To the Editors of the Carlton Sentinel.

On commencing my Spring work I discovered, in great numbers, what I supposed to be a new beetle. I accordingly wrote to one Dr. J. H. H. and forwarded him a sample of the same, asking him its name, habits, etc., and if I had occasion to be alarmed. He returned his prompt and kind reply, which may possibly be of use to others, who may do it better to give battle than at last, to surrender, without protest, the object which they follow.

I am, dear Sir,

Yours obediently,
JAMES FLETCHER.

The Queen's Birthday—The Celebration at the Capital—A Variety of Amusements—Theatrical Companies—The Gibson Train to start from Fredericton—The River Steamer—Lumber Notes—The Fall Exhibition—Personal News—City Briefs—For Readers of the Sentinel.

Fredericton, May 24th, 1892.

A lacrosse club is to be organized. A new boat house has been built. Thomas Temple arrived from Ottawa on Saturday.

Sir Leonard Tilley spent the holiday in the city.

Wilfred Burden has returned from Moncton.

Drunkness has been rampant for the past week or two.

The new time table of the C.P.R. went into effect on Monday.

Quite a number left this morning on the excursion to Lunenburg where the Bishop of Antigonish will be in charge.

Rev. G. A. Hartley of St. John was in town last week.

The grange at York Mills was destroyed by fire last week. Loss about $3000. Insurance $1800.

A bridge is being built across Kelley's Creek on the Fredericton Woodstock road.

A Reformed Baptist church has just been completed at Southampton.

The new shingle mill at Maysville will commence work to-morrow.

An alarm of fire was sounded on Sunday caused by a slight fire in the Commercial Hotel.

J. E. B. McGready, Editor of the Telegraph, was in the city last week.

The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co. are at Maysville.

J. W. Hart of the dairy commission staff Ottawa is to take charge of the Kings' clear creamery.

The extract works at Piquette are not running owing to the great depression in the bark business.

The Herald claims to have the largest circulation of any newspaper published in this city.

Rev. Canon Neale of Woodstock was in town last week attending a meeting in connection with Sabbath school work.

Andrew Guter father of John B. Guter, insurance agent of this city, died at his home on Quaker street on Wednesday last in the 75th year of his age.

The University degree examinations are now being held and will be concluded this week.

Harry Chestnut, of this city, has returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where he spent the winter season. Judge Standman, who has been in Riverside, Cal., for several months for his health, is expected home next month.

The annual agricultural exhibition will be held the first and second of October and will be the grandest of all shows ever held in Fredericton. Cheap excursions will be run from all points in the Province.

A unique entertainment entitled "The Lemon Squeeze" was given in the Church Hall last week.

Barnett M. Mallin, of St. Mary's, brother of Principal Mallin of the Normal School, recently graduated in medicine at Baltimore and is now practicing his profession at Chelsea, Mass.

Mr. U. N. B. concilia will be held next Thursday afternoon, June 2nd. B. B. Baxter, of Andover, will be the valedictorian.

A student of the University, in relation of which was made in last week's issue, the name of Miss Lizzie Gilmore, of Woodstock, was not published owing to the omission of a misapprehension. Miss Gilmore's singing was one of the most pleasant features of the evening and was much enjoyed.

There is some talk of the Steamer Florence being put on the route between here and St. John as soon as the fall of water prevents her from running to Woodstock. The Florence would be a great improvement upon the Belle Isle, now running between the two cities.

Referring all the way from the River to Fredericton have been very busy for the past week. A great deal of lumber is coming down and considerable is being purchased at Springfield. Work at the mill is progressing nicely.

For a long time the travelling public have felt the inconvenience of having to cross the river to board the train. A branch track from Woodstock and up to the mill, and a bridge about one-half mile long, it is reported, whereby the train will run direct from Fredericton crossing on the C. E. Railway bridge. The station at Gibson will be done away with, the work being done at St. Mary and Fredericton. It is to be hoped that the change will soon be made. The Josie Mills Co. have been playing to food houses and are giving entire satisfaction. To night they will close their engagement presenting the sensational comedy, "Woman against Woman," to the biggest house of the season.

The big audience that saw Uncle Hiram in the City Hall last week, were more than delighted with the play. The saw mill scene and the express train were extremely realistic and around the house to the theatre. It is a lesson that a company leaves a better impression than they have done. Should they ever return to Fredericton a full house is sure to be given them.

Another caterer to the theatre group here is the celebrated Alvin J. J. Co., who are too well known to require any advertisement. They give a good show and deserve liberal patronage. They give one performance only, at the City Hall on Saturday evening next.

Fred Coleman, of the Barker House, this city, who has resigned his position as caterer to the House of Commons, claims that he has lost $3000, during the time he was at Ottawa.

Ministry always takes well in this city and Arlington's New Union Minster, in the City Hall, Tuesday night, will have a full house. A street parade will be given by the troupe at night. The city is now billed for the performance with the finest lithographs of the kind ever seen here. The first part of the entertainment represents an Anglo-American reception at a "Parade" and the costumes are said to be magnificent. The second part includes specialties consisting of burlesque, ventriloquism, songs and dances, and a variety of mirth producing novelties.

To-day is the 73rd anniversary of the Queen's birthday and the holiday is being generally observed. Flags are flying from all public and many private buildings and the city presents the usual holiday appearance. Nearly all the stores and offices are closed and everybody appears to be having a good time. The weather is all that could be desired although, on account of the late rains, the streets are rather muddy. The military parade and the firing of the usual gun of peace at the officers square attracted crowds of people. The railway conductors excursion train from St. John brought a great many strangers to the city. The races at the Park were well attended and the crowds witnessed the horse ball game. Several private picnics were held in the vicinity of the city. To night the freeman's banquet is in the Curling rink and Josie Mills in the City Hall are furnishing the amusement for the visitors. The celebration has been quite a success and the strangers will leave bearing with them the memory of a most enjoyable day.

Destruction of Life and Property.

Terrible destruction of property and much loss of life, is the burden of the tale coming from south and west of the United States, in consequence of the heavy winds and snow falls; breaking of levees, and inundations, etc. Take a few of the dispatches of last week:

MILWAUKEE, May 20.—There was a blinding snow storm in southern, central and northwestern part of Wisconsin yesterday. A despatch from Humboldt last evening said: "The heaviest snow storm of the season began here at 2:30 o'clock and still continues."

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Communication has at last been opened up with this city. A train from Memphis reached here last night, having made the trip in five hours. The work of clearing up is being pushed and nearly a mile of streets in the flooded district has been cleared. The city is still without gas or electricity. The general belief now is that the death list numbers 30 and 40. In the western portion of the city the current scooped out a deep channel right through a number of residences. These were wholly carried away and not even a remnant of the foundations remains. Heavy objects like grain stores were carried several blocks.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 20.—The water in the Missouri river is still rising an inch an hour. It is raining all over Kansas and western Missouri. The Texas river is rising and altogether the outlook is exceedingly gloomy.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—The river here at 4 a. m., was stationary, the gauge showing 30 ft. The signal service reports another three foot rise coming down the Missouri and Mississippi.

Leaves protesting the town of East Caron dot broke last night and in ten minutes the town was four feet under water. Many houses were swept away, but so far as known no lives were lost. The town of Brooklyn, Ill., is from two to five feet submerged. In South St. Louis over 12,000 persons are out of work. The damage to the portion of the city will exceed two million dollars.

LYNCHBURG, Neb., May 20.—The floods here are subsiding almost as rapidly as they rose. It is impossible to estimate the total damage.

BOONVILLE, Ia., May 20.—The rainfall of the past 48 hours has surpassed any since the great flood of 1863. The damage to crops is enormous. One third of the corn land in this section cannot be planted this year. Railroad traffic has been suspended.

HANOVER, N. H., May 20.—Five inches of snow has fallen this morning up to 11 o'clock and there is a sign of abating. The temperature is not low enough to injure fruit, but the trees will be broken by accumulation of snow.

The general belief now is that the death list numbers 30 and 40. In the western portion of the city the current scooped out a deep channel right through a number of residences. These were wholly carried away and not even a remnant of the foundations remains. Heavy objects like grain stores were carried several blocks.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 20.—The water in the Missouri river is still rising an inch an hour. It is raining all over Kansas and western Missouri. The Texas river is rising and altogether the outlook is exceedingly gloomy.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—The river here at 4 a. m., was stationary, the gauge showing 30 ft. The signal service reports another three foot rise coming down the Missouri and Mississippi.

Leaves protesting the town of East Caron dot broke last night and in ten minutes the town was four feet under water. Many houses were swept away, but so far as known no lives were lost. The town of Brooklyn, Ill., is from two to five feet submerged. In South St. Louis over 12,000 persons are out of work. The damage to the portion of the city will exceed two million dollars.

LYNCHBURG, Neb., May 20.—The floods here are subsiding almost as rapidly as they rose. It is impossible to estimate the total damage.

BOONVILLE, Ia., May 20.—The rainfall of the past 48 hours has surpassed any since the great flood of 1863. The damage to crops is enormous. One third of the corn land in this section cannot be planted this year. Railroad traffic has been suspended.

HANOVER, N. H., May 20.—Five inches of snow has fallen this morning up to 11 o'clock and there is a sign of abating. The temperature is not low enough to injure fruit, but the trees will be broken by accumulation of snow.

Look out for the Buge.

To the Editors of the Carlton Sentinel.

On commencing my Spring work I discovered, in great numbers, what I supposed to be a new beetle. I accordingly wrote to one Dr. J. H. H. and forwarded him a sample of the same, asking him its name, habits, etc., and if I had occasion to be alarmed. He returned his prompt and kind reply, which may possibly be of use to others, who may do it better to give battle than at last, to surrender, without protest, the object which they follow.

I am, dear Sir,

Yours obediently,
JAMES FLETCHER.

There is some talk of the Steamer Florence being put on the route between here and St. John as soon as the fall of water prevents her from running to Woodstock. The Florence would be a great improvement upon the Belle Isle, now running between the two cities.

Referring all the way from the River to Fredericton have been very busy for the past week. A great deal of lumber is coming down and considerable is being purchased at Springfield. Work at the mill is progressing nicely.

For a long time the travelling public have felt the inconvenience of having to cross the river to board the train. A branch track from Woodstock and up to the mill, and a bridge about one-half mile long, it is reported, whereby the train will run direct from Fredericton crossing on the C. E. Railway bridge. The station at Gibson will be done away with, the work being done at St. Mary and Fredericton. It is to be hoped that the change will soon be made. The Josie Mills Co. have been playing to food houses and are giving entire satisfaction. To
