There is disagreement over the French treaty recently entered into by Sir Chas Tupper, on behalf of Canada. The Canadian Government hesitate about submitting the treaty to Parliament for ratification, and strained relations between Sir Charles and his government threaten. The true inwardness of the matter is not yet, however, apparent.

A despatch from Ottawa, of 21st inst., says: The papers on the French treaty are unfavorable to Tupper. The government appear to have positively advised him not to consent to the favored nation clause. Sir John Thompson wired him on 6th February not to assent to the treaty. He excuses himself by saying that he only received this telegram on his return from Paris too late to use it.

The Semi-Centennial year of the Mutual Life Insurance Company introduces to the public two new forms of insurance, viz.: The "Continuous Instalment Policy," and the "Five per cent. Debenture." The Company under the Instalment policy really assumes the guardianship of the wife upon the death of the husband and pays her annually during her life the sum provided for in the policy. The premium rate for this form of insurance is less than charged for the ordinary life policy.

Our Representatives.

We print under our Local Legislature heading some of the speeches made in the Assembly on the Carleton County election case. Mr. Dibblee made a capital speech. It was his maiden effort as a legislator, and if he improves, or maintains the reputation gained thereby, his standing as a debater is assured.

Hon. Mr. Connell spoke well and to the point, meeting the several interruptions in a way to assist his argument and retort upon his questioners. These speeches, with those of Mr. Blair and others, gives pretty fully and consisely the history of this celebrated case.

Parliamentary.

In the House of Commons, on Tuesday, there was a warm discussion on a resolution by Mr. Dawson, to censure Mr. Clarke Wallace, controller of customs and a member of the government, for certain utterances of his in a speech at Kingston, recently, by which he justified resistance on the part of the people of Ulster to the authority of the Queen and government re Home Rule. The resolution also called upon the government to repudiate Mr. Wallace's sentiments.

Mr. Wallace admitted the correctness of the report of his speech and justified it.

The Finance Minister objected to the resolution and regarded it as a no confidence motion.

A long debate followed during which Hon. Mr. Costigan spoke favoring the motion.

The house divided upon Mr. Dawson's resolution, which was defeated by 105 to 74—12 Conservatives, Messrs. Costigan, Carran, Kenny, Borgia, Longevin, Hearn, McInerney, Adams, Davin, Lepine, Pelletier and McDonald, of P. E. Island, voting with the opposition.

The report is current that Sir Charles Tupper has resigned the High Commissionership on account of the action of the government re the Canadian French Treaty.

The Woollen Mill.

On Monday the first woollen fabric ever woven by steam power in Carleton County passed through the looms of the Woodstock woollen mill. These fabrics were white flannel and summer tweeds. It was a notable event: Carleton still leads as we believe there are but two other counties in the Province where a mill of this character is in operation. On Saturday the committee of the County Council visited and thoroughly examined the mill and its several details and expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied with the result and as being prepared to report most favorably, and that the engagements entered into with the Council have been most fully carried out thus far.

The building is admirably adapted, so the managers say, for the work, being commodious, well lighted, of easy access and convenient for fuel and water supply, standing as it does on the bank of the creek.

There are three floors above the basement each with an area of forty feet by one hundred feet, so that ample floor space is afforded for the machinery, and its operation, apportioned on the different floors for the economy of space and time.

In the basement, firmly placed, on a foundation of solid masonry and running without jar or tremble are the boiler and engine the former of steel, the latter of the Clipper pattern and of 45 horse power. The masonry was done by Mr. Hasty and gives the managers great satisfaction. In an adjoining apartment are the rinser, dye vats, scouring and fulling machines and also the extractor, these doing the preliminary work of preparing the wool for later processes.

On the first floor, where there are several stores to let, the office and show room of the mill will be located.

On the second floor are the cards, spinners, looms and machines for warping. At one end of this room is the carding machine specially provided and adapted for custom carding; it is of most approved make and has a capacity of 200 pounds per day. Then there are three sets of carding machines for making the wool into yarn for cloth, fine machines they do their work well. These are set in the centre of the room and extend some forty feet, while upon both sides are the spinning frames or jacks carrying 336 spindles; these frames when in operation move backward and forward as by rail and at the same time may be spinning several different kinds of yarn. West of the carding machines are the looms—five narrow ones for weaving tweeds, homespuns, flannels, etc., and a wider one for blankets, coatings and such goods. Much of this machinery has been designed by and made under the supervision of Mr. Willis the manufacturing manager. As will be observed these machines occupying one floor feed, as it were, each other and afford every convenience for manipulation. Here also are the breakers, so called, and finisher.

As the spindles are filled they are taken to the spooling frames or to the reels as the material is required for yarn or for weaving respectively.

On the third floor are the picking and mixing machines, the wool being supplied directly from them to the carders and spinning frames below.

When woven the cloth is put through a scouring machine on the second floor: here the cloth is thickened or shrunk and softened: this machine is one of Mr. Willis' invention; from here the cloth goes to the third floor where are the picker room, dry room and tenter bars which are an arrangement of movable frames carrying hooks on which the cloth is suspended for drying and stretching.

The shearing machine is, as its importance in the final stage of manufacture demands, of the very best design and finish.

Mr. Willis has four sons all experts in the business, each of whom has charge of a branch of manufacture.

It is intended that goods shall be produced here of just such a character as will meet local requirements, and it is affirmed that the farmer can here have his wool made into yarns and cloth with a saving or profit to him of from 25 to 50 per cent. as compared with his present means of disposing of the wool.

Wool is already coming in in quantities and, from the interest shown by the farmers already, assurance is given that the mill will be generally patronized.

Mr. Myles, the Secretary Treasurer and business manager of the company, is greatly pleased with the prospect, and he is always very assiduous in attention to callers, giving them every information and seeking to make the undertaking popular.

It is said "men have builded better than they knew." The late Richard English was always anxious for the establishment of such an industry as this in Woodstock. When the managers of his estate erected the building now occupied by this mill, and which has subsequently been used for an hotel, bank, post office etc., as well as stores, but which a little while ago had scarcely a tenant for any of its divisions, they were providing for a, then, unthought of want, and for the accommodation of the present most important and promising industry.

The A.O.H.

The Opera House was filled on last Friday evening by an attentive and evidently appreciative audience. The committee of the Woodstock Division of the A.O.H., had made ample provision for the entertainment and it is but just to say that rarely, if ever, has a programme of such length and variety been presented in Woodstock that seemed to give throughout such universal satisfaction. The receipts, of course, were large. It were a difficult task to criticise the merits of particular numbers and therefore we give, as the best evidence of the varied talent appearing, the programme as follows:—

Overture—"Irish Airs," Band.
Violin Solo—Prof. Barry.
Duet—Piano and Piccolo, Miss Werner and Mr. F. Jones.
Solo—"Kathleen Mavourneen," Miss Werner.
Tableau—Faith, Hope and Charity.

The committee, through the SENTINEL, extends its sincere thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who assisted in making the concert such a grand success.

Peoples' Union Ag. Society.

The meeting of this society held on Wednesday afternoon was not largely attended but the result was on the whole satisfactory.

From the Woodstock, Wakefield, and Centreville societies the delegates present were Messrs. C. L. Smith, Saml. Watts, H. Emery, A. Simonson, W. J. Owens and Geo. W. White. The local society representatives were the President, S. E. Campbell; Sec., B. N. Shaw; Messrs. Matheson, E. M. Shaw, John Campbell, W. E. Thistle, M. P. Oliver, E. McLeese.

President Campbell occupied the chair and S. Watts on request acted as secretary.

Speeches were made by the several gentlemen named, all urging the importance of the proposed Provincial show at Woodstock, the necessity, for the credit of the county, of making it in its material respects a success, and in order to secure this result the necessity of securing not only the hearty co-operation of the several local societies but as well that of the whole people of the county. The feeling was that along all these lines the prospect was favorable.

We cannot afford greater space to the sayings at this meeting, except to report that the delegates from Centreville were able to state that, at the meeting of the society there last Saturday, the action of the directors at the previous meeting as given by us last week was ratified.

On motion of B. N. Shaw, seconded by Mr. Thistle, unanimously Resolved, that the Peoples' Union Agricultural Society is strongly in favor of a Provincial Exhibition being held in Woodstock the coming fall, and that it pledges support and assistance to make said exhibition a success.

On motion of E. M. Shaw, seconded by John Campbell, Resolved, that this society will, from its funds, contribute at least fifty dollars in aid of the said proposed Exhibition.

On motion Messrs. Matheson and Thistle were appointed delegates from this society to attend the meeting of the Aberdeen Society at Glassville, on Friday afternoon.

On motion a vote of thanks was passed to the visiting delegates from other societies.

In Trouble.

A telegram from San Francisco, dated 17th inst, published in some eastern papers says, our readers will form their own conclusions as to the identity of the person named:—

"The creditors of J. H. Turner, real estate dealer, who came from Woodstock, Ontario, about eight years ago, claim to have been swindled by him out of over $100,000, and are seeking to regain their money. Turner's practice was to sell the same piece of land to several different parties. Turner induced a number of money brokers and others to invest $100,000 in the Owens Valley Water Company, an irrigation scheme. They gave notes with the verbal understanding that they were not to be used until they could be paid from the profits of the scheme. Turner negotiated the notes at several banks, obtaining $52,000 on them. He then dropped the irrigation scheme. The banks will bring suit to collect the notes. These facts were brought out by a suit filed by Turner to dissolve the attachments on some Fresno lands. Turner's office is closed to-day and it was stated that he was at home in a dying condition."

Sad Death.

Under the above heading the Calgary Herald of the 8th inst, contains the following notice of the death, on that day, of a grand-daughter of John G. Vanwart, formerly of this town:—

We regret to have to record the death of Jennie Alberta, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Linton. The little one was but 2 years and 8 months old, death being due to tuberculosis. Mr. and Mrs. Linton will have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad affliction.

Collections on behalf of the Society will be taken up at both services. Special music will be provided. It is hoped Mr. Campbell may be induced to lecture on Monday evening under the auspices of the Epworth League.

"Sun" Insurance.

Attention is drawn to the advertisement of the "Sun" Insurance Office appearing in another column. R. K. Jones, Esq., having secured the agency for this company for Woodstock and vicinity, is now prepared to accept risks of all classes in every part of Carleton County. This company is the oldest purely fire office in the world, having been established in 1710. It is also one of the leading companies as to its financial standing, having a surplus of $7,000,000 over and above even capital liabilities, while the funds of this company are liable for fire losses. Many of the companies doing life business as well show very large assets, but the bulk of them usually belonging to the life department, represent large liabilities without adding any strength to the fire department.

The thaw we had the last of the week has made quite a stagnation in business here, and if we do not have more snow and cold weather it will be quite a loss to this part of the country, as there is a large quantity of logs and timber to be hauled yet. Most of the men and teams have come home from the lumber woods.

There is not much snow here now, the fields are as bare as they generally are the last of April.

Mr. E. A. Britton is still busy hauling oats to the woods at North Branch of the Guimac.

The waves of heat from the orb that gives us light is fast melting the beautiful snow. From all appearance it looks evident that the runners will soon have to give place to the wheels.

The lumbermen, except a couple of crews, have left the woods. Mr. J. W. Lawson is home again, after doing a successful lumber operation in the woods of the Miramichi. The Simms Bros. with shingle machine, have commenced the wood sawing. In this section there is plenty of good hard wood, which during such a cold winter as has passed was greatly to be appreciated.

Our school still continues its excellent proficiency. The school in District No. 8, East Windsor, will open the first of April in charge of Mrs. M. Gillmore.

From recent developments there seems every prospect of the next Knowlesville census being largely ahead of the last, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw having lately ushered into the world a pretty a pair of chubby little twins as ever were seen. Mother and babies are doing well. The remarkable thing is that the same prolific lady had twins last winter, just exactly a year ago. It is a striking instance of heredity, as Mrs. S laughingly informed your correspondent, when proffering the compliments of the season. Her mother before her was distinguished for the same virtue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCrossin have left Golden Ridge for Kings Co., where they will in the future reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whitehouse will shortly leave for "the beautiful west," where their many friends here wish them every success.

Mr. John Gardiner will in a few days leave for Houlton, where it is reported employment is plentiful and wages high. "Tell that to the marines."

Mr. George Buchanan has returned home to his "ain kind dearie, oh!" after a prolonged absence, with a well lined wallet. "There's no place like home"—even if it is Golden Ridge.

Miss Mary Campbell, daughter of our esteemed Golden Ridge post master, has returned to the paternal roof tree from Hartland. We were all glad to see her back again.

Our "braw, braw lads" are rolling in upon us every day now from the woods, and still they come.

Mr. and Mrs. George Advartis Shaw have just returned home from visiting friends in Peel, Wakefield, Woodstock, etc. They enjoyed themselves much.

Mrs. John McReady from Bath, daughter of Mr. James Ryan, has been visiting her friends in Knowlesville.

Mr. Walter Whitehouse and Mr. Ernest Gardiner have just returned from "Robin Hood's Barn," after a long and profitable winter's work.

Mr. George Crawford, a cadet of the Richmond Crawford family, is at present visiting friends here.

A party of choppers coming out of the woods the other day celebrated their emancipation en route, and soon became transported with the liveliest joy. On their way hither, one of them like John Gilpin left his hat and wig on the road. The party called on a well known operator here en passant and on leaving, the bare headed axeman slyly grabbed our friend the operator's "scraper" and made off with it. Our friend discovered his loss early the next morning, and sallied forth like "the wandering Jew" through the woods in search of the axeman's chapeau. After a protracted hunt he came across the treasure, a veritable "stove pipe," only a little the worse for wear. Operator now sports a beaver. "It's an ill wind that blows nabody gude."

March 18, 1893.

The people of this settlement were greatly shocked on Thursday the 16th inst when Mr. Wiggins of Florenceville, who has been trapping on the Miramichi, arrived here and reported the finding on Wednesday night of the dead body of Mr. Francois La Pointe, at the Curtis Camp on Bedell Brook, some ten or twelve miles from here. Deceased, when found by Mr. Wiggins, was reclining on his sled with his snowshoes still strapped upon his feet, having apparently died very suddenly. As soon as the case was made known, five men started on snowshoes for the scene of the sad event, and on Friday they brought the remains here, and thence to W. H. Staten's, Forreston, where an inquest was held by Dr. E. A. Welch, Coroner, who returned a verdict of death from natural causes. Deceased was about 70 years of age, a resident of Johnville, and during the winter has followed hunting and trapping on the North Branch, and other tributaries of the Miramichi river. He was well and favorably known in many parts of the Province, and was respected and esteemed by all who knew him. He was a man of many sterling virtues, hospitable and generous to a fault, a consistent and faithful member of the R. C. Church at Johnville; he leaves a widow and several sons and daughters who have the sympathy of the whole community in this their doubly sad affliction.

The weather has been somewhat changeable for the past two weeks, from very cold to very mild, and last Monday a heavy rain came which was very much needed, as many wells and springs had dried up during the long, dry spell of cold weather. Many of the lumbering parties have come home from the woods and report a successful winter's work.

Gilbert Scovil has returned to Houlton. E. J. Stokoe has gone to Bloomfield.

Debec Items.

March 20, 1893.

Our roads are fast giving out for the want of snow. Just now when everybody almost has so much hauling to do, night and day you can hear the teamsters shouting "get up," as they strike the bare spots.

Potatoes hold about the one price; at present Hebrons are worth $1.45; Roses, $1.25 in this market.

With our new horse trainer, Johnnie Fleming, there is no need of having unruly horses or colts. If your horse has any ailments of any kind, give our Vet. George Prichard a call, as he is now in that business.

Miss Athelia Henderson, who has been very sick for the past few days, is somewhat better, we gladly learn.

Well, John Heyseed, or John without the heyseed, we have seen you at Debec and if you come again we will treat you kindly, but not to lamp burners or coffee strainers, and if you want to buy a good horse we can sell you one, black or white.

We are very glad that spring has so far come as to allow the porcupine to crawl out of his hollow rail; we hope he will be as regular as the Deacon he speaks about.

John Johnston, while crossing the railroad track with a load of bark, got stuck on the rails, and while there the train came along and immediately removed his load off the track; fortunately he was able to get his team out of the way. Little damage was done, except to the sled.

Captain Kirkpatrick is talking about the drill which takes place the 26th June; all soldierly men and boys are called for the good time expected.

Another one of our old inhabitants has gone to try the realities of another world, namely Mr. Thomas Kirkpatrick, who lived to the good old age of 87 years. Some of our divines prophesied that Richmond would furnish fifteen for the tomb this year; nine or ten of that number have already gone.

Mr. Bates, our singing school teacher, makes it interesting for the young folks; he spent Sabbath with us. A goodly number from Greenville was down on a visit to the singing school, Saturday night.

Mrs. James Johnston, of Millville, has been visiting friends here.

Mrs. C. W. Dickinson is visiting friends at Benton. WHO IS IT.

Our stock of new Spring Cotton Goods is complete. Order samples by mail.

Warden Tweeddale Replies to "X."

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

The SENTINEL of the 20th ult., contained an article signed X, in which the doings of Victoria Co. Council were criticised.

Comments upon the action of legislative bodies is natural when the operation of their action is likely to prove detrimental to the person or the inhabitants of the locality in which the person complaining resides.

The person who will sensibly demand a redress of grievance, or resent an injury, in the public interest, is a public benefactor, and such criticism is appreciated. But in all communities there are persons who think themselves infallible, actuated with no other apparent motive than to display the extraordinary knowledge which they imagine they possess, that will take occasion to impute wrong to others simply because their acts do not conform to their particular ideas. Fortunately no community is responsible for the utterances of such individuals. I will be candid enough to admit X was right in his contentions re Councillor Petersen's resolution relating to Collection of Taxes, the validity of which was not questioned by Council at the time. Councillor Petersen being an ex-collecting Justice it was taken for granted he had cited the act and based his resolution in conformity therewith, but for the information of "X" let me say that we can't give him credit for the correction of the error as it was discovered long before his letter appeared, and he need entertain no further fear of being served with a tax bill from Vic. Co., as the Council have decided not to extend their jurisdiction at present. Judging from the quantity quoted "X" seems to be crammed with consolidated statutes, but before he would make himself ridiculous by attempting to make others so he should make room in his mighty cranium for some special legislation, as he will learn if he will depart for a moment from consolidated statutes and take the trouble to inform himself that Victoria Co. Council is enterprising and progressive, in as much as they have secured for their county special legislation which authorizes them to exempt flouring mills from taxation for a term of ten years, with a view to the encouragement of the construction of the same in the county; that makes Councillor Murgison's motion legitimate and correct.

In the objection taken by "X," re the Inn of License, he seems to have surmised that the Council intended to assume authority to displace that officer and appoint another, but to set his mind at ease on that point he can rest assured that when the Council decide to remove that officer they will make a requisition to the Government asking his removal and recommend another in his stead. Now with the information that "X" has given us, I think we will be able to stand alone for a while, and if he has nothing else to do and can't sleep he better air his powerful intellect on the question of annexation of Hawii with the U. S, it will be a subject giving more scope to a powerful mind.

J. FLETCHER TWEEDDALE.
Warden.

P. S.— I think if the writer of the letter referred to had used the 1st, 7th and 12th letters of the alphabet, it would hit the initials of his name nearer than "X."

Corn Sowing

Is a process conducted by the agency of tight boots all the year round. Corn reaping is best conducted through the agency of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, the only safe and sure-pop corn cure. Putnam's Extractor is now widely imitated. Beware of all poisonous and sore producing substitutes; they are dangerous to use and are sold simply because they afford the dealer large profit.

At Yarmouthville, Me., March 13th, of heart failure, Roy, only child of F. A. and Mary Whitney, aged 8 years, 5 months 13 days. Though young in years yet he realized that he was on his deathbed, and was perfectly resigned to the will of his heavenly father, and looked forward with pleasure to the meeting with friends in heaven.

God's hand lies heavy on us now!
A waiting soul has fled,
Our home is sad and lonely,
Our darling Roy is dead.
Oh! great indeed has been our loss,
But greater still, his gain,
For he has conquered over death
And loosed the bonds of pain.

At Northampton, Carleton Co., on the 25th December, John Rogers in the 61st year of his age. He leaves a wife, two sons, and four daughters to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father. His end was peace.

And can it be dear father's gone,
The one we did so love;
Has he exchanged the scenes of earth,
For brighter ones above?
And shall we see his face no more,
Nor hear his gentle voice?
How gladly we would have kept him here,
Could we have had our choice.
Go to the land of perfect bliss,
There dearest father's gone,
To join the ransomed of the earth,
In our eternal home.
(Press please copy.)

At Lower Wakefield, on the 22nd inst., Clara B., daughter of Evan and Jane Saunders, aged 14 years and 7 months.

One less at home!
The charmed circle broken—a dear face
Missed day by day from its usual place,
But cleansed, saved, perfected by grace,
One more in heaven.

One less on earth!
Its pain, its sorrow, and its toil to share,
One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear,
One more the crown of the blessed to wear,
At home in heaven!
