Perhaps, as Booky Top was away up the side of the mountain, the bright beams struck there a trifle earlier than down in the valley. Rocky Top. In the northern country all is over between us, sir, there sho Christmas does not seem like Christmas be no reminders of the foolish past. unless there is a white blanket of snow on the earth. In that respect Rocky Top was well provided, for in the shallowest places between the drifts the snow was three feet deep, and the general average was greater, so that it was impossible to get up or down the mount-ain. So had you been at Rocky Top this Christmas morning you could have looked down upon three towns, but not been able to reach one: By general consent, there was to be no work in the tunnels—it was gold quartz that brought people to Rocky Top—on Christmas day. Ordinarily a day off would have been spent in drinking and carousing, but this holiday circumstances compelled them to spend in comparative sobriety. There had been no communication with the valley for three weeks, and the supply of whisky had dwindled down to less than half a pint for each man or thereabouts. The food supply was not in danger of giving out, as there was enough on hand to supply their wants for six months.

Mankind are always doing good or evil, and as the element that goes so far onsal, they were compelled to look for exists, there is a tendency to loosen the amusement in some other quarter. Rocky Top had two female inhabit-ants at this time. One was a woman of duces. Many persons who are kind and about thirty, and she was the mother of courteous in company, are rude and carethe other, a miss who had seen twelve months only of life. The husband and father of this little family had been kill-made up of petty sacrifices," and cered in a tunnel a few months before, and as is the case nine times out of ten, left bis wife with less than five dollars in her circle than the habit of making small purse. Maggie would not have braved sacrifices one for another. Children the rigors of a winter at Rocky Top had thus learn good manners in the best and she been able to go anywhere else with a most natural way, and habits thus acprospect of supporting herself. Her hope was to save money enough to take herself and baby back to the coast, but public life, whether of man or woman, the little pile of savings grew very slowly.

This morning Maggie bundled herself up well, and wrapping Katy the baby in a couple of shawls until she looked like nation than the law court, the academy, a large cocoon, started to the store, as or the Senate House. The committee were a sadly puzzled set. Finally i was decided that one of them would go back and ask Maggie for the baby's stocking, while the others went to the store to hunt up something. In a short time their companions joined them at the store, but instead of the baby's stocking he carried in his hand, in a shamefaced way, a little worn shoe, and explained: Maggie said that the baby didn't have any stockings without holes, Goffart discovered that grops when stored in water tight pits called siles, under heavy weight, do not rot, but are preserved freet and sweet for several months. This discovery A man named Marchand, who mur-dered his granduncle (formerly a mayor) and his grandaunt, was executed recent-ly, says a Paris letter, at Epinal. On hearing that he had to go to the guillotine to try the experiment and soon discovered that hearing that he had to go to the guillotine Marchand said that he wanted a good drink in order to help him to get into a comfortable state of intoxication before his head was cut off. He was allowed two glasses of rum neat and a cigar. He two glasses of rum neat and a cigar.
