KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Few Proprietary Medicines have so proud a record, or are so justly free from the charge of Empiricism as "PUTTNER'S EMULSION of COD LIVER OIL and Pancreatine, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda."

This famous Health Restorer has stood the test of twenty-five years. It now has many envious imitators and unscrupulous competitors—but it is still—facile princeps—the UNEQUALLED REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION AND ALL WASTING DISEASES.

For sale by all Druggists at 50 cts. a bottle.

The Sunday Trains.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

Can the running of the freight trains on the Sabbath be stopped? Aside from the fact that God's law is being broken, lives are endangered here every Sabbath. The school house in which the meetings are held is close to the track. There have been some very narrow escapes at the crossings, the people not being aware of the trains coming. Surely the Dominion laws set enough value on human life to stop the running of trains on the Sabbath, even although they may disregard God's law.

Yours truly,
JOHN GOLDING.

Peel, March 7, 1893.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

Many complaints are being made here concerning the practice of the C. P. R. Co. during the last few months in running freight trains over this division of the road on Sunday. The people are indignant that they should be so annoyed by the passing and shunting of so many trains on the Lord's day and most earnestly protest against such Sabbath desecration.

Yours truly,
E. D. R. PHILLIPS.

Bath, March 7, 1894.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

There is a deep and growing feeling of indignation here in connection with the recent practice of the C. P. R. Co. in running freight trains so frequently on the Sabbath over this part of the road. The people feel that they have a right to the quiet and sanctity of the Sabbath, and the roar and bustle of a freight train combined with a good deal of shunting at times, has in a good many instances been a sore distraction to the public worship of God in the churches along the line of railway. At the request of a large number of the people over whom I have pastoral care, I would enter a solemn protest against a continuance of such a practice.

Yours truly,
GEO. M. YOUNG.

Methodist Parsonage, Upper Kent
N. B., March 6th, 1894.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

The people of this vicinity are very much annoyed and irritated by the running of the C. P. R. trains on Sunday. In the past we have been blessed with Sabbath peace and quietness on that day, lately we have been deprived of it by the incessant screeching of the rushing trains.

I think that last Sunday there must have been nearly a dozen trains pass through our village. Several passed through during the period of public worship. Many persons come to meeting from some distance and necessarily have to drive. The track as you are aware, passes quite near to both meeting houses, the passing trains alarm the horses tied about the places of worship and their owners or drivers have to hastily leave the service to see that no injury is done. The noise of the passing trains of itself is a serious interruption to the services, but when to that is added the confusion caused by the stampeded horses, the solemnity of the occasion is entirely destroyed.

We want to know if something cannot be done to stop this. Methinks we have a right to say it shall be stopped. We hope, however, that the managers of the road will accede to what is a very general request and at once discontinue all running of trains on Sunday.

I am yours,
HARTLAND.

Another Letter from "Carleton County."

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

We do not wish to have a controversy with Councillor Harding in reference to financial matters, as we are not personally interested any more than every rate payer in the County should be; neither have we made a personal charge against Councillor Harding, but have taken published reports, and statements from public officials, and as we cannot reconcile them the Councillor offers the answer, not by facts and figures from the records, but seeks to divert public attention by applying the epithets "wonderful correspondent, coward, rum advocate, and guilty of crime"; to each of these we plead not guilty.

It is a saying with old sportsmen when firing into a flock of birds, if feathers are seen to fly it is a sure indication the shot has had the desired effect; the same will apply in this instance, as Councillor Harding flutters all over the moor; but does not meet the question at issue. We speak for the public when we say we do not want Councillor Harding's "views as to what the Scott Act has done and is doing for Carleton County," that is all before the people, and if his views and statements should be in harmony with his speeches at the Council board, they would not be worth the paper on which they would be written; much better for him to answer the speech of Councillor Calwell who says the "Scott Act has been a failure in Carleton County," and reconcile the difference between himself and the statement as published by Secretary Jones. As we read his reply the mystery seems to deepen when he informs the electors, for "several years I have been a member of the Scott Act committee," and notwithstanding his declaration, we find a deficit nearly $1 000 against the County, which must be met in some other way.

In this instance there appears to be a question of veracity between Councillor Harding and Secretary Jones; the former makes the bold statement, giving no date or figures, while the latter gives revenue and expenditure and shows the deficit and, who no doubt, speaks by book, to whom full credence will be given until otherwise shown to the contrary. Councillor Harding says "The simple facts were, I gave a correct statement and there was no possible chance for any one to correct me"; we take it if this means anything it is that Secty Jones has made a statement unauthorized and misleading, which eventually would place that officer in an unenviable position, or that Councillor Harding's mental capacity did not understand the situation and force of words; this we will leave for his consideration; he must choose one horn or other of the dilemma.

Councillor Harding does not wish to be criticized except by those who he considers respectable, but he should not forget the fact that fair criticism of public men belongs to, and is the right of, every man who believes and knows that frequently some who are not qualified, through no fault of their own, attain responsible positions in

CARLETON COUNTY.

S. A. Apologizes.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

After reading Mr. Jones' letter in your last issue regarding treatment of prisoners, and the charges made in my last letter, I ask Mr. Jones to accept my apology for having made such charges as I firmly believe I was misinformed in regard to Wilbur and Dugan.

I believe that Mr. Jones is carrying out his instructions, and from the manner in which Dugan escaped believe the prisoners have too much liberty.

S. A.

Howard Criticizes the Press.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

In this week's issue of the Press, in an article descriptive of the late sparring match, the writer gets gay with my name. Here is some of his brilliant flashes of wit: "Nelson struck at his opponent with terrific force, and if his reach had been ten yards longer would doubtless have hit him;" again, "Robinson made a rush for Nelson but Howard was very foxy and succeeded in crawling over the ropes;" again, "Nelson led off with a terrific blow on the body of the atmosphere;" and again, "In justice to Mr. Nelson it might be stated that this was his first experience in such a small ring. His stronghold is in a ten acre field." The Press also questions the fact that I am the colored champion of Woodstock. Of course, I am a bashful man, but I will say right here that if the writer of that article, or any others, who think as he does, will meet me with gloves, I will show whether I am the colored champion or not, and I will not ask for a ten acre field either. He says also that "I was foxy and crawled over the ropes." Just imagine one crawling over the ropes, and they four feet from the floor.

For the information of the Press I would say that there are sixty attitudes that can be struck in sparring, and I can strike forty five of them. I am what the authorities call a "shifty" fighter—that is I hit and get away. Corbett does the same, and I am a graduate of his school. I do not believe in the give-and-take style of fighting, but watch my chance and deliver the knock out blow on the chin, which makes my opponent imagine a torch-light procession is travelling down his back bone.

A spectator furnishes the following disinterested account of the bout:

In the first 3 rounds they both sparred very cautious, neither man scoring a point. In the 4th round Robinson led off with his right for Nelson's head but he ducked his blow and countered with his right on Robinson's jaw, scoring one point. Robinson made another desperate attempt to land his right on Nelson's head, which failed, and Nelson catching him with his right again on the neck scoring the first knock down. In the 5th round they both sparred very cautiously, and no points were scored. Round 6th Robinson, as he came from his corner, looked very anxious for very heavy slugging. Robinson feinted with his right and led with his left, Nelson breaking ground against the curtains, tore them down. Robinson forced the fight led with his right, caught Nelson on the back of the head, Nelson swinging with his right, missing; Robinson struck an upper cut at Nelson's head, caught Nelson on the shoulder, Nelson swinging for Robinson with his left hand missing Robinson and clinched. Time was then called.

March 2. 1894.

We frequently see items in the SENTINEL from all parts, however remote they may be, of New Brunswick and it is doubtless very agreeable to receive weekly information that our friends situated quite distant as well as those in proximity to us, are enjoying all the blessings to be derived from a land which possesses all the requisites for man's comfort and enjoyment, while at the same time we regret that those equally near and dear to us are the victims of trouble and grief.

But what about Belville? Is there nothing takes place there worthy of note? or does it not possess as much genius and wit as to be found elsewhere in the County? Has it not industrious farmers, enterprising merchants, energetic, stalwart young men? Aye and pretty girls, too. What say you, Greenville and McKenzie Corner boys? I know you will readily confirm my statements, especially my last affirmation, and on the strength of that conviction I henceforth petition a space in your valuable paper.

Our little village is unusually dull at present owing to that dread malady—la grippe—having paid us a visit; indeed, so far has it affected the place in general that were it not for an occasional cough to warn us that some convalescent is on the transit we would imagine that our denizens had gone with the old woman of nursery lore, who took a flight upwards to sweep the cobwebs from the sky, but unlike her had forgotten to return.

But there is a promise of better times in the very near future as some of our fair ones, among whom is Miss Adeline Wilson, who sought a more genial clime in the 'sunny lands of the south,' have taken up their abode among us and as a natural consequence, we expect some of the sterner sex soon to follow. Then our village will awake from its slumbers and no doubt take its stand as one of the most momentous of our province.

Eel River Items.

March 5, 1894.

Eel River is but a small town, rather dull and prosy, still the inhabitants seem to bear about with them a satisfied air. Contented are they to take matters as they come; few of them desire to force their noses into the business of the future to smell out unsavoury scents of unlooked for calamities.

Every day brings some event of no importance to many, but of much import to a few.

Feb 18th the body of Mr Benjamin Brooks was laid to rest beside those of his brother and sister in the Brooks burying ground at Greenbush.

Mrs Stephen Taylor and daughter, Mrs Paddington of Boston, were the guests of Mr Horace Johnston last week.

The young men of this town organized a new society, the Y M L A S, Young Mens Literary and Athletic Association. There motto is—'Pitachit bagibus, readit paperus, makit mortals magnanimous.' The officers are: W H S Cox, Pres; H B Scott, Vice Pres; T McRea, Financial Sec; D Otis, Rec Sec; E J Porter, Treas; P Marsten, Sentinel.

Dufferin Division S of T had a pleasant visit from a large delegation of Campbell Division with Peck's Bad Boy from Jubilee. A good programme was rendered and nuts, candy, cake and coffee served as refreshments. The members of Dufferin intend returning the compliment some pleasant evening before the end of March.

"To C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Two years ago I had a severe attack of the Grip, which left me in a terribly weak and debilitated condition. Last winter I had another attack and was again very badly off, my health nearly wrecked. My appetite was all gone, I had no strength, felt tired all the time, had disagreeable roaring noises in my head, like a waterfall. I also had severe headaches and

Priestley's Dress Goods

A good name is more potent than thrones and kingdoms. In business a good name is vital. The name of Priestley is a synonym for what is delicate, durable and beautiful in Black Dress Goods. In England it is a household word. Priestley's dress fabrics are worn by the well dressed women of Great Britain, while on this side, they have attained to general favor. Ladies should buy no other black dress goods till they have seen Priestley's. They add to an unequalled durability, a beautiful draping quality. Women of taste understand what that means in the success of a costume.
