May 27th, '95.

The 'reaper whose name is death' has been busy up in this part of the county. Since last notes, Amy Berry, daughter of Isaac Berry, Long Island, has gone to that 'bourn from which no traveller returns.' She was 18 years of age, and has been ailing nearly 2 years. The interment took place in the Presbyterian churchyard at Three Brooks, on Friday, 24th inst.

Following close on the death of Miss Berry, the word comes of the death of a son of Mr H A Burt of Rowena. He was seized with cramps, and expired in two hours afterwards.

Still another: John M Wortman of Perth Centre, formerly of Arthurette, died on Saturday last.

Sunday, 26th inst, was a red letter day in Arthurette. Shortly after noon, teams began to arrive, and kept coming. What for? Why, the Foresters were going to parade for Divine Service, at 3 p m. At 10 minutes to three, the parade left Mr Tweeddale's (where the Court meets till the Hall is erected) for the church. Courts Arthurette, Andover and Perth Centre were well represented. The parade was marshalled by Bros J B Stevenson and J J Kupkie. The new sashes worn by members were much admired. The sermon was preached by Rev J R Hopkins, a member of this Court, from Ecclesiastes iv: 9-10: the hymns (from Hymns A & M) were Nos 380, 274 and 273. The Courts meet for the anniversary service on June 16th with Court Andover.

Some of the boys are considerably disappointed because the Engineers go into camp at Florenceville, instead of Sussex. No doubt, though, but the change will be for the good of the service. Nothing would be gained by taking the corps to Sussex, 240 miles of a train journey; and the greater part of the corps, as now constituted, consists of raw recruits, which can be better drilled by themselves, than in the bustle of a Brigade camp.

McNair's (corporation) first drive got out last week, and started back to bring the remainder of the lumber, McCallum's from Sisson Branch, and Baird's, and Beveridge's from Three Brooks, besides some left on the islands by the first drive.

The new 'Peddlers' act' has diminished the number of travelling vendors of Arabian, German or Jewish lineage. This restriction on trade will be of great benefit, whether the peddlers continue in the business or not. If they continue, they pay the license fee, and the municipality is the gainer; if they stop, people will not be wheedled out of their loose change by simply buying to get rid of their importunities.

The Rapids Mill is showing signs of life. Your correspondent heard sundry noises one day last week, an admixture of growl and shriek, and on looking towards the place whence the sounds came, saw a great volume of smoke, and thought that a volcano had arisen in the vicinity of Mr Torrance's house, but it was only the dust and din raised by James Flanders in getting the mill ready for work. It is said that Dr Wyman is the financial power behind the throne; whoever it may be, the people in this neighborhood are ready to bestow benisons on him.

Trout fishing has begun again; some nice strings have been taken lately. A few salmon have also been taken by the 'three-tailed leister.' It is said the wardens have gone on duty again, so illicit fishing will soon cease.

The 'exodus' of which we hear so much occasionally, took its victims from here this spring. Joseph Witherly and family went to Aroostook county, and Mr McInnes and family followed suit. It is on dit that Mr McInnes's family will soon return, in the belief now that 'there's a no place like home.'

Henry Lewis, of Birch Ridge, recently sold his farm to an Englishman, named Thomas, for $550. Mr Lewis moved into Arthurette.

Your correspondent had a conversation with Mr Baird, M P P, a short time ago, in the course of which Mr Baird gave it as his opinion that the superstructure of Red Rapids bridge will be rebuilt next winter.

It is rumored that Mr Baird is a candidate for one of the vacant places in the Senate. And if that portion of our legislative machinery is to be kept on, I suppose Mr Baird would adorn a seat thereon as well as any one. He has the main qualification, i. e. the $4,000, and has done yeoman's service for the government in this county, so he should, perhaps, be rewarded with a senatorship.

After service yesterday afternoon, the Foresters reformed ranks, and marched up to Mr Tweeddale's, where a good tea was ready for Foresters, their wives and sweethearts.

Among the visitors of yesterday, we noticed Sheriff and Mrs Tibbitts, H H Tibbitts and wife, W E Spike and wife, F P Tinker, Dr and Mrs Wiley and others from Andover; Messrs A W Turner, G Trafton and G Davidson from Perth Centre; Mr and Mrs Brymer, Mr and Mrs Donahy, Forest Glen.

Farmers are getting pretty well along with their seeding. "X."

The Reformed Baptist church of this place called Mr Samuel Greenlaw to ordination. A Council was summoned, consisting of four ordained ministers and two laymen, who after examination proceeded to ordain Mr Greenlaw. A very appropriate and forcible sermon was preached by Rev G W McDonald from 2nd Timothy, 4th chapter, 1st and 2nd verses.

Rev A H Trafton asked the questions required by the constitution; Rev B Colpitts offered prayer; Rev G W McDonald gave the right hand of fellowship; Rev A Kinney gave the charge to the candidate and Rev A H Trafton the charge to the church.

The benediction was pronounced and the meeting closed, all feeling that it had been a very solemn and pleasant gathering.

May 27, 1895.

The 18th and 19th of May having been set apart for holding a special season of prayer for the success of the Convention of the World's W C T U, the Benton society held a public prayer meeting in the Baptist church, Saturday afternoon. It was well attended, and about all present took part. Mrs C A Lewin read an interesting paper on the object of the meeting.

Monday evening, May 20, the W C T U regular meeting was held with Mrs A F Brittany, and the attendance was larger than for some time before. The society will soon hold another silver medal contest in the Hall.

Last Sunday morning, the Orangemen marched in a body to the Episcopal church, where they listened to an interesting address by Rev Mr Warneford.

At the annual meeting of the Epworth League, May 14th, the following officers were elected:—President, Mrs. Wm. Speer; Vice-presidents, Adam Kelly, Annie Murchland, Emma Speer, (Speer'sville) and Angus MacInnes; Secretary, John Speer; Treasurer, Wm Speer; Organist, Julia Howie.

On the 12th inst, a daughter was born to Mr and Mrs Geo Teed.

On the 17th, a male heir was presented to Mr John Mowbray of Benton Ridge.

Mrs Thomas Winchester, of Benton Ridge, gave birth to a daughter on the 29th of April. Mrs Winchester has been dangerously ill for some weeks, but is now rapidly recovering.

Mrs J Walter Doucett and Miss Etta W Hobbs, of Knowlesville, spent Sunday here, the guests of Mr and Mrs Lewin. They were just returning from New England, having spent the winter in West Upton, Mass.

Last Sunday a baptismal service was held here by Rev Mr Todd. Mrs Scott Campbell was baptized and admitted to membership in the Baptist church.

In the evening of May 26th, the second of the series of gospel temperance meetings was held in the Methodist church. The audience was of a respectable size and the choir, numbering thirteen, performed their part well. Benton has no lack of musical talent. The chairman of the meeting was Charles A Lewin. Louis E Young of Woodstock, Carleton's prohibition standard bearer, addressed the meeting for over half an hour, and advanced ideas worthy of the deepest consideration. He urged temperance people to organize for united action, not to depend upon talk alone. Liquor dealers were strongly organized and looked after their interests sharply in parliament and everywhere else. Why could not prohibitionists do the same? He pointed out that large employers of labor are giving the preference to total abstainers, and advised young men for their own worldly interests to leave liquor alone, and cultivate a good moral character. He spoke strongly of the great amount of money wasted each year in Canada that might be put to so many better purposes. Whenever Mr Young returns to Benton, he will be heartily welcomed.

The next temperance meeting will be held on the evening of June 9th. Rev Mr Corbett of Oak Mountain, and Mayor Saunders of Woodstock, are expected to be the speakers.

Mr Joseph Dougherty, one of the oldest residents of Oak Mountain, is very ill.

Farming is being pushed rapidly forward; in a few days nearly all of the farmers will have completed the spring's seeding.

The weather has been remarkably cold during the last week; grave fears are entertained as to the effect the cold wave may produce in the apple crop by injuring the blossoms.

Our Sabbath School, reorganized this spring with Mr Leonard Doucett Supt., is well attended.

The Lodge of I O G T is trying to lift its unassuming voice against that curse which "exalts the beast and sinks the man." Under the auspices of this lodge, recently, a very successful concert was given in the school house, consisting of recitations, dialogues, readings, music, etc., the rendering of each and every part was par excellent. But among the many humorous readings and dialogues, special mention may be made of the "The Jury Trial Dialogue." It presented a rare scene to the imagination, neither military or civil pomp was wanting. Judge Gayton, in his vestments of state, attended to give advice on points of law. The attorneys, James Hobbs and Wilmot Ricker, were marshalled by his side to prosecute and defend the case respectively. The concert programme was interspersed with music by choir, Mrs James Simms presiding at the organ. At the close of the concert, Mr Wilmot, robed in his bar uniform and a complexion of delicate hue, began to auction off the well filled and tastefully decorated baskets, the sale of which, together with the concert fee, realized the sum of $19.00 for the benefit of the Lodge.

Mrs Walter Doucett and her niece, Miss Etta Hobbs, arrived home last week from West Upton, Mass., where they have been spending the winter.

No further clue to the parties who burglarized D R Bedell's store has, at this writing, been obtained. It is thought that the canoe, in which they carried off their booty, swamped and that they narrowly escaped drowning if one of them was not actually drowned.

Body of late James Cannon has not yet been recovered.

May 24th passed off here in a lively manner; a shower of rain fell in the morning about 7 o'clock, with a little hail and snow sprinkled in for variety. Fore part of day very cold.

The annual base ball match was played here between Fort Fairfield and our team and this year the former were the victors. In the evening there was Ever Song in Trinity church; Young People's Union in Baptist church; and annual meeting of British and Foreign Bible Society in Methodist church, Rev William R Pepper presided and Revds Henderson and R D Archibald gave short addresses. A branch society was then organized with officers as follows:—Neil McQuarrie, Esq, president; E I R Howard, Esq, vice president; Miss Emack, treasurer; Mrs Benj Beveridge, secretary.

We have had our full share of the changeable weather. People here were caught napping for once. Stoves moved out had to be brought in again, thick clothing thrown off had to be put on, and we saw two or three come to town with their fur coats on again.

The wife of Rev W R Pepper, who has been confined to her room for some time past, is able to get around again and hopes to be out soon.

The rivers here are all alive with raftsmen and river drivers and an immense quantity of lumber is coming down.

Five Rooms to Let on Connell Street. Four dollars per month. Water included. Enquire of B. B. Mazer.

East Florenceville Items.

May 24, 1895.

Sunday, May 5th, was a day long to be remembered by the East Florenceville Baptist S School, it being their 12th anniversary. This school was organized May 5th, 1883, and for the twelve years it has only missed two Sundays not having school. The same superintendent has filled the office during its existence, and was unanimously re-elected for another year. A remarkable feature, and for which the school has cause to be grateful to God, is the fact that only two deaths have occurred among its members during all that time. At the close of the school on May 5th, the teacher of the young women's class, on behalf of the school, presented the superintendent, Major A D Hartley, with a handsome Teacher's Bible and the subjoined address. The superintendent was so taken by surprise that it completely overcame him and his reply was brief, but to the point.

This school is doing good work and its members are increasing. A cordial invitation is extended to sister schools to meet with them whenever convenient, and strangers are always welcome.

ADDRESS.

It affords us great pleasure on this our 12th anniversary to present to you this Bible and address, conveying to you in a small degree our grateful thanks for your faithfulness in superintending our school during the past twelve years. Your punctuality in attendance has not only been watched by the dear Master, who we feel sure will in his own good time reward you richly, but we, as a school, have looked upon it and cannot with mere pen and paper express our feelings to you on this occasion. Your kindness to us as teachers and scholars cannot be overlooked, and your cordiality to strangers has also been noticed and very much appreciated—in fact, we admire the way you have filled the position and we trust your life may long be spared to us to work in this our noble cause. We do hope that, from this book of books, your mind may be stored with the richest of the garner and as you read its many precious promises you will remember us as a school and pray for us. We do sincerely pray that the blessed Lord of heaven will abundantly bless you and your beloved partner. In conclusion we say to you and dear Mrs Hartley go on with your labors while God lends you health and strength. Not only do we as older scholars look up to you, but the dear little ones watch and wait for your smiling faces, remembering that—
"Bye and bye the harvest and the time of reaping—
You shall come rejoicing bringing in the sheaves"

What has happened our correspondent? he seems to be neglecting his duty of late. Perhaps he is too busy farming to notice what is going on; if so it is time some one else was taking his place.

The weather for the past few weeks has been quite favorable for farming, and most of our farmers have their crops nearly in.

We regret our school teacher has been compelled from sickness to resign her position and return home, we hope soon to hear of her recovery.

We are sorry to report Mrs Lotrop Sewell seriously ill.

Mrs Wm Currie, Brookside, has been visiting her friends in Wakefield.

The F O B Church have added to their premises a fine shed which will accommodate several teams.

Miss Alma Brownlow has gone to Lowell.

The little bay mare and new waggon attract a good deal of attention here just now.

Wm Lowell, Houlton, has been visiting his friends here. BERTRUM.
