DIRECT IMPORTERS.

A BARGAIN

Consists not so much in what you pay for an article as in what you get for your money.

We have never before shown such BARGAINS in

MEN'S & BOYS' ULSTERS

As we have just opened.

We have been offered ULSTERS that we could have sold for less money, but upon careful examination we were convinced that our customers would not get satisfaction out of them, consequently we selected BETTER GOODS, and Goods as we can confidently recommend.

All we ask is—To See Our Goods before purchasing. Learn Prices and Examine Qualities. If you do this we do not fear the result.

JOHN McLAUCHLAN.

THE BLAIR GOVERNMENT

Has been sustained by a handsome majority. Mr. Blair went to the country at an opportune time, and the verdict of the people has been rendered in his favor. We are continually surprised the people by springing "Bargains" on them, and their verdict is invariably rendered in our favor. We keep just the Goods they want, and mark them at prices that it is utterly impossible for our opponents to beat. Our stock of WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELLERY, SILVERWARE and DIAMONDS is unequalled in the town. We have an excellent assortment of Engagement and Wedding Rings; we can also supply you with a Marriage License.

BAILEY BROS.

St. John Correspondence.

A field for the novelist—A great river recently discovered—The Chatham fire—The Rural Cemetery and Public Garden—Business notes, etc.

Hall Chalmers, the celebrated English novelist, is in Ottawa, interviewing the government on the copyright question in behalf of Foreign writers. If he would forget for a time the business in hand and his beloved tale of Man, he might find about Quebec, in Carleton or Victoria county, on the North Shore or the mouth of the St. John, material for a story which should rival in power and interest, his famous novels, "The Deemster and The Man-Meat."

The discovery by Dr. Hall of a river, the fifth or sixth largest in America, emptying into James Bay, presumably from the direction of Labrador, suggests vast unknown possibilities which Canada may possess in the way of fish, timber, mineral deposits and agricultural territory. We have millions of square miles of land which we know little more than we do of the interior of Africa or Greenland.

The meeting held in the Mayor's office yesterday, in behalf of the fire sufferers of Chatham, was largely attended and the contributions received, headed by James Ready with $100, amounted to about $300. St. John knows from experience a good deal of the suffering entailed by similar catastrophes, and its sympathy with Chatham will be manifested in liberal contributions. It is hoped the contributors will insist that the sufferers themselves shall be the parties benefited by their generosity.

Much has been done to beautify the Rural Cemetery here during the past year. A considerable area has been laid out in which the lots will receive perpetual care; a fountain has been erected through the generosity of Collector Russell, which cost over a thousand dollars, and many other improvements have been made. Another season it is contemplated to build a chapel and shelter house, an artificial lake and open a public garden. Under the superintendence of Mr. Clayton, it promises to become one of the most beautiful cities of the dead in Canada. The Public Park, of which Joseph Allison, of the firm of Manchester, Robertson & Allison is one of the principal promoters and patrons, is growing to be a thing of beauty, and another season will be the frequent resort of thousands of our people and their visitors.

Business at St. John was never better at this season than at present. About thirty coasters and river boats are arriving daily, loaded with country produce, and sailing away loaded with merchants' and lumbermen's supplies, while the steamers and rail ways have all the traffic they can conveniently handle. Most of our factories are running extra time to meet a pressure of orders. Many new buildings, both in the city and its suburbs, are in progress, and all the hotels, including the Aberdeen and the Dufferin, during the summer have over-run with guests. It is believed that the attractions of this province are better appreciated by tourists than heretofore, and that in the future the upper and lower St. John, the Bellisle and the Kennebec will be among their favorite resorts, if accommodations are provided for them.

The city newspapers have been much excited over the provincial election for several weeks; now that it is over, it is hoped they will settle down to something of general interest to their readers. Practical politics—the exercise of the franchise—is the duty of every freeman, but politics which consists of nothing but crimonations and recriminations, is neither instructive nor entertaining.

After much delay the adoption of standard time here is soon to become general. It is now the only time recognized by the railways and steamers, and several of the hotels and business houses.

Canadian coarse wools are in strong demand in the United States, and prices are likely to continue high. The soil and climate of New Brunswick are extremely well adapted to the raising of sheep, and our farmers cannot do better than give more attention to that industry.

Edward Edwards, St. John, Oct. 16, 1895.

Slowly, yet very perceptibly, is the winter drawing nearer. Even as I write I can see men passing my window with fur caps upon their heads. Snow fell here a few days ago, and the weather is very cold. But we, in the city by the sea, have had the privilege of enjoying a very fine fall. Summer passed into autumn as gently as a child might pass into a deep sleep clasped by the arms of a loving mother, gently, silently. Wiggins storm did not pass out, as the sailors say, and while we are deeply grateful to the elements for the weather for his kindness we cannot help expressing our sympathy with the professor. The poor fellow will never make his mark in this world unless he can knock down his modesty. He is no doubt one of those fortunate individuals born to achieve greatness in the simplest of things. He is a man of the people. He should come out every six months or so and prophesy a storm for a certain date, scare people half to death, induce all the shipping to remain in port, advise people to burrow into the earth like squirrels till the storm passes. If the storm does not show up why all right, no one with any degree of sense will think any less of the professor, not even for a moment. We trust he will be able to overcome this modesty, which is certainly preventing him from becoming great. But if the natural elements have remained undisturbed there has been a stir in the minds of the people of this city. In the first place St. John held an exhibition since its last year, and it was attended by over 65,000 persons. But this is a fact that I do not think has been made public, viz., it had not been for the country people, the members of the exhibition association would have been well nigh bankrupt now. The city people did not turn out. It was our country cousins who made the fair a success and who made it possible for the association to hold a show next year.

Then we have heard some talk of an election. We didn't have one here, but I understand there was one in there, and the other counties, and the city people watched with a great deal of curiosity and may I say, with a good deal of anxiety also, the campaign. We watched the movements of the two generals and their lieutenants before the battle; we saw them hurrying from one regiment to another, cheering the men, cheering them, encouraging them; we watched the sharpshooters posted on the outskirts of the battle ready to reconnoiter, sending sharp deadly messages to the enemy, cheering them, encouraging them; we saw and noted every movement. Then, as the clouds cleared away on the 10th, we heard the words "the battle is over" and we heard the tramp, tramp of the men advancing to the polls. All day long from 10 o'clock until four, did we in the city hear the sounds of the battle. Blair has carried every county but York, and these persons heard something drop. Her Messrs Grosvenor and Hunter, who had six weeks' revival service in Centenary last spring, occupied the same pulpit on Friday last, preaching to 2,000 persons; they opened a fall campaign in Fredericton on Sunday and, according to reports received from there to Charlottetown, P.E.I., then to Halifax, and then south for two months. One day last week I called on a friend of mine, Mr. Currie, proprietor of Currie's Business College. Of course he was anxious to show me what he was doing and I came to the conclusion that he was doing very well before I left, but, of course, I did not tell him as much. His business for September was double that of last September and his work for the first ten days of this month was equal to that of last October. He makes everything practical, Currie does. His college is as much like a large business house as it is possible to have it, for Currie has been fortunate in securing the services of a first-class shorthand man, one who not only understands theory but who has had a great deal of experience in practical work and who can take 200 words per minute without any difficulty. He was employed on the Royal Labor Commission, in which evidence was taken before a judge and twelve commissioners in many parts of the province. Also on the Union Commission, which was appointed to draft a scheme of amalgamation of the city of St. John and Portland. So, it is the system used. This system has, as nearly every body knows, much that is considered superior to all other systems and written by every practical shorthand writer in the province who learned the business in this country. No other system has ever produced a practical expert in this province.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 15 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

Asthma and Bronchitis Cured.

C. E. PUTTNER, Esq., PH. M.

Sir,—I consider if my life, not only to myself, but to my fellow creatures who are suffering from Asthma and Bronchitis, as I have for some time previous to writing your "Exhaustion or Cough Cure" with Erythrophagein, to give my testimony to the most wonderful good effect it had. Having suffered for some time with Asthma and Bronchitis, accompanied with great nervous exhaustion, and having carefully read your Essay on the combination and use of Erythrophagein, I was persuaded to give it a trial, and on using two bottles I began to receive great benefit and relief, and after using three bottles I was completely cured and am to-day perfectly free from either Asthma or Bronchitis, and my nervous system much invigorated and built up. I have found it very pleasant and palatable, and with no taste whatever, and can with great confidence recommend it to those suffering as I did previous to taking your compound. I am, yours, &c.,

Poor Hans Hansen was hanged in California on Friday last and everybody in this city was sorry to hear of it. Hans was mixed up in a murder committed on board ship in '92. Previous to that he was in St. John in Miss Hutchinson's saloon home. When this lady heard of the trouble Hans had got into she interested the late Governor Boyd in him and he tried to secure the poor fellow's release because it was shown that he was not to blame, but the late Governor was not able to do anything and his case has been in the court ever since.

The St. John people are giving liberally to the Chatham sufferers, not forgetting what the people of that unfortunate town did for this city in 1887.

The water in the St. John river has not been so low for 10 years. 25,000,000 feet of lumber is hung up with very little prospect of getting it down.

The Nickerson company open a two weeks engagement here to-night in the Opera House. It is said to be a very good company.

This city is going to adopt standard time. It has been a long time coming.

Variable Autumn Weather often Seals the Fate of Rheumatic Sufferers.

NO TIME TO LOSE.

Victims of Rheumatism find a cure in Paine's Celery Compound.

Nothing Like it for Banishing the Awful Disease.

Old and Chronic Sufferers are Made Hale and Strong.

Mr. William McWilliams, of Bradford, Ont., writes as follows about his case:—"Unquestioned, I forward this testimonial as to the value of Paine's Celery Compound. I am well up in years and was sorely afflicted with rheumatism. I purchased and used six bottles of your medicine, and am now perfectly well. I have no rheumatism left. The above is just an ordinary sample of the proof that cured people furnish every week."

Let us utter a few words of warning to all who feel the pang of a disease that makes life a misery and burden.

The most dangerous season of the year is now with us; there is no necessity to enlarge upon this fact. Chilling winds, damp weather and heavy impure atmosphere, aggravate every condition of rheumatism, and bring many a sufferer to the grave.

Take courage all victims of rheumatism. If you have failed with doctors and the ordinary medicines of the day, remember, you have not yet given Paine's Celery Compound a trial. This marvelous medicine has made new men and women of thousands who were pronounced incurable by physicians. It cures, it will, do the same good work for you, if you fairly and honestly use it for a time. Mr. McWilliams' case was one that baffled all other medicines but Paine's Celery Compound, which proved victorious at every point, giving him a new and better life. Go thou and follow his example.

Literary Notices.

Outing for October is a readable and finely illustrated number. The contents are as follows:—"A Bit of Blue Ribbon," by Sara Beaumont Kennedy; "Haggard Labrador," by R. G. Tabor; "The Herring," by G. M. Dillard; "Banana Land Aweel," by E. M. Aaron; "Hero," by Thomas G. Randall; "North Cloudless Skies," by Fred. C. Green; "A Sporting Vacation in Montana," by G. M. Dillard; "Moose Hunting in New Brunswick," by the late E. P. Rogers; "Lana's World Tour Aweel," by Francis Park and Hubert; "The White Horse," by G. M. Dillard; "The Great Dismal Swamp," by Alex. Hunter; "The New Hampshire National Guard," by Geo. H. Mearns; "Football," by Walter Camp; and the usual editorial, poems, records, etc.

Much of Robert Louis Stevenson's best work appeared for the first time in Scribner's Magazine, the only periodical to which he was an habitual contributor during the last ten years; and it is therefore peculiarly appropriate that the first account of his home-life at Vallonia, written by a member of his household—his stepson and co-worker, Lloyd Osbourne—should appear in Scribner's pages. This issue also contains the first adequate account that has been published of the University of Chicago. Its author, Robert Herrick, is one of the Faculty. Having been at Harvard when he is able to contrast the oldest and the youngest University. This article is not the usual description of big buildings and equipment, but it is a most effective account of the actual university life that has been created out of nothing in three short years.

Another paper of unusual personal interest is George W. Smalley's estimate of Mr. Henry Ford, many of which were written in London, and Mr. Smalley was a participant in the social life of the Hurley household that brought together many of the most important men in England. Robert Herrick's paper in this number is a sensible and unseasonal description of "The Case of Woman." With his keen discernment and facility in social analysis Mr. Herrick shows us not only how much is real and how much imaginary in all the talk about the "new woman." The papers that Scribner's has been publishing on the people are everywhere in this month, by H. O. Sumner's account of "American Posters, Past and Present." The fiction of the number includes a short story by Edith Wharton in which she shows us an unusual motive—woman's attitude toward her husband who had failed while a young man to become a soldier in the Civil War.

No Home Without It.

Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil should be embraced in letters of gold upon the altar of every household. It saves life when every other means for the cure of consumption or lung troubles fail. For many years Cod Liver Oil was held in disfavor on account of its unpleasant taste, and the inferior quality of the preparations. Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil revived its use because it is pleasant to take and gives immediate results in creating new blood, and thus giving sufferers the strength to overcome the dire enemy. It is the great life-saver of the age. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c and $1, at all Drug Stores.
