We see its benefits more clearly demonstrated by our co opera ive institutions of the present period, which have given agriculture a most successful impulse. The true result of its influence cannot be comprehended, as we are not in a posi-tion to estimate the outcome of the seed which has been sown, but taking as a criterion the history of other nations along this line, we are cannot help but feel the safest place is on a forced to accept the fact that co-operative ef. farm and a patron to a cooperative factory. fort has been the predominate lever of agri-cultural success. To establish this fact we

Now why AND LUNCHES was purchased from Denmark. Now why did she prefer Denmark butter? Because the dairy products of Denmark are manufacted by the co operative system which has won for them a reputation of superiority. Now sir, compare our area with that of Denmark; we find our province nearly twice as large Then look at our exports, twenty thousand J. J. GALLAGHER

Now let us look at cheese. England bought some twentyeven million dollars worth of cheese and she purchased from Canada 50 per cent. of that amount, because 99 per cent. of all the cheese Attorney-at-Law | manufactured in Canada to-day is by the cooperative system. And what about New Brunewick along this line? our export of cheese this year will amount to something like $20,000 where, two years ago, we had Dairying in the province of New Brunswick has been a source of industry or a number of years, but or account of its primitive facilities it was a very unprofitable and discouraging avocation; some sort of a in the spring necessitating a little extra as sistance at their caudal extremities to allow I had no more control of it than if the hand them to stand on their feet. The advent of co-operative dairying has made it a disgrace for the owners of a dairy cow to indulge in such an unbecoming pastime. This much can be said of co operative factories, they are real farmers organizations. They furnish the milk, they manage it and they receive all the profits of the concern; with them it is a pure-in business enterprise; they conduct it for the sole purpose of taking one product of the farm and delivering it in its manufactured for some other more sufferer, who may find as I orm as near to the consumer as possible, and without the assistance of the middle man, who never forgets to levy toll on all that he couches. Mr. James McLean, a resident of Lefroy, Simooe County, Ont., is known to every man, woman and child for miles around the viciniy of his home, and all know of the long years during which his condition has been that of a living death. Mr. McLean tells of his injury, his years of torture, and his sub sequent release from the agonies of locomotor ataxia, in the following vivid language.

'In the year 1880 I was thrown from a scaffold, falling on my back on a stone pile and I seemed to get somewhat better. But the apparent improvement was short lived.

My feet began to get unusually cold, and nothing that could be done would warm them The trouble then spread to my lege, and from the waist down I was attacked with shooting pains flying along the nerves in thousands, and causing the most terrible torture for days and nights at a time. I could get no relief save from the injections of morphine. Sx physicians treated me at different times, but appeared only to faintly understand my scruble, and could do nothing for my relief. Some of the doctors declared my trouble w.s rheumstiem, but two of them said it was a disease of the spinal cord, that the trouble would get worse and that sooner or later my arms would become affected. My stomach was next attacked with a burning, aching, nauseating pain, causing the most distressing vomiting and I often thought I would not see morning. I have vomited almost continually for thirty-eix hours, and nothing but morphine or chloroform could deaden the an guish I suffered. But worse trouble was in store for me. I loss control of my bowels and water, and my condition became most horrible, necessitating constantly the greatest care and watchfulness. I was now suffering from Courts, Victoria County.
