SIR.—I consider it my duty, not only to yourself, but to my fellow creatures who are suffering from Asthma and Bronchitis, as I had for some time previous to using your "Emulsion of Cooking the necessary supply per annum to keep the mill running.

LIVER OIL with Hypophosphites," to give my testimony to the most wonderful good effect it had. Having suffered for some time with Asthma and Bronchitis, accompanied with great nervous exhaustion, and having carefully read your Essay on the combination and uses of your Emulsion, I was persuaded to give it a trial, and on using two bottles I began to receive great benefit and relief, and after using three bottles I was completely revived and am to day per ectly free from either Asthma or Bronchitis, and my nervous system much invigorated and built up I have found it very pleasant and palatable, and with no taste of oil whatever, and can with great confidence of oil whatever, and can with great confidence for purpose. Dairyman's Meeting at Wicklow. Professor John Robertson Dairy Supt., of New Brunswick, with his assistant, Mr. Harvey Mitchell, of Keswick Ridge, York Co, visited this place last week with their trave! ling dairy; a meeting was held on Frida evening which was largely attended by an interested audience of ladies and gentlemen ing a few well chosen introductory remarks) goods more hay, grain and eats consumed on the pace instead of being shipped to market, and in their place in the market let us put butter, cheese, pork and beef. He spoke chiefly on the subject of butter making, but advised the people that if a cheese factory could be built their labour would be greater Not only did he tell us how to make the gilt edge do butter that brings the fancy price, but be made it on the spot, or rather his assistant, Mr. Mitchell, did. And it would only be fair here to say that Mr. Mitchell is him self a thorough butter and cheese maker.

The butter was made, washed, salted and put into roll in the presence of the audience, and everything particular concerning it was a reveal of the audience, and everything particular concerning it was a reveal and worthless of the audience, and everything particular concerning it was a reveal and worthless designated by a high sounding name, was sold to me farmer, who was heartly laughed at.

The butter was made, washed, salted and put into roll in the presence of the audience, and everything particular concerning it was a consultation of remarks and any price. There is a most important moral to be deduced for on the seed yes are not good enough to color your these dyes are not good enough to color your the audience diverse and barns painted; it has a price the auctioner fine a joking way, said: 'You surely the auction sale just reverse and barns painted; it has a price the auction sale just reverse and price the series of their daughter, who was heartly laughed at.

The service were simple to a degree, but none the less solemn and impressive. Unosthe same simplicity in death. His wish was the program. Beside the closed casket, on which stood a floral piece from the First Free Baptist Church members, inscribed "Our Brother," stood the pall bearers, Doctors Crosby, Phillips, Macdonald, Slagle, Carlaw and Jewett, while Rev. H. G. Woodworth, a retired elegyman, conducted the exercises. He read a chapter of scripture, offered a short prayer and delivered a brief culogy on the life of the deceased physician. Prof. Patton sang a solo, "The Home Land," and he was followed by the Rev. J A. Paige, Congregaionalist, who spoke of the noble sympathetic Christian life of the doctor. He said he was a man of gigantic mould and that his heart and intellect were in proportion to his physical frame. He was, in his Ohristianity, broader than the church universal, for he was charitable to all and always ready and willing to do good. He said that all any one of them could wish was, when the time came that he, too, should be laid away, that it could be said of nim that be was as good a man as Dr. Sharp. Tois concluded the exer-

prominent physicians, while others speke their esteem through some floral tribute.

There was a keen disappointment felt that the carket was closed, but Rev. Woodworth said that such was the desire of the doctor, who had preferred his friends to remember bim as they knew him in life rather than as they saw him in death. How a Young Lady was Cured of a Terrible Malady When Near the Brink of the Grave. The large, pretentious brick residence at 86 Miami avenue, in this city, is the home of the heroine of this interesting story. She is Miss Margaret Stenbaugh, and her interesting experiences during the past four years are published here for the first time.

"Four years ago," she said, "1 was a suffer er in all that the term implies, and never thought o being as healthy as I am to-day. Why, at that time, I was such a scrawny. puny little midget, pale and emaciated by an ailment peculiar to us women, that my tather and mother gave me up to die. The local practitioner (I was at that time living at Scotland, Brant Co., Ont.,) said it was only a matter of days when I would be laid away in the church yard, and as I was such a sufferer I cared not whether I lived or died; in fact, think I would have preferred the latter. "I could not walk, and regularly every night my father used to carry me up stairs to my room. I remember my telling him that he wouldn't have to carry me about much longer, and how he said with tears in his eyes, that he would be willing to do it always, if he could only have me with bim. It was evidently foreordained that I should not die at that particular time, as a mireculous transformation in my condition was the talk of the neighborhood. I read of the wonderful cures that were being wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and my father went to Brantford, where he purchased a couple of boxes from Jas. A. Wallace. I commenced taking them, and I thought for a time that they did me no gord, as they made me sick at first, but very shortly I noticed a great change. They began to act on my trouble, and in the short space of six months I er, and how he said with tears in his eyes ble, and in the short space of six months I was able to walk. I continued to taking the pille, and in eix months I was in the condition you see me now. I fully believe that they alone saved me from the grave, and you will always find myself and balance of our family ready to talk about the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me."
