Tea Train Wrecked.

The following clipping from the Inland Sentinel, Kamloops, will be of interest to some of the readers of the SENTINEL as Arch. Davies was for some years an employee on the N. B. railway.

Last Saturday morning about six o'clock there occurred an accident near Spatsum on the C. P. R. that occasioned the wreck of five tea laden cars and also considerable damage to the track, &c. Conductor Morrow had charge of the train and Archie Davies was engineer. A flange on one of the wheels broke in some unaccountable manner and the car began to jump off and on to the track, additional breaks in the flange occurring as the train sped along. After some distance the train broke in two and the rear car of the forward end lost the hind trucks and was dragged nearly a mile along the track by the engine to keep the rear portion from catching up with and running into the forward portion. The front cars of the rear portion finally jumped the track and stopped and five of the cars were pretty badly wrecked, but the tea with which they were loaded was not damaged and was brought on the same evening. Road Master Munroe was quickly on the ground and the wreck was cleaned away in short order and the work of repairing commenced. The wrecked train was dragged nearly a mile by the plucky engineer whose nerve and skill thus prevented a much greater smash up and one that might have resulted in serious danger, if not loss of life, to the train crew who were in the caboose. Such actions border on the heroic, if not quite so, and we do not know but the action of a man done with coolness and decision is not greater heroism than if performed in the heat of battle when heroic actions are largely the result of frenzy superinduced by excessive excitement. So seldom is it that we see ordinary appreciation exhibited for the brave deeds done by the heroes of the railroad that the public simply expects these cool headed, greasy-habilitated fellows to do their duty and think little about it.

Town Council.

Nov. 25.—Special meeting of Council was held this evening, the only absentee being Coun. Vanwart. His Worship said meeting had been called to consider the propriety of closing work on the sewers for this season, and to hear the report of Street committee if they were ready with it.

Coun. Carr, chairman of the Street committee, reported verbally, that the surveyor had been unable to complete a survey of St. Gertrude street, owing to the work being prosecuted on the sewers. The committee asked further time.

Coun. Bailey—How much time do you want?

Coun. Jones—Until the street is levelled.

The committee was granted further time to report.

His Worship said there was a good deal of comment and criticism being made over the way in which the work on sewers was being done; thought those who criticized adversely had not looked into the matter as closely as they might. He agreed with those who thought it would be well to stop work on the sewers now and resume operations in the spring.

Coun. Bailey thought they had continued the work two or three weeks longer than they should. He had gone on a tour of inspection last week, and was satisfied the work was now being prosecuted at great disadvantage, in some places he found the men around a fire trying to keep warm. He had understood from the Superintendent that he was going to stop the work some time ago. The people over the bridge, and himself was one of them, were indignant; it appeared nothing could be done over there, but on this side they even built fires to keep the men warm. When he returned from his inspection he felt indignant at the way the people's money was being squandered.

Coun. Arnold had not been around much, but so far as he had, he saw no grounds for fault finding. There was not much difference in the amount of work done on either side of the Creek. Thought it better to close up the work now, after finishing what was partly done.

Coun. Jones was of the opinion it was time to shut down on the work. He had been around considerable, but failed to see any place where the money had been wasted.

His Worship thought Coun. Bailey was a little extravagant in his remarks. The fire referred to by him, was not for the purpose of warming the men, but for heating water to mix the cement. He thought a comparison would show the dollars spent on either side of the Creek about equal. When a full report was presented, he believed, it would be shown that thousands of dollars had been saved by having the work done under their own control and not by contract.

Coun. Carr was of the opinion that no more new work should be commenced.

Superintendent Munro being heard, said that when asked at first how long the work could be prosecuted this fall, he had replied 4 or 5 weeks; that time had been overrun by two weeks. He disclaimed any responsibility for the state the work is in now, for he had been afraid for the last two weeks that they would be caught and had frequently so informed the committee. He repudiated the statement that the people's money had been squandered. The work had been prosecuted with all the energy possible; as for himself, he had given it just as much attention and care as though the dollars and cents involved were to come out of his own pocket. With regard to the complaint that Wellington ward was not getting her share, he showed that there had been expended in Wellington ward $5,310, in Kings and Queens ward, $4,462. He thought the cost of the sewers would exceed Kinsey's estimate, but not nearly so much as the tender of Leblanc.

Coun. Bailey said that in his remarks he had no intention of blaming anyone in particular, but to censure the committee for having prosecuted the work two weeks longer than they ought to have done, and the Superintendent had fully corroborated his position.

On motion Carr and Smith, the sewer committee was instructed to bring the work to a close as soon as possible.

C. L. Tilley was appointed constable and member of the police.

The Fire committee was authorized to buy some dry hard wood.

Coun. Leighton reported that committee having the Glidden matter in charge would not be prepared to report till Monday evening. Time granted.

Coun. Carr said that as the people had voted the money to put in sewers, the Council should provide some means of making them a rebate.

Coun. Gallagher from Electric Light committee, read a report from electrician Brown, who said he found the lights in very bad condition; suggested that the lamps should be cleaned and adjusted; that the carbon rods be cleaned every day, and that one capable man should be retained to manage them.

After some discussion, on motion Jones, seconded Gallagher, the E. Light committee was authorized to have the lamps that require it repaired at once, at a cost of 75 cts. each. The Electric Light committee was also authorized to buy a bell to test the lamps. Adjourned till Monday night.

A Fearful Accident and Sudden Bereavement.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:

A very sad accident occurred in this part of the city, on the afternoon of Wednesday, Nov. 20th. Mr. Charles E. Broderick, in company with his brother Harry, was coming from the city on the steam cars, riding on the rear platform of the last car, when Charles leaned over the side of the platform, putting his head out to see if it had ceased raining. He was not aware, probably, how far he was leaning over; his head suddenly came in contact with a signal post, causing a complex fracture of the skull. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died in a few hours, never regaining consciousness.

It is impossible to express the sadness of his relatives and friends when the terrible event became known. Just four weeks previous to the evening on which the calamity took place, in the pretty home which they had furnished with their own means, and filled up with their own hands, Charles E. Broderick and Emma D. Chase, one of our most highly esteemed young ladies, were united in marriage. Especially strong and tender were the ties which bound Charlie to his own home, his parents, brothers and sisters. So strong was this attachment that while packing his trunk, just before the wedding day, he said it was one of the hardest things he ever did, and so dear was he to his own family that they felt they could hardly give him up to go out and form a home for himself. Only four short weeks in the new home, but in that time he was an affectionate, honored and, ever, idolized husband, and the home was to him an ideal one, just such an one as he had looked forward to with bright anticipations. He was a young man of great promise, upright, frank and noble in his bearing, with no stain upon his character. His young wife, his parents and brothers and sisters are almost heartbroken, the blow has fallen so heavily and so suddenly. The entire community mourns with them. Funeral services were held at his father's residence in Fanenil, the house being literally packed. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Hanaford, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. W. I. Haven of Brookline. A music quartette from Brookline rendered two beautiful selections. The floral offerings were very fine, and in profusion, comprising the following: Pillow, inscribed 'Husband'; pillow from his family, inscribed 'Our Boy'; an open Bible from the lodge of which Charlie was a member, bearing the inscription on one leaf Mizpah, N.E.O.P., and on the other Our Brother; anchor from the Blue Ribbon Band; large bouquet of cut flowers from King's Sons; pillow from M.H. Greenleaf employes, bearing the words At Rest; 26 white chrysanthemums from Hon. James Harvey; 26 white pinks from Alleston Epworth League, of which he was a member; wreath of white chrysanthemums from Brookline Epworth League; wreath of white roses and chrysanthemums from Johnston Brothers. Beside these there were 26 white roses from each of the following: Mr. Glynn and family, Miss Mitchell, Miss Aylesworth, Mr. and Mrs. Leeser, Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Sigal, Miss McManus, Mrs. H. Love, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Warren. Twenty six pinks and roses from the following: Friends at Waltham, W. P. Bigelow and employes, Mr. and Mrs. Estabrook, Miss Ramsdell, Miss Williams. Chrysanthemums from friends on Reedsdale St., Alleston,

Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the North wind's breath,
And stars to set; but all—
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, O Death.

Killed at Bristol.

A serious accident occurred at Bristol on Monday afternoon, by which William Mahaffy, a passenger on the Express train coming south, lost his life. As the train was crossing the upper Big Sokiktebawk bridge, Hewelett Smith, a passenger in the smoking car, saw a man fall from the car platform; he immediately gave the alarm, and Conductor Holt at once stopped the train and backed up to where the man had fallen. Mahaffy was found lying on the timbers of the bridge, about 14 feet from the end in an unconscious condition. He was brought down to the station, and afterwards removed to the residence of Mr. William McIntosh, where he died about three hours after the accident. On Tuesday afternoon, Coroner Nehemiah Tompkins held an inquest, the following jurymen being sworn:—W. A. Sherwood, foreman; Wallace Ball, D. E. Churchill, Andrew Carr, M. A. Tompkins. James Carr and Manzer Colwell.

The only witnesses examined were Conductor Holt, Brakeman Charles Taylor, Mrs. Mahaffy, wife of the deceased, and Dr. J. G. Atkinson, who attended him after the accident. From the evidence it appears that Mahaffy was standing on the platform between the first class car and the smoker, looking out, and that he leaned so far out that his head came in contact with the side of the bridge, causing him to fall. Serious wounds were found above the left eye, and also at the back of his head where he had struck in falling. Dr. Atkinson stated that death was caused by compression of the brain. Mrs. Mahaffy testified that her husband had been drinking some, and this, she considered, was the cause of him getting killed.

The jury after considering the evidence, brought in a verdict that the deceased, Wm. Mahaffy, came to death by falling from the train while in motion, and that no blame could be attached to the train officials.

Mahaffy was about 53 years old, and lived at Limestone, Maine, and was a blacksmith. He and his wife and child were going to Victoria Corner to visit his daughters, two of whom live there. After the inquest, Mr. Harvey Cook, his son-in-law, removed the remains to Victoria Corner, where the burial will take place.

The Irish Senator Coming.

Manager Graham of the local Opera House has secured the "Irish Senator," presented by the same company that played "Trilby" here last May, when they will appear here this Saturday night, Nov. 30. The St. John Gazette says: A large audience witnessed Mr. H. C. Gibson and his company in "The Irish Senator," at the Opera House last night. Supplementary to the piece "A Quiet Family" was played as a curtain raiser. The situations were very amusing, the dialogue good and the piece very successfully played.

"The Irish Senator" is comedy throughout and the title role, in Mr. Gibson's hands, was made the medium for continuous fun for the audience. At the opening of the second act, Miss Lorraine sang a very pretty and catchy solo. She received a merited encore and when the orchestra played the opening bars of "Ben Bolt," the applause was deafening, showing that she was well remembered as "Trilby." The members of the company were seen in good specialties. Don't miss seeing this funny comedy. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cts. Seats now on sale at Graham's grocery.

Kirmess.

Now don't say you haven't heard we are to have this "kurious" affair on Dec. 10th and 11th, at Graham's Opera House. It's the first time it has ever been presented in the Province. Rumor says, and she knows, an old gentleman from the country drove in thirty-nine miles the other day to find out what a Gypsy "Lusu" was, but we would not tell him, for it would break the spell you know, and that would never do. He said he thought it must be a novelty, and he and his wife and children would certainly occupy the front row of the Dress Circle in full dress, if the weather permitted. Houlton people, too, say they are coming over to see this "kwaint show," and merry will be the time. Theatre parties, oyster suppers, etc., etc. Hurrah for the Kirmess.

Successful School Examination.

Benton, Nov 22, 1895.

Mr. Henry Harvey Stuart, who has taught the advanced department of the school here since January last, held his semi annual public examination this afternoon. It was a success, if we may judge by the remarks of those present, and by all reports.

The pupils were examined in most of the branches taken up during the term. Recitations were given by them in prose of the pupils, one of whom recited an original poem written by the teacher. The scholars acquitted themselves in a manner that was highly creditable to their instructor. Among the visitors present were Messrs Geo. Murray and Wm Speer, trustees; Rev Mr Harrison, the resident Methodist minister; Mrs. W. H. Murchie and the primary teacher, Miss S. A. Hendry.

All the trustees were satisfied with the conduct and advancement of the school. Mr. Wm. Speer pronounced himself well pleased with the management of the department and the progress of the pupils. Rev. Mr. Harrison, who is unquestionably capable of judging the condition of a school, expressed himself as very well pleased with the exercises of the pupils, which, he said, reflected great credit on the teacher who had charge. He gave good advice to the children, and spoke words of encouragement and cheer.

Henderson—Buckley.

A very pleasant affair, and one giving general satisfaction to all parties interested, took place in the Baptist church at Union Corner, Richmond, on Wednesday evening, the 20th of November, when Mr. Alfred Henderson of Debec Junction, and Miss Jessie Buckley, youngest daughter of Thomas Buckley, Esq., of Hodgdon, Maine, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by pastor Currie in the presence of a well filled house. After the conclusion of the marriage service, between thirty and forty invited guests repaired to Mr. Buckley's beautiful residence to partake of a rich repast and spend the remainder of the evening. The bride received a large number of useful and costly presents, in addition to the usual good wishes and congratulations of her many friends.

The boys who participated in the charivari, a few nights ago, and caused destruction of property by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge, and subsequent burning of wreck the following evening, have not as yet made any endeavor to replace the building, although notified that steps would be taken against all concerned unless so replaced. We have no desire to say anything against the boys, on account of their thoughtlessness or the want of knowledge on their part as to the result of discharging dynamite cartridges in a public place. The result was disastrous, if unlooked for, and the boys have carried the joke or fun too far, and it is only fair to all concerned that reparation should be made and thus avoid any serious consequences that may arise should the case come before the authorities, as in all probability it will. However, we hope it will be settled satisfactorily to all parties concerned and peace once more reign over our little village.

A grand concert was given in Burtt's hall, last Wednesday evening, by Miss Gussie McCain of Florenceville, and Miss Frank Barnes of Coldstream. The programme consisted of readings and recitations, all from memory, by Miss McCain; Miss Barnes gave several organ solos which were well rendered. Owing to the inclemency of the evening, the audience was not as large as could be desired, still that did not deter the young ladies from doing their best, and those who were there fully appreciated the efforts put forth to make the concert a success.

BADLY BROKEN UP!

Is the man who buys inferior AXES or CHAINS to take to the Woods. You will surely come to grief if you buy a cheap showy axe instead of one of our Razor Edge.
A tired man is one who has to go continually to the Blacksmith to mend poor Cable Chains.
If you want an Axe that will stand the Hemlock, or Chain that will stand a team, you can get them at No. 9 Main street.
SKATES, all sizes, at Low Prices.
A new stock of Large Sizes KNITTING NEEDLES for Socks and Mitts; special order.

Sponge Crepon.
"A NEW WRINKLE."
What is Sponge Crepon?
This question has frequently been asked.
SPONGE CREPON is the Ideal Interlining, and is pronounced the BEST ARTICLE for the purpose that is manufactured, and no matter to what crushing it is subjected it shakes out it will at once regain its former shape. It keeps the puffed sleeves and flare skirts in shape and will be used altogether for an Interlining as long as fashion decrees the present sleeves and skirts.
☞ For sale by all the leading Dry Goods dealers throughout the Maritime Provinces.

It's Poor Economy

To hoard money when you can spend it to advantage and save money on articles which you must need anyhow.
You'll put off buying your Overcoat or Ulster until the severe cold weather, which is sure to come, is at your door; then it's hustle for either Doctor or the Coat. Why not buy now? No time in the year will assortment be so large, so varied. You'll pay no big prices here. We've marked our goods where very little profit remains for us. Gilt edge buying for cash and selling the same way is what does it.
ULSTERS—The Canadian "Frieze King," the King of all Ulsters, is wind and waterproof, made in the swell tailor fashion; All-Wool Linings, Raw Edges, neat, wide Lapels, and the price ought to be $15. We'll charge you only $11 for it.
The $9 kind is made almost similar, only a little bit lighter cloth; the $4, $5 and $7 kind have that make, that cloth that ranks them amongst higher priced goods.
BESIDES—
We've made the rule, we'll stick to it: if you buy anything, change your mind, want your money back, ask for it—it's yours.
