Concert at Hartland.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

The Day School at Hartland is the fortunate possessor of a small, but well selected, library. This, we trust "only the nucleus of a much larger one," was obtained through the efforts of the late teacher, Mr. Hetherington. The books are much appreciated by the scholars, but unfortunately, they, the books, have no abiding place and, consequently, are not as available for the use of the scholars as they might be. Our present indefatigable teacher proposed to the scholars, that they should themselves provide a suitable accommodation for their books. As the result of this suggestion a very delightful concert was given by the school on Friday evening, the 14th. The programme was lengthy, consisting of some 26 pieces. We have not space to particularise the merits of each, and it would be invidious to make special mention of any. We will therefore say the children as a whole evinced great talent and thorough training, and did full credit to the teacher and his accomplished wife. The Dialogues were spirited and humorous. The choruses were sung in splendid time, with much animation and nearly every one received an encore. The recitations were very effective. The duets were very fine and promptly encored. The audience was taken by surprise at the very effective manner in which the pieces were rendered, and at the close a vote of thanks was proposed to the children for the delightful entertainment they had given us and also to Mr and Mrs Kerr for the pains they had taken to bring the work to such a success; the motion was spoken to by others than the mover, and was then carried unanimously. There is no doubt if the concert is repeated, there will be a much larger audience greet the performers. We do not yet know how successful financially the affair has been, but we trust ample has been realized to secure a good book-case for the library.

Glasgow Items.

A meeting of the A. F. & D. A. was held in the Caledonian Hall here on the evening of Thursday the 13th—Prs. McLauchlan in the chair. After the usual routine business, the Pres. read an elaborate and able paper on "Farmers' Economics," which was duly and favourably criticised, and received a cordial vote of thanks from gentlemen present. The paper was followed by an interesting and instructive discussion on "Lime as a Manure," opened by Mr. William Lyon, and participated in by Messrs. Spence, Home, Ronald, McLauchlan, Arch. Scott, Simpson and J. McIntosh—the gentleman viewing the question from different standpoints. While Mr. Lyon argued strongly in favor of lime, it was the opinion of other gentlemen that it was not well adapted for our Aberdeen soil. Then came a discussion on "The Best Fall Food to Raise for Cattle," opened by the president, who was followed by Messrs. Arch. Scott, Ronald, Spence, McIntosh, Simpson and Lyon—some being in favor of raising green fodder for feeding between haying and harvest, and others not, but preferring grain. The next meeting of association was fixed for the evening of the last Friday in January 1895. Mr. Home then to read a paper on "Plaster; its nature, application and effect"; and Mr. Simpson to open discussion on the question, "Which is the most profitable way to market Farm Produce?" Adjourned.

We are pleased to hear that our old friend Miss Bille Staten, of Foreston, intends giving one of her fine instrumental and vocal concerts in the Caledonian Hall, Glasgow, on the evening of New Years Day, 1895. She will be assisted by her talented sisters, and the Misses Skinner of Argyle, two of her young lady pupils, whose performance on the boards on a former occasion before an Aberdeen audience was greeted with much applause. We are at present unable to indicate the names of other dramatic personae, who may be expected to contribute to the musical entertainment of the festive season, or the programme which will be issued immediately. We have doubt however that the corps musical will embrace the best musical talent in the district, and that "the bill of fare" will be of the best and varied description including such a selection of instrumental and vocal pieces as will delight the accomplished ear and gratify the refined taste. Miss Staten's former concerts here are sufficient guarantees for what we may expect at the opening of 1895.

A meeting of ratepayers of School District No. 4, was held in school house on Saturday the 15th, to elect a school trustee to fill vacancy in board, when Mr. John McIntosh was unanimously elected to the office.

The Aberdeen Agricultural Society held its annual meeting in the Caledonian Hall on Saturday the 15th at 2 p.m., for election of office bearers for ensuing year, when O. G. Connolly was chosen president; John McIntosh, Vice Pres.; John Home, sec.; James Love, treas.; and Messrs. A. Pearson, G. B. Reid, W. Hemphill, F. Skinner, C. R. Thomas, A. McIntosh, Arch. Scott and H. Lamont, directors. Mr. J. Ronald was appointed auditor for ensuing year, accounts to be handed to him on or before the 20th Nov., 1895. Adjourned.

After adjournment a meeting of Directors was held, at which Mr. Home spoke at length on the cheese factory question. It was then resolved that in the event of Mr. McIntosh having a cheese factory in good running order by the 1st of June, the Society shall give him a bonus of $100 next fall.

One thing is certain, that if you want to clothe yourself in a good, warm and comfortable Fur Coat, Cape or Jacket, you should call on B. B. Manser.

Windsor Items.

Dec. 18th, 1894.

The weather has been very warm for this season of the year; the snow has all disappeared and it looks as if it would be hard for Santa Claus to get around this Christmas. The loss of the snow is a great disadvantage to farmers marketing their produce.

Farm produce is quite low this season. Hay is plentiful and cheap, oats are not much more than two-third crop but are cheap; butter pork and poultry are quite low; beef is a fair price and quite scarce, a great deal of beef has been driven into the lumber camps alive, and there slaughtered. They were driven into the woods in droves, sometimes 20 or 30 head in a drove.

There is a good deal of lumbering being done this winter on the Becaguimac, Nashwaak and Miramachi and a good many of our men and teams are employed in the operations. Some are expected home in a few days to spend Christmas. Mr. G. I. Faulkner is engaged in getting out lumber for two or three barns which he intends building next Summer (not for himself); he has contracted to build them for other people. Mr. O. J. Connolly is getting building material to build on his place at Hartland. Mr. O. talks of leaving Windsor in the near future and becoming a resident of the Shire Town of this Parish.

As you will not hear from us again until after Christmas, we will close this by wishing all our friends a Merry Christmas.

Boyer, William Brooks, Committee. The officers were installed by Major Hartley, P.M. After the installation, telling speeches were made by Revs. and Bros. D. Fiske, G. M. Young and others.

Tobique River Items.

Dec. 16, 1894.

Mr. David Jenkins has come home from Mr. George Everitt's camp on Two Brooks, for a day or two.

Mr. James Tapley came to Burnt Land Brook this week for a short stay. He had spent the time since haying in the vicinity of Woodstock.

There are six or seven inches of snow in the adjacent woods, which makes it very convenient for those engaged in the yarding of lumber.

Bart. Reed, son of Leonard Reed, of Black Rock, was attacked by a cold which has laid him up for the present. It is hoped that it may not prove serious.

Miss Katie Johnson, teacher at Dow Flat, who had been prostrated by a cold, has recovered, and will be around all right for the Christmas tree, at the end of the term.

We have had a thaw, a rain, a very slight snow and consequent ice going on the roads, with alternate opening and closing of the river. At present there is practically no going at all.

Mr. John O. Flanders, of Long Island, who had been disabled by the recoil of a skid, while sawing up birch logs for firewood, has so recovered as to be able to attend to out-door work. The blow which struck upon his jaw-bone was a severe one, rendering him insensible for a time.

An accident happened a week ago, at Lincoln Giberson's camp on Gulquac, by which Douglas Giberson, of Sisson Ridge, received a cut on the shin from a new axe. The incision was not large, though the bone was struck, but owing to subsequent discomfort and the risk of blood poisoning, the disabled man left the camp on a wagon driven by Enoch Johnston, staying at Johnston's hotel one night. He was conveyed to his home next day by Turney Johnston.

The Burnt Land Brook Sabbath School will have a Christmas tree on Christmas eve. Some very pleasing music for the occasion is being practised under the direction of Mrs. David Jenkins. As your correspondent expects to have closed his labors here before the tree shall yield its fruit, he expresses the hope that all concerned may be enabled to enjoy a reasonable share of the "peace and good-will" so freely promised, and the compliments of a season, which, whatever be the absurdities of its superstitions, yet affords, to those so disposed, a signal opportunity to advance the interests of our common humanity, by a due remembrance of its claims upon us all. Farewell. LAZARUS.

Ladies, do not forget to look at the Elegant Line of Fur Capes, Muffs, Jackets, etc., at B. B. Manser's.

Pembroke Items.

As your correspondent is absent from this village, and there seems to be no one to keep the public informed, in regard to local affairs, we thought a few lines just now would not come amiss.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. S. Hayden has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Thomas has returned from her visit to Jacksonville.

Mrs. S. H. Peters, of Houlton, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Rev. Mr. Swim is at present holding special services here. The meetings so far have been of a very interesting character, and grand results are hoped for.

We learn with regret that our popular teacher Miss Laura Parkes, is about to leave us.

We are pleased to notice that one of our young men who has been feeling down-hearted of late is beginning to "pick up" again; but "Josiah's loss is Joshua's gain."

In all probability the road between Pembroke and Grafton will be kept in good condition this winter.

"POLYANTHUS"

Upper Woodstock Items.

December 19, 1894.

The closing exercises of the schools seemed to be the centre of interest this week.—There was a better attendance than usual at Tuesday afternoon's examination, during which the children of both departments acquitted themselves so as to elicit very warm encomiums from the two trustees present and the others in attendance. After the interesting examination the ladies provided the company with a bountiful supply of coffee and cake—a treat that was heartily enjoyed, not only for its excellence but for the opportunity given to have a good social reunion. The repast was one of the happiest events of the kind ever held in Union Hall. In the evening there was a delightful concert given by the pupils under the direction of the teachers. The hall was completely filled, and the general verdict was that the entertainment was one of the best, of the many similar events the old hall has afforded the opportunity of giving. There were 24 pieces in the programme, the execution of which included the pupils from the very youngest to the most advanced. The drama, the Country Cousins, was most excellently delineated, winning unstinted applause from the interested auditors.

On Wednesday, just before the schools closed for the vacation, the teachers were made the recipients of tokens of their pupils' esteem. Mr. McLean was presented with a beautiful parlor chair and an elegant souvenir spoon. To Miss Good was given an expensive album, combining beauty and taste in its choice. Miss Muriel Jones made the presentation on the part of her classmates to Mr. McLean, and Miss Annie Foren to Miss Good on the part of hers. The affair had been so adroitly managed by the young people that the teachers were taken by surprise and were not prepared to give as suitable an acknowledgment as they could wish. Both teachers have terminated their engagements, and the concluding incidents were most convincing evidence of the cordial feelings existing between them and their pupils.

W. R. Wright has surpassed all his former efforts to provide for the Xmas trade. Besides a very choice selection of groceries, fruit and confectionery, he has a large stock of glassware, silverware, china, brass goods, toys, dolls, etc. An inspection of his goods is almost sure to induce the inspector to purchase, as the variety is large and prices very reasonable.

An unusual thing at Cleveland, Ohio, is the holding by the United States grand jury that Scriptural quotations may be libellous. H. A. Busby, of Meigs Harrison county, Ohio, was indicted for writing letters and postal cards to David Handley, of Cleveland. On the envelope of the letters were the quotations: "Owe no man anything," "Let us walk honestly" and "Many years thou shalt be troubled." He was indicted on four counts on the ground that the language used was libellous and calculated to injure the character of Mr. Handley.
