number of terms, has been appointed to the staff of the Fresh Air Hospital at Chambly, Quebec. Mr. Lawrence has been at McGill Medical College for some time past.

Four companies of the I. S. Corps will leave on Saturday for camp at Sussex, under command of Capt. Hemming. Next Tuesday, the 28th, they will be joined by the Brighton Engineers of Woodstock, and companies from other parts of the Province.

A new fence on the post office property is the subject of much ridicule. In his next speech at Ottawa it would afford the representative from York a good illustration whereby to prove that retrenchment is the chief aim of the present Government.

A four year old son of Geo. Crawford, was drowned in the river near Calder's boat house on Monday. He was playing about the building when he fell off the platform into the water which was only two feet deep. His five year old brother saw the accident and ran clear home to tell his mother instead of summoning help from the first person he met. The boy's mother arrived too late. The body was found floating in the water but all efforts to resuscitate life were vain.

The Pharmaceutical Society meets here today. The city druggists will tender the visitors a dinner at the Queen Hotel this evening.

Under the new military regulations the soldiers who go to camp at Sussex, will only be allowed to carry 5 pounds of baggage in place of 50 as before.

The Foresters of this city, St. Marys, Marysville and Keswick on Sunday marched in a body to the Methodist church to attend divine service in response to a proclamation from the Supreme Chief Ranger Dr. Oronhyatekha, that day being the 18th anniversary of the founding of the order. The procession, numbering about 150, was headed by the Fredericton Brass Band. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. McConnell of Gibson chaplain of Court St. Mary's. The Foresters occupied the center of the church which was filled to the very doors. The Rev. gentleman in an excellent sermon set forth the advantages of the order and exhorted all to live up to the requirements of the constitution which was based upon bible principles. The order now numbers over 30,000 having gained about 10,000 during the past year. It is a benevolent society based upon principles of mutual aid and fraternal intercourse in the business and social relations of life. It not only cares for the sick, buries the dead, provides for the widow and orphan, but it gives special attention to the commandment "Love one another," and the principles of Liberty, Benevolence and Concord. During the past year over $944,000.00 were disbursed to sick members and orphans and widow and orphans, and there is still a reserve fund of $435,591.78 in the treasury. The sermon was attentively listened to. After service the procession re-formed and marched to the Hall on York St. where it disbanded.

The dead body of a man was found on the sidewalk at Gibson about 10 o'clock Sunday evening. It was identified as that of Robt. Neill brother of Jas. Neill, hardware merchant of this city. His death was caused by poisoning. Two bottles were found on his person one containing a medicine for sleeplessness and the other a quantity of Carbolic acid. At the Coroner's inquest the facts were brought to light that deceased had been under the influence of liquor; went to Tilley's drug store at St. Mary's to get a prescription filled and while there secretly took the bottle containing the poison from a shelf and placed it in his pocket. On his way to his home in Gibson it is supposed he drank a portion of the liquid which caused his death as adduced by Dr. Crockett who held a post mortem examination. Whether it is a case of suicide or an accident will never be known, but it is thought the unfortunate man suffered from temporary mental aberration induced by strong drink. This is a temperance lesson brought to our very doors; another example of the awful effects of the fatal glass.

All in the village are rejoiced at hearing of the possibility of our railway being built shortly. Some think there has been too much delay in beginning the work, after Dominion and Local parliaments having granted such generous subsidies, but if work is shortly begun and railroad pushed on vigorously, we shall forget our past complaints, and give the company credit after all for sincerity.

The Foresters are increasing in numbers and influence in this village. They purpose marching to Baptist Church on Sunday p. m., June 26th. one week after the 18th anniversary of the formation of the association, to listen to a sermon preached by Elder Thompson, of Tracey's Mills. Query—Why import a minister when there are four resident pastors?

Rev. Thos. Todd leaves to-morrow to attend Baptist Association at Fredericton, which opens on Friday. Mrs. Todd purposes accompanying her husband.

Those who attended F. C. B. district meeting report favorably of the proceedings, unanimity prevailing throughout. They speak in high terms of the kindness of the people of Windsor, and of the natural beauties of the place.

Rev. Samuel Howard is absent from the village attending Methodist Conference at Charlottetown. The reverend gentlemen will be leaving shortly, to the regret of the working members of his denomination. Many are anxiously looking forward to the time when his successor will arrive.

Frequent showers and a warm sun have started the crops wonderfully.

Our roads are now undergoing the much needed repairs.

The residence of Mr. W. O. Cluff was the scene of a very happy event on last Monday evening, their "till wedding" being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Cluff were the recipients of many fine presents. We, with their many friends, trust that they will live to enjoy many similar events.

Miss Gussie Longway of California, is visiting at her uncle's Mr. S. A. Rogers, intending to remain through the summer months.

Mr. William Gray and James Rogers of Duluth, Minn., are home visiting their parents, the former having been absent nearly nine years and the latter nearly two years.

Glassville Items.

June 20, 1892.
Preparations are here being made, on a grand scale, for a mammoth tea meeting, church fairs, etc., to be held on the spacious and romantic meadow grounds, in the beginning of next month. The Glassville cooks, bakers, and confectioners are all over head and ears at work—slicing, designing, concocting, mixing, moulding, baking, roasting, broiling, boiling, stewing, frying, griddling and toasting to the utmost limits of female ingenuity; and, from our former observation and experience of Aberdeen confectionery and culinary art, we can safely promise such a splendid gastronomic spread and Epicurean treat, as, on similar occasions, can be realized nowhere else, than in this garden of Carleton County. We are not joking. It's a fact; and all the women folks, at any rate, will swear to the truth of our statement. In order to accommodate our patrons, a spacious pavilion will be erected, in front of the parsonage, capable of dining two hundred visitors at once; and, as all nationalities and religious persuasions are expected to be represented, the pavilion will be surmounted by flags of all nations, and banners embroidered with the emblems and mottoes of all churches, conspicuous among which will appear the Burning Bush, surrounded by a scroll, bearing the time-honored words—Nec tamen consumelatur. The high stewards, two distinguished members of the court of Trustees, have been solemnly set apart, and are now holding weekly meetings, to perfect arrangements, so that, on the great day of the feast, there may occur no confounded hitch, but all things shall be done in order, and unto edification (See John Knox's Book of Discipline). "Musicians" have been engaged to thrill the pious gurglers with the symphonies of melodious strains, as an antidote to biliousness, and an incitement to healthy digestion. There will be the usual orthodox church games—post offices, fish ponds, grab bags, lotteries, swings, sack-races, tumble-ups, horse races, etc., with all the usual "tricks in trade," practised on such occasions by the faithful; but as yet we have not received a full programme. Nevertheless all—old and young—are busy, with the most praiseworthy zeal, in rushing everything up to the notch, for the grand annual "catch," while—to quote from the irrepressible English novelist, who the other day started the buttermilk conundrum—"he who must be obeyed" is putting on his sweetest smiles, and playing off the most fascinating Circean lures—all with an eye to the main chance. We would humbly suggest, as a grand finale to the carnival, a ballet dance by a few distinguished members of the— a tight rope performance (not a hanging match by—), all winding up with a magnificent pyrotechnic display. We omitted to mention, that an efficient corps of constables will be on the ground "from dewy morn, till grateful evening mild," to compel the pilgrims to keep the peace, and that, to provide quarters for the expected great rush of visitors, our genial Bonifacio will add a new temporary wing to the Glassville House. No intoxicating liquors will be sold on the premises, but copious supplies may be had from the neighboring bushes.

June 21, 1892.
It is often the misfortune of preachers, as well as of school teachers, to be subjected to petty annoyances, and even raucous vituperation, on the part of spiteful and desperately cranky women—women entirely destitute of common sense, and consequently utterly devoid of any thing in the shape of reason or charity. Of course, such "clattering vagabonds," such peevish moral scavengers never do any ultimate harm to the victims of their low malice, however disagreeable, for the passing hour, to the feelings of such, the echoes of their venomous tongues may be. In a certain district, we wot of, the people, during the past year, have been much favored, and, we have every reason to believe, much benefited by the very acceptable pulpit ministrations of a young and talented M— missionary, who, it must be admitted—whether we endorse all his religious and other opinions or not—has been indefatigable in the faithful and laborious discharge of his pastoral duties, and, with the exception of one or two instances, owing to "stress of weather," regular and punctual, in fulfilling his preaching appointments. On more occasions than one, in very stormy weather, when he was in his place to conduct the usual divine service—a fortnightly one—after driving quite a number of miles, not a few people, almost within a stone's cast or two of the place of worship, were afraid to wet their very delicate skins, or spoil their very elegant bonnets by coming out to meeting. "The nearer the kirk," you know, "the farther from grace." The consequence was, that on such occasions our young friend had to preach only to two or three. On a late occasion a very heavy storm of rain came on, just as he was preparing to leave home to fulfil his preaching appointment in the delectable district referred to. There was every prospect of the storm continuing all evening, and through the night, without intermission. He very wisely, we think, did not harness up. There was, as it unfortunately happened, a large gathering in his place of worship, and in the gathering of course one or two, who make it a rule never to go to our evening meetings at all, when the weather will permit them to do anything in the fields, and who, with the exception of one or two evenings, have never darkened the door of our place of worship during the past year. And now they are raising a pious hullabaloo about the preacher's non-appearance. Oh! consistency, thou art a jewel. The Lord deliver me from a "Midi antian woman!" We would always like to act "on the square," both with Jew and Gentile. As Lord Byron beautifully expresses it—
"Justice to do to Trojan and to Tyrian;
For I was bred a moderate Presbyterian."

Birch Ridge Items.

June 20, 1892.
The picnic under the auspices of the Episcopal Sunday scholars on the Tobique, was celebrated with success on the 17th inst. There was a large attendance from Sisson Ridge, Birch Ridge and Arbutus, with visitors from Perth and Andover. Various prizes were presented by Rev. J. R. Hopkins to winners in games, races, etc.

Bishop Kingdon is spending a week in this vicinity; he, assisted by Revs. J. R. Hopkins and Leo Hoyt, confirmed 30 candidates at Sisson Ridge, on Thursday last.

There is talk of still another Episcopal Church on this River, with an additional minister to assist Rev. Mr. Hopkins. This is much needed, as the present incumbent has far too large a parish, as one man cannot possibly do justice to the whole.

Of Significance.

Mr. Harrison was already nominated, having received 467 votes. There remained on the roll call thirteen States and Territories. In accordance with Wolcott's demand these States were formally called, and, despite the fact that the President had already been nominated Virginia cast 15 votes against him, Washington 8, Wisconsin 5, Wyoming 2, District of Columbia 2 and Indian Territory 1. It would doubtless be pleasing to the Democrats to know that thirty-two votes in a Republican convention were cast against its candidate after he had secured the nomination. This fact and the mere accident that his list of votes requisite to nomination was made complete by a Democratic State, Texas, will form the burden of much Democratic comment hereafter.

Canada will make a remarkable display of her mineral resources at the World's Fair. The province of Ontario has determined on making a large exhibit of all the minerals found in that province, and Quebec has resolved not to be behind her sister province in this respect. Nova Scotia, so rich in mineral wealth, is also actively engaged in bringing together specimens of her richest deposits. It is expected that the gold ores of Nova Scotia will surprise many of the visitors to the World's Fair, while the samples from her coal fields will afford some idea of the wonderful resources of the province in that particular. The asbestos, mica, plumbago and phosphate deposits will form prominent features in the Quebec exhibit; while the rich nickel ores, for which Ontario is now so famous, will receive much attention from that province. The Dominion geological survey will make a very fine exhibit, which will afford facilities for studying the mineral resources of the country, on either the limited provincial basis or from the wider Dominion standpoint.

The London Trades Council have decided to run a labor candidate in Mid-Jothian district, Gladstone's present constituency, in the coming general election.

A Chicago paper says that a family quarrel has led to startling revelations in connection with the Cronin murder. State Attorney Longnecker, it is hinted, has not only added information recently gathered about it, but has something tangible to support and verify the latest revelations. He has in his possession the instrument with which Dr. Cronin was killed, which turns out to be a stone-cutter's chisel, and not the icepick of O'Sullivan. It is said he has under observation and has seen the wagon which carried the trunk and the doctor's body to the catch basin in Lake View, and it is further said that he has a confession or document in his possession embodying the above information and much more.

Fairville, St. John, purposes a water service; in a discussion on the matter, there, recently, it was made evident that the speakers were not acquainted with the "more modern" Woodstock and its stand pipe; we quote:—
"The chairman thought what Mr. Peters proposed to do would be to introduce a water supply similar to that of Fredericton, which was as good as any in the Dominion."

Mr. Peters explained that his idea was similar to that and said it would be an improvement on the system in use in Woodstock where water was continuously pumped by engines, whilst at Fairville, with the tower on Moore's hill, it would only be necessary, except on occasions when extra force was required, to run the engines three or four hours a day.

In the English House of Commons, on the 15th, when the Irish Education bill was under discussion, Mr. Balfour accepted all the amendments offered by Mr. Sexton, of Belfast. On the subject of public aid to the schools managed by the Christian Brothers, the government consented to a compromise, whereby the schools in question should be enabled to receive State subsidies. The Irish members thereupon withdrew their opposition to the bill and it will doubtless pass. This compromise is certain to arouse vehement criticism in certain quarters that strongly oppose state aid to any schools managed by Christian bodies.

The Cambridge (Mass.) Chronicle, of the 11th inst., has the following:—
"There was a quiet family wedding at the residence of Mrs. Chalmers, 47 Columbia street on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Charles Bailey, of Woodstock, N. B., and Miss Jennie R. Chalmers of this city. Rev. Jesse Wagner of Grace M. E church performed the ceremony. The couple left on the evening train for their future home in Woodstock."

The government crop bulletin for Manitoba gives the following figures showing the acreage under crops: Wheat 875,990, oats 332,974, barley 97,644, peas 2,188, potatoes 10,000, roots 17,498. The acreage of wheat is slightly less than last year. The report states the dairying interest is in an unfavorable state, owing to the scarcity of help. Regarding the crop prospects it states the outlook is exceedingly bright and fully up to last year's enormous yield. The farmers are jubilant over the situation.

Says the Kennebec Journal:—

"How fast we are making history these days; new states, new presidents, terrible floods upon western rivers, six inch snow storms in apple blossom time, the ocean record of steamships broken—all these will pass into history and be among the dates and facts that will forever have place upon the scroll of history and the pages of cyclopaedias."

The Boston Transcript, in concluding an excellent article on the powers of parliament, says:—

"To-day parliament governs England, and governs as no other legislative body governs. Our Congress is hedged about by constitutional limitations of its power. It may do this, but it may not do that. Parliament, on the other hand, is judge of what it may do, and ere this it has unseated dynasties and established and regulated the title to the throne."

Presbyterian General Conference.

MONTREAL, June 16. A debate took place last night on the question of Sabbath observance. The report of the committee condemned the general tendency throughout the country to turn the Sabbath into a day of work and denounced the running of railway trains, the opening of post offices and publishing Sunday newspapers; it also commended Mr. Charlton's Sabbath observance bill. Many prominent members of the assembly supported the report. The assembly adopted a resolution condemning the non-observance of the Lord's day and approved of Mr. Charlton's resolution.

The assembly also resolved to join with other religious bodies in urging upon the authorities of the Columbian exhibition to close the exhibition on the Sabbath. It was also decided to petition the Canadian government to direct the closing of all exhibits over which they have authority.

Which? "The Yellow Egg," or "Saunders' Plum."

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel.

An agent of the firm of H. D. Patty, Geneva, N. Y., made me a pleasant visit recently, and upon showing me his plate book, I called his attention to the fact that what he offered, in illustration, as the "Yellow Egg" plum, another salesman for the firm of Stone & Wellington, Toronto, Ont., had represented and sold me as the specimen of a new seedling, with distinctive merit, named the "Saunders' Plum"—illustrated by the same, identical out!

Now, though it may be allowable, customary and convenient for Nurserymen to make an old illustration answer to describe a new fruit, the practice seems to me to be both misleading and perplexing, whereas the only features distinguishing one fruit from another are form size and color—all that the artist can accommodate to the eye, and by virtue of which most of the orders given are obtained; yet, confessedly, his coloring is often quite enough to serve the palate, which is true of the picture used to represent the two plums in question, and which, if not more dissimilar in their qualities, than in their features, would seem identical; and if the same, then should not be sold as possessing peculiar value.

But doubtless these gentlemen will be ready with an explanation, and perhaps justify their use of the same out in soliciting orders for two supposedly different plums.

Inquiringly yours,
BENJ. E. HAMILTON.

Woman's Influence.

The London Methodist Times says:—
Lady Henry Somerset's visit to America has already had great results. It has brought home to her own mind an overwhelming conviction that women must play an active and prominent part in all modern reforms, and that they can never fully exert their legitimate influence unless they enjoy the parliamentary as well as the municipal franchise. Under the influence of this conviction, Lady Henry has effected something like a revolution in the British Women's Temperance Association. She has persuaded them to favor women's suffrage, with a view to more active temperance effort than temperance women in this country have hitherto made. Under the same deep conviction, she herself has consented to be one of the progressive candidates for the Executive Committee of the Ladies' Liberal National Association. The progressive candidates are all in favor of making women's suffrage an essential part of the work of the organization. Lady Henry Somerset has seen that women in America have in some directions rendered greater services to temperance reform and other moral movements than the women of England have hitherto attempted. There is every prospect that, under her wise and powerful initiative, we are about to see a great development of women's work in the direction of Christian legislation.

Archbishop of Canterbury on Morals in Politics, etc.

In view of the near approach of the general election in England the Archbishop of Canterbury was approached with a suggestion that he should invite to a private conference the leaders of the different denominations. The Archbishop has written the following reply to a correspondent:—

"LAMBETH PALACE, S. E., June 1, 1892.
"Dear Sir,—There can be no doubt that all religious men agree with you that persons judicially condemned on grounds of immorality of all kinds are not proper legislators. A conference of religious men declaring that they thought so would not carry their own opinion or other people's opinion any further, but, if it did not rest there, it would, I believe, soon find itself resolved into semi-political caucuses from which the religious character would mainly disappear. What does seem to me infinitely more effective than any conceivable result of a conference is that all religious people should by their action and influence aid in the choice of representatives and in the tasks they would impose upon them anent the already existent common understanding. When this seems to be defective preachers should do their plain duty of endeavoring to restore or raise the sense that morals are life to the community. Believe me, yours very truly,
(Signed) "EDWARD CANTUAR."
