George and Clara were having a tete-a-tete in the parlor of Clara's home. In the next room were Clara's father and mother. Her father was a gruff, rough-talking man.

Clara—Doesn't love me, George?

George—Es, pet, with all my heart and soul.

"Better'n anyone else?"

"Yes, dear."

"Then kiss me."

The father in the next room overheard his daughter's request. He shouted, in his stern, careless way: "Clara, shut your mouth in there."

From the next room came the words, in a chuckle, "I did, papa."

Mr. Dumbleton, who is too economical to keep any extra collar buttons on hand, and who devotes a good share of his matin moments to hunting for these wayward essentials of male attire, started his wife the other morning by a more than usual overflow of emphatic language.

"What's the matter, now?" she exclaimed.

"Matter enough!" he returned, with a series of paralytic gasps: "I've swallowed my collar button!"

"Thank goodness!" snapped out Mrs. D., "for once in your life you know where it is!"

WELL SATISFIED.

Folks Living under the Shadow of the Mountain are Pleased

HARTLAND, Sept. 9.—A very large increase has lately taken place in the sale of the specific remedy for complaints of the liver, and Dodd's Kidney Pills are in great demand. There are no complaints either from druggists or the general public being so near Toronto, the headquarters for distributing, are never in any danger of running out of the medicine for long, so matter how large the demand may be, and the public has long been thoroughly satisfied as to the valuable qualities of the pills, and the manner in which they invariably effect a cure.

Violet—I've just had a letter from George, and he says he's going to be married.

Vivienne—Going to be married! Why, I thought—Well, you seem very cool about it. Who's he going to marry?

Violet—Me.

Don't let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a little thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead.

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be effectively and entirely cured by the use of Boesche's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and "know how it is themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

A long time ago a celebrated preacher delivered a discourse on the text—"He giveth His beloved sleep." Observing that a large number of his hearers were nodding their heads, he suddenly stopped and said: "Brethren, it is hard to realize the unbounded love which the Lord appears to have for a large portion of this congregation."
