Our Agricultural Interests.

To the Editors of the Carleton Sentinel:
As a member of the Executive, and one deeply interested in the work of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association of Carleton County, I would ask space to offer a few thoughts in reference to the approaching meeting to be held at Florenceville on Thursday, the 19th inst.

It is not to be supposed that all of the 1,000 or more people who met together last June, on the spacious grounds of Mr. W. W. Boyer at East Florenceville, will be able to attend the present session, but we may not reasonably expect that a large number of them and many others will avail themselves of the present opportunity for a day's enjoyment, and to aid in the general diffusion of agricultural knowledge, which is most effectively promoted by the discussion among practical men of those questions which most concern the farmers of the present day.

The subject chosen—How best to get satisfactory returns for our labor on the farm, without impoverishing the land—is a very good one indeed, and will doubtless be treated from various standpoints. Those who claim that increased attention to dairying is one great means to the desired end, will doubtless be prepared to give much information as to the various methods—both ancient and modern—employed in conducting the dairy. Let us not be afraid of discussing the minutiae of our business, as there is here the secret of failure or success is to be found.

One of the strong points of the Richmond factory agreed some months ago that he would not so carefully the results of feeding various feeding crops to his dairy cows, and would be prepared to furnish a detailed statement of the same. Others will probably give their experience in winter feeding and in the production of milk, and it is particularly desirable that all farmers who have tried the silo should be present on Thursday next.

Before closing my remarks I would respectfully suggest to the officers and members of the Association in the various parishes, that a united effort be made that the Florenceville meeting of September, 1895, may be long remembered and looked back upon as one of the most useful and pleasant in the annals of the F. & D. Association of Carleton County. It is suggested that those who drive from a distance, and especially all members of the Executive, should try to reach their destination about noon in time for a picnic dinner (don't forget the baskets, ladies and gentlemen), etc., so that when the hour for the afternoon session arrives, a prompt response may be made to the call of our worthy president, J. B. Bland, Esq.

The Executive Committee's report upon constitution and by laws will doubtless be submitted and if it should be thought necessary in order that the yearly returns be forwarded to the Department in due time. It is wished to make this, the annual meeting, the accounts of the Association will of course be submitted and the business of the past year wound up so far as may be before electing a new Executive.

One of the members of the Executive, to the members of the agricultural societies of this county, and the St. John Exhibition, and I have done. Let us see to it that at least a fair representation of our best, whether of field produce, stock, manufactures or Art work, be sent forward.

The Woodstock Society has appointed one of its members, Mr. C. F. Bardsley, to take charge of exhibits sent by members, who are strongly advised to make their entries through the secretary of that society, C. R. Carman, Esq. A good opportunity for this will be the time of the Farmers' meeting to be held at the Board of Agriculture, on Sunday, 14th inst.

BENTON ITEMS.
Sept. 10th, 1895.

Thursday evening, Aug. 29, Rev. Mr. Harrison preached in the church on Benton Ridge. The pastor's able address was listened to by a fair sized audience. The reverend returned again on Sunday, making a friendly call upon his constituents.

On Tuesday, the 3rd Sept., one of Benton's most popular young ladies, Miss Hilda Boyle, was united in marriage to Mr. Parker Boyd of Richmond. The ceremony was performed at Richmond, where the young couple will reside. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents.

On the 10th, the Episcopalians held a picnic in the field belonging to Mr. Appleby. The people undertook to make the picnic a success, and they did so. A large number of persons were present and the supper table was well patronized. The evening was spent in dancing and singing. The prize for the prettiest baby was awarded to the little daughter of Frank Mills. The annual dance was held on Sunday, the money taken in during the day was about $132.00, of which the expenses must be taken.

The base ball game, Saturday, between a team of Julie Woodstock and a young Benton team, resulted in a sweeping victory for the Benton boys—the score being 24 to 10.

Mr. Stuart spent last Monday (Labor day) with Rev. Mr. Todd, in Woodstock.

Last Saturday, some person or persons unknown, entered the school house. Monday morning, a valuable infant belonging to Miss Hattie Mills was found broken, and several of the pupils complained that their books and pencils were missing. The school house is ransacked nearly every Saturday, and it is not safe to leave anything of value in it from Friday to Monday. If the windows are fastened, the panes are broken out so that an entrance can be effected. Not long ago, two or three boys smashed the windows in Mr. Harris's blacksmith shop.

The military shop here, kept by Mrs. Wm. J. Sharpe, assisted by her daughter, Miss Annie, is well patronized by the public. Her stock of fall goods is worthy of careful examination.

The new military store, of Mrs. Speer, is also liberally patronized. Last March her orders came in so fast that her daughter, Miss Emma, had to leave school to take part in her mother's business.

On the 27th August, the following address was presented Miss Janet Murray, by the choir of the Methodist church:—
