Miscellaneous.

The political reporter was making a trip through New Jersey, some time before the election and was talking to the people. One day he met an old farmer riding along the road in a wagon reading a newspaper, and he tackled him for a little.

"By the way," he said, after awhile, having the newspaper in his hand; "what is the spirit of the press around here?"

"Well," replied the farmer, with due thought of the importance of the question, "some of it is sicker, but it's mostly apple-jack."

His Wife—George, you are becoming a confirmed drunkard.

Suburbanite—My dear, I am compelled to ride in a smoking car so much that I often have to light a cigar in self defence.

Same Suburbanite (a few hours later) Amanda you smell triflingly of raw onions.

His Wife—My dear, Bridget eats raw onions, and I've been eating one in self defence.

What Am I to Do?
The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappy to two well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, although, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhoea or Constipation may be a symptom of the two may alternate. There are often Hemor-roids or even loss of blood, and there may be the disease and often headache and acidity or flatu-lence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach.
To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

"We had better watch the bookkeeper a little," said the senior partner. "He has been buying a bicycle."

"But you can hardly call that an extravagance," said the junior partner.

"No; but it is likely to make him crooked."

And the junior partner, who had entered the firm by the son-in-law route, dutifully laughed.

"We always fry ours in Cottoleene."

Our Meat, Fish, Oysters, Saratoga Chips, Eggs, Doughnuts, Vegetables, etc.

Like most other people, our folks formerly used lard for all such purposes. When it disagreed with any of the family (which it often did) we said it was "too rich." We finally tried

Cottoleene
and not one of us has had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottoleene had no unpleasant odor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. So that's why we always fry ours in Cottoleene.
